I.—PUNJAB PROPER.

THE Sikh sect traces its origin to the preaching of Nanak, a Hindu of the Kshatriya caste, born in 1469 at Talwandi, near Lahore. The new creed spread rapidly, but soon provoked the persecution of the Moghul Emperors. The cruelty with which the Sikhs were treated turned them under Govind Singh, their tenth and last Guru or teacher, from a band of religious devotees into a religious and military commonwealth or "Khalsa" animated by undying hatred of the Muhammadans.

Guru Govind Singh waged an unequal war with the Emperors of Delhi. Openly to profess the Sikh religion became a capital crime, and the sect would soon have been exterminated had not the distractions of the empire, which followed the death of Aurangzeb, given them a breathing time from persecution. The Sikhs then gradually gathered in small parties and established themselves in isolated forts. From these they scoured the country, burning and plundering, and giving infinite annoyance to the weak Muhammadan Governors of Lahore and Sirhind. After the return of Ahmad Shah Abdali to Kabul from his fifth invasion of India, in which he had broken the Mahratta power at Panipat, the Sikhs found themselves strong enough to occupy the country round Lahore. But when Ahmad Shah returned to India in 1762, he disastrously defeated them at Barnala near Ludhiana, and destroyed and polluted their sacred temple at Amritsar.

From this defeat the Sikhs soon recovered. In 1763 they defeated the Afghan Governor of Sirhind, and spread themselves over the plains south and east of the Sutlej, as far as the Jumna. The eighth invasion of Ahmad Shah, which took place in 1767, left the Sikhs masters of the country between the Jumna and Rawalpindi. Within three years their authority was extended over Jammu and the Rajputs of the lower hills.

The spread of the dominion of the Sikhs south of the Sutlej received a severe check from the Mahrattas, who, recovering from their disastrous overthrow at Panipat, again overran northern India. In 1788 Scindia was in possession of Delhi, and by 1802 the Mahrattas had established their supremacy as far as the Sutlej, and exacted from the Sikh States to the south of the river a tribute of three lakhs of rupees. The Mahratta power in the north was broken by Lord Lake in 1803. The Chiefs of Kaithal and Jind tendered their allegiance to Lord Lake, and all the Chiefs of Sirhind virtually became dependents of the British Government. It was the policy of the day, however, to maintain a strict neutrality in regard to the affairs of the Chiefs north of the Jumna: and, beyond establishing the Sikh Chiefs in the territories which they then held and rewarding those who had done good service, the British Government did not interfere in their affairs till 1809, when the Sikh Chiefs claimed their protection against the encroachments of Ranjit Singh.

The constitution of the Sikh Khalsa contained within itself elements of weakness and discord. The Sardars or Chiefs owned no subjection to each other. They were followed into the field by their relatives and dependents, and each seized for himself whatever territory he was strong enough to hold. The Chiefs, with their clansmen and retainers, associated themselves into twelve Misl or confederacies of equals. Each Chief parcelled out the conquered lands among his followers, who held their portions in independence, bound only by considerations of mutual advantage and the general weal of the Misl. A bond between the confederacies was supplied in the solemn assembly of the whole Sikh people, which met at least once every year at Amritsar. There the council of Chiefs, termed the "Gurumata", discussed affairs affecting the Khalsa or planned new expeditions.

Under such a system causes of quarrel were never wanting. The difficulties with which the Sikhs had to contend in their early struggle for existence kept them at first well together; but with success came dissensions, and the weak fell before the strong. One of the Sardars who earliest raised himself to power and influence was Maha Singh of the Sukarchakia Misl, who married a daughter of the Raja of Jind and by her had a son, Ranjit Singh, born in 1780. During the invasion of Shah Zaman in 1789, Ranjit Singh rendered him service by recovering several pieces of artillery which had been lost in the Jhelum, and he had the address to procure for himself the appointment of Governor of Lahore.

Ranjit Singh established himself in the city, and, in concert with Fateh Singh Ahluwalia, and Mai Sudda Kaur his mother-in-law, the virtual head of the powerful Kanhaya Misl, he soon extended his supremacy over the neighbouring Sardars between the Jhelum and the Sutlej, and meditated the extension of his authority beyond the Sutlej. At the same time he was steadily labouring to bring under his dominion the scattered elements of the Sikh people, a task which was lightened by the mutual jealousies of the Sardars. In 1803 he made proposals to Lord Lake for the transfer to the British Government of the territory belonging to the Sikhs south of the Sutlej, on the condition of mutual defence against the enemies of himself and the British nation. The offer was declined.

In 1805 the last "Gurumata" was held, the system of confederacies acting in grave matters jointly for the common benefit was extinguished, and thereafter the force of the Khalsa was directed by the will of one man. In the same year Ranjit Singh was recalled from a campaign against the Muhammadans between the Chenab and the Indus, by the sudden appearance of Holkar in the Punjab, closely pursued by Lord Lake. Disappointed in the hope of procuring assistance from Ranjit Singh, Holkar concluded a treaty with the British Government, and returned to his territories. A treaty of friendship and alliance (No. I) was at the same time concluded by the British Government with Ranjit Singh and his ally Sardar Fateh Singh Ahluwalia.

In 1806 Ranjit Singh began to lay hands on the possessions of the Phulkian Misl on the left bank of the Sutlej. His systematic aggression excited the alarm of the Sikhs of Sirhind, and in 1808 they sent a deputation, consisting of Raja Bhag Singh of Jind (Ranjit Singh's uncle), Bhai Lal Singh of Kaithal, and Chain Singh, Diwan of Patiala, to beg the protection of the British Government. The answer they received was such as to encourage their hopes, although it conveyed no formal assurance of protection.

In the meantime the prospect of a French invasion of India had induced the British Government to depute Mr. Metcalfe to the court of Ranjit Singh to establish a friendly alliance. Towards the close of 1808, in consequence of acts of hostility committed by Ranjit Singh on the south of the Sutlej while negotiations were pending, Government determined to comply with the wishes of the cis-Sutlej Chiefs, and Mr. Metcalfe was instructed to declare the country between the Sutlej and the Jumna under British protection. Mr. Metcalfe's mission resulted in the Treaty of Amritsar of 1809 (No. II), by which the British Government agreed to have no concern with the territories and subjects of the Maharaja of Lahore to the north of the Sutlej, Ranjit Singh agreed neither to commit nor suffer encroachments on the possessions or rights of the Chiefs to the south of the Sutlej, and he was guaranteed in the possession of the conquests made by him on the left bank of the Sutlej up to September 1808.

After the conclusion of this treaty, the intercourse of the British Government with the Lahore Darbar was, for many years, confined to the interchange of friendly letters and presents. Ranjit Singh was too prudent and far-seeing to give occasion of offence by a violation of his treaty engagements, and he confined his schemes of conquest to the directions of Multan, Kashmir and Peshawar. By the close of 1811 he had occupied Kangra, and completed the absorption of the old trans-Sutlej confederacies. A battle in July 1813 between the Afghans and the Sikhs left Fort Attock in his hands. In the same year he extorted the Koh-i-Nur diamond from Shah Shuja, then a refugee at Lahore. In 1818 Multan was seized. In 1819 he took Kashmir. In 1823 he was at last successful in occupying Peshawar.

In 1831, when Lord William Bentinck visited Simla, Ranjit Singh sent a complimentary mission to him. Arrangements were made through the Political Agent at Ludhiana for an interview between the Governor-General and the Maharaja of Lahore, which took place at Rupar in October, when, at Ranjit Singh's particular request, he was given an assurance (No. III) of perpetual friendship.

From this period the utmost cordiality prevailed between the British Government and the Lahore Darbar. In 1832 a Treaty (No. IV) was concluded, to regulate the navigation of the Indus and the collection of duties on merchandise. The levy of duties on the value and quantity of the goods, however, gave rise to misunderstandings, and in 1834 it was arranged, by a supplementary Treaty (No. V), to substitute a toll to be levied on all boats with whatever merchandise laden. In 1839 another Agreement (No. VII) was made for the levy of duty on the merchandise at one place and not on the boats. A fourth Treaty (No. VIII) for the regulation of these duties was made in 1840 with Kharrak Singh, the son and successor of Ranjit Singh.

In 1833 Shah Shuja, who was living as a British pensioner at Ludhiana, resolved to make another effort to recover his kingdom of Kabul: and for this purpose he entered into a treaty* with Ranjit Singh

* TRANSLATION OF THE TREATY CONCLUDED BETWEEN MAHARAJA RANJIT SINGH AND SHAH SHUJA-UL-MULK, DATED THE 12TH OF MARCH 1834.

Relations of friendship having been firmly established between Maharaja Ranjit Singh and Shah Shuja-ul-Mulk, so that there neither is nor ever shall be any alienation or difference of interest existing between them, they agree to adopt the following Articles in consideration of the terms of good will and friendship by which they are reciprocally actuated.

1st.—Shah Shuja-ul-Mulk disclaims all title on the part of himself, his heirs, successors, and all the Saddozais, to whatever territories lying on either bank of the in which, in consideration of the assistance to be rendered by the Sikhs, he disclaimed all title to the territories in Ranjit Singh's possession on either side of the Indus. Shah Shuja's expedition to Kabul ended in disaster, and he returned to his exile in Ludhiana, whence he was summoned in 1838 to make another effort for the re-establishment of his power. The supposed designs of Russia on Afghanistan, the preference shown by Dost Muhammad for a Russian alliance, and his invasion of the territories of Ranjit Singh, induced the British Government to adopt the cause of Shah Shuja. Their operations in Afghanistan were preceded by a tripartite Treaty concluded in 1838 (No. VI) between the British Government, Ranjit Singh, and Shah Shuja, which renewed the provisions of the treaty of 1833 between Shah Shuja and Ranjit Singh; bound Shah Shuja, in the event of the attainment of his object, to pay two lakhs of rupees for the assistance of Ranjit Singh's troops; to give up claims to supremacy over Sind on condition of payment by the Amirs of a sum to be fixed by the British Government, of which fifteen lakhs should go to Ranjit Singh; not to attack or molest the ruler of River Indus that may be possessed by the Maharaja, viz., Kashmir including its limits E., W., N., and S., together with the fort of Attok, Chach, Hazara, Kabel, Amb, with its dependencies on the left bank of the aforesaid river, and on the right bank, Peshawar with the Yusufzai territory Khataks, Hashtnayar, Michni, Kohat, and all places dependent on Peshawar as far as the Khaibar Pass; Bannu, the Waziri territory, Dawar, Tank, Girang, Kalabagh, and Khushalgarh with their dependent districts; Dera Ismail Khan, and its dependency, together with Dera Ghazi Khan, Kot Mithan and their dependent territory, Sangarh, Harand, Dajal, Hajipur, Rajipur, and the three Kachis, as well as Mansera with its district and the Province of Multan, situated on the left bank. These countries and places are considered to be the property and to form the estate of the Maharaja; the Shah neither has nor will have any concern with them. They belong to the Maharaja and his posterity from generation to generation.

2nd.—The people of the country on the other side of Khaibar will not be suffered to commit robberies or aggression or any disturbances on this side. If any defaulter of either State, who has embezzled the revenue, take refuge in the territory of the other each party engages to surrender him.

3rd.—As agreeably to the Treaty established between the British Government and the Maharaja, no one can cross from the left to the right bank of the Sutlej without a passport from the Maharaja, the same rule shall be observed regarding the passage of the Indus, whose waters join the Sutlej, and no one shall be allowed to cross the Indus without the Maharaja's permission.

4th.—Regarding Shikarpur and the territory of Sind lying on the right bank of the Indus the Shah will abide by whatever may be settled as right and proper, in conformity with the happy relations of friendship subsisting between the British Government and the Maharaja, through Captain Wade.

5th.—When the Shah shall have established his authority in Kabul and Kandahar, he will annually send the Maharaja the following articles, viz., 55 high-bred horses of approved colours and pleasant paces, 11 Persian scimitars, 7 Persian poniards, 25 good mules, fruits of various kinds, both dry and fresh, and sardas or muskmelons of a sweet and delicate flavour (to be sent throughout the year). By the way of Kabul River to Peshawar, grapes, pomegranates, apples, quinces, almonds, raisins, pistals or chesnuts, an abundant supply of each as well as pieces of satin of every colour, choghas of fur, kimkhabs wrought with gold and silver, Persian carpets, altogether to the number of 101 pieces; all these articles the Shah will continue to send every year to the Maharaja.

6th.—Each party shall address the other on terms of equality.

7th.—Merchants of Afghanistan, who will be desirous of trading to Lahore, Amritsar, or any other part of the Maharaja's possessions, shall not be stopped or molested on their way; on the contrary, strict orders shall be issued to facilitate Herat; not to negotiate with foreign States without the consent of the British and Sikh Governments; and to oppose any power having the design of invading the British or Sikh territories. On the death of Shah Shuja, this treaty was considered to have become null and void.

Ranjit Singh died in 1839. This remarkable man, who was absolutely illiterate, had raised himself from being the head of one of the smallest of the Sikh clans to a kingdom which, at the time of his death, yielded a revenue of upwards of two and a half crores of rupees, covered an area of 14,000 square miles, and was garrisoned by a well drilled army of 82,000 men. Within a few years after his death, the kingdom which he had created by his personal abilities fell to pieces under his successors.

He was succeeded by his son, Kharak Singh, who died in 1840. Nao Nehal Singh, the only son of Kharak Singh, was killed when returning from his father's funeral. Thereafter there followed a series of revolutions, by which the power passed successively into the hands of Chand Kaur, the mother of Nao Nehal Singh, his uncle Sher Singh, and lastly Dalip Singh, the reputed son of Ranjit Singh.

During the minority of Dalip Singh and the regency of his mother, all regular government was overthrown, and the Khalsa army became virtually the rulers of the country. Military operations, as well as the their intercourse, and the Maharaja engages to observe the same line of conduct on his part in respect to traders who may wish to proceed to Afghanistan.

8th.—The Maharaja will yearly send to the Shah the following articles in the way of friendship:—55 pieces of shawls, 25 pieces of muslin, 11 dopattas, 5 pieces of kinkhabs, 5 scarves, 3 turbans, 55 loads of Bareh rice (peculiar to Peshawar).

9th.—Any of the Maharaja's officers who may be deputed to Afghanistan to purchase horses or on any other business, as well as those who may be sent by the Shah into the Punjab for the purpose of purchasing piece-goods or shawls, etc., to the amount of 11,000 rupees, will be treated by both sides with due attention, and every facility will be afforded to them in the execution of their commission.

10th.—Whenever the armies of the two States may happen to be assembled at the same place, on no account shall the slaughter of kine be permitted to take place.

11th.—In the event of the Shah taking an auxiliary force from the Maharaja, whatever booty may be acquired from the Barakzai, in jewels, horses, arms, great or small, shall equally be divided between the two contracting parties. If the Shah should succeed in obtaining possession of their property without the assistance of the Maharaja's troops, the Shah agrees to send a portion of it by his own Agent to the Maharaja in the way of friendship.

12th.—An exchange of missions charged with letters and presents shall constantly take place between the two parties.

13th.—Should the Maharaja require the aid of any of the Shah's troops, the Shah engages to send a force commanded by one of his principal officers; in like manner the Maharaja will furnish the Shah, when required, with an auxiliary force composed of Muhammadans and commanded by one of his principal officers as far as Kabul. When the Maharaja may go to Peshawar the Shah will depute a Shahzada to visit him, on which occasion the Maharaja will receive and dismiss him with the honour and consideration due to his rank and dignity.

14th.—The friends and enemies of the one shall be the friends and enemies of the other.

15th.—Both parties cordially agree to the foregoing Articles; there shall be no deviation from them. The present Treaty shall be considered binding for ever.

attitude of the army towards the executive government of the country, were solely determined by their Panchayats or regimental committees. The army considered itself, and was regarded by others, as the representative body of the Sikh people, as the visible Khalsa and master of the commonwealth. To divert the attention of the army from domestic politics, they were led to resolve on a campaign across the Sutlej, a movement which for some time previous had been expected by the British Government. In November 1845 the Panchayat of the Khalsa resolved on war; and the resolution was approved by the Darbar. The Sikhs committed the first act of aggression in December 1845, by crossing the river near Ferozepore and carrying off some camels. On the 13th December the Governor-General issued a Proclamation (No. IX), setting forth the views and objects of the British Government, and the unprovoked invasion of British territories by the Sikhs; declaring the possessions of Maharaja Dalip Singh on the left bank of the Sutlej confiscated and annexed to the British territories; and calling on the protected Chiefs to co-operate cordially with the British Government against the common enemy. On the 18th December 1845 the first action was fought at Mudki. The battle of Ferozshah followed three days later. On the 28th January 1846, the Sikhs were defeated at Aliwal, and sustained their final defeat at Sobraon on the 10th February. On the 13th the whole British force crossed the Sutlej, and on the 14th a proclamation was issued, declaring that the occupation of the Punjab would not be relinquished till full atonement had been made for the breach of their treaty engagements by the Sikhs, and that the hill and plain districts between the Sutlej and the Beas would be annexed in part indemnity for the expenses of the war. On the night of the 15th a conference was held between Mr. Currie and Major Lawrence on behalf of the British Government, and Raja Gulab Singh, Diwan Dina Nath, and Fakir Nur-ud-din on behalf of the Sikhs, at which the preliminaries of a treaty were arranged. The Treaty (No. X) was signed at Lahore on the 9th March 1846. This treaty left the British Government in possession of the hills and plains east of the Beas, and of the hill countries between the Beas and the Indus, including Kashmir and Hazara; it regulated the strength and constitution of the Sikh army; gave the British Government the control over the Beas and the Sutlej as far as the Indus, and of the Indus to the borders of Baluchistan; and made the British Government the arbiter in all disputes between the Lahore Darbar and neighbouring States. Two days later an Agreement (No. XI) was made, by which Government left a force at Lahore for the protection of the Maharaja, and certain matters regarding the territories ceded by the treaty were specifically determined.

The Lahore Darbar being anxious for the assistance of the British Government to maintain the administration of the Lahore State during the minority of Dalip Singh, an Agreement (No. XII), known as the Agreement of Bhyrowal, was concluded on the 16th December 1846, by which the treaty of the 9th March was temporarily modified; a Resident was appointed at Lahore; a council of regency, consisting of eight members, was established to conduct the government in consultation with the Resident; and the country was occupied by a British force, to be paid for by the Lahore State.

Many of the Sikh Chiefs, who had been accustomed to revolution and excitement, were not satisfied with the arrangements for the pacification of the country and harboured evil designs. The murder, on the 20th April 1848, of Mr. Vans Agnew and Lieutenant Anderson at Multan, and the revolt of its ex-governor, Mulraj, gave an opportunity for the development of a wide and dangerous conspiracy which had for some time existed in the Sikh army, with a view to the re-establishment of the independence of the Khalsa. Sardar Chhatar Singh Atariwala raised the standard of rebellion in the north. Raja Sher Singh, his son, joined Mulraj, and proclaimed a religious war. He was followed in open rebellion by the great body of the Sikh army and the Sikh population, which the Darbar were powerless to control. In October 1848 the British army crossed the Sutlej. The indecisive battle of Chilianwala was fought on the 13th January 1849. But on the 22nd February the rebels were totally defeated in the decisive battle of Gujrat. This was followed by the surrender of the entire Sikh army, and the annexation of the Punjab.

On the 29th March 1849 an Agreement (No. XIII) was made with Maharaja Dalip Singh, whereby he resigned the sovereignty of the Punjab, receiving a pension from the British Government. Shortly afterwards he took up his residence permanently in England, which was his domicile down to 1886. He was gazetted to a personal salute of twenty-one guns for life in June 1867. In the course of time the Maharaja became dissatisfied with the allowances made to him, which he declared to be less than those to which he was entitled under the Agreement of 1849. He also put forward claims to certain estates, etc., in the Punjab, which he stated to have been his private property and therefore not liable to confiscation under article 2 of the Agreement. Much was done from time to time, by the grant of loans, etc., on easy terms, to improve the Maharaja's position, which had become embarrassed owing to want of economy. The demands put forward by him were, however, quite inadmissible. Failing to obtain what he asked for, the Maharaja, accompanied by his wife and family, left London in March 1886 with the avowed object of resettling in India. Before leaving England he had used menacing language, and had issued a seditious proclamation addressed to the Sikhs. He was detained at Aden by order of the Government, but was finally allowed to return to Europe where, having resigned his pension, he lived first in France and afterwards in Russia.

In 1890, however, Maharaja Dalip Singh expressed regret for his past conduct and sued for pardon, which was accorded on conditions. The allowances which he had enjoyed up to 1886 were restored to him, the undrawn arrears being placed at his disposal. At the same time the rate of interest payable on the debt owed by the Maharaja to Government was reduced.

The Maharaja died in October 1893, leaving five surviving children by his first wife and two by his second wife. Of these children the eldest, Prince Victor Dalip Singh, was born on the 10th July 1866, and in 1898 married Lady Anne Coventry. The Prince, in addition to the money left him by his father, drew an allowance of £8,000 a year from the Indian Government, and on his marriage this was increased to £10,000. He died on the 7th June 1918, without issue: and an allowance of £7,000 a year was then made to his brother, Prince Frederick Dalip Singh, the last male representative of the family, who died unmarried on the 15th August 1926. Suitable provision has been made for the remaining members of the family.

II.—PUNJAB STATES.

During the mutiny of 1857, when communication between Delhi and Agra and Calcutta was for the most part cut off, the administration of the Delhi and Hissar territories was assumed by the Chief Commissioner of the Punjab, and after the restoration of peace these districts were finally placed under the control of the Punjab Government. In this territory there were several Chiefs who held the position of jagirdars rather than of princes. They had been subjects of the Moghul and, after the overthrow of the Mahratta power by Lord Lake, their Estates were either confirmed to, or conferred on, them by the British Government, in most cases as a reward for services rendered. These Chiefs were the Nawabs of Pataudi, Loharu, Dujana, Jhajjar, Dadri and Bahadurgarh, and Farrukhnagar, and the Raja of Ballabhgarh. The Chiefs of Jhajjar, Ballabhgarh and Farrukhnagar were executed, and their Estates were confiscated for participation in the mutiny of 1857; while the Dadri and Bahadurgarh Estates were also confiscated, though the Chief was allowed a pension of Rs. 1,000 for his subsistence.

The Ballabhgarh Chief held no sanad of a hereditary nature from the British Government. The Dadri and Bahadurgarh territory originally formed part of Jhajjar, and is included in the Sanad (No. XXI) granting that Estate.

On the formation of the new Delhi Province in October 1912 the States of Loharu, Dujana, Kalsia and Pataudi, which were formerly under the political superintendence of the Commissioner of the Delhi Division, were transferred to the political charge of the Punjab Government. In 1921 Loharu was brought into direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General of the newly formed Punjab States Agency.

1. DUJANA.

The Estates of this Afghan family are held on condition of fidelity to the British Government, and military service when required. The original grant was conferred by Lord Lake on Abdus Samad Khan and his sons for life; but in 1806 the tenure was made perpetual by a Sanad of the Governor-General (No. XIV), and several Estates in the Haryana territory were added. The Haryana Estates were afterwards exchanged for the villages of Dujana and Mehrana in Rohtak. Abdus Samad Khan was succeeded in 1825 by his son, Dunde Khan, who was succeeded in 1850 by his eldest son, Hasan Ali Khan.

In 1862 the Chief of Dujana received an Adoption Sanad (see No. XXII).

In 1867 Hasan Ali Khan was succeeded by his son Saadat Ali Khan and he by his son Mumtaz Ali Khan in 1879.

In 1886 he ceded full jurisdiction over the land in his territory coming within the limits of the Rewari-Ferozepore Railway, and in 1899 an Agreement to the same effect (No. XV) was obtained from him in a revised form.

Mumtaz Ali Khan was succeeded in 1908 by Muhammad Khurshaid Ali Khan, with whom an agreement was concluded in 1919 under which the control of poppy cultivation and the manufacture and sale of opium and intoxicating drugs in the State, and the revenue derived therefrom, were transferred to the British Government for a period of two years with effect from the 1st April 1919, in consideration of the payment of certain compensation. This agreement did not, however, actually come into force till the 1st April 1920 and terminated on the 31st March 1922, having been specially prolonged for one year. It was then renewed for a further period of two years, when a similar Agreement (No. XVI) was concluded with effect from the 1st April 1924, to continue in force for ten years, Government undertaking to pay the State Rs. 2,000 at the end of each financial year.

Muhammad Khurshaid Ali Khan was succeeded in 1925 by the present Nawab Muhammad Iqtidar Ali Khan, born in 1912. During his minority the State is administered by a Council.

The area of Dujana is 100 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 25,833; and the revenue Rs. 1,60,000.

The military forces consist (1926) of 8 Cavalry, 47 Infantry, 19 Armed Police and 12 Artillery men, with 3 guns. The Nawab, under the terms of his Sanad, is bound to furnish a contingent of 200 horse when required.

The State is under the political superintendence of the Commissioner of the Ambala Division.

2. KALSIA.

Sardar Gurbakhsh Singh, the founder of the family, came originally from Kalsia, a village in the Manjha. He was succeeded by his son Jodh Singh. At the time of the extension of British protection to the cis-Sutlej States, a copy of the proclamation issued by Sir D. Ochterlony was not sent to Jodh Singh, as his disposition towards the British Government was doubtful; and it was proposed that, if the Chief continued indifferent to British protection and determined to unite himself with Ranjit Singh, he should be declared an enemy and dispossessed of his territories. After two months, however, Jodh Singh followed the example of others, and was assured of protection.

In 1817 Jodh Singh was succeeded by his son Sobha Singh, and he by his son Lehna Singh in 1858.

In 1862 the Chief of Kalsia received an Adoption Sanad (No. XVII).

In 1869 Lehna Singh was succeeded by his son Bishan Singli, and he in 1883 by his son Jagjit Singh, who in 1886 was succeeded by his brother Ranjit Singh. During his minority the State was administered by a Council of Regency which, in 1891, ceded full jurisdiction over lands within the State required for the Delhi-Ambala-Kalka Railway. An Agreement (No. XIX) to this effect was obtained in 1899.

In 1894, under an Agreement (No. XVIII) having effect from the 1st April 1892, the control of the excise arrangements in the State, and the income derived from the sale of spirits, opium and intoxicating drugs, were transferred to the British Government for a period of five years in consideration of an annual payment of Rs. 5,500. This agreement has been renewed from time to time. The annual payment by Government was raised to Rs. 14,500 in 1923. The last renewal was for a period of two years from the 1st April 1927, the conditions remaining unchanged.*

In 1908 Ranjit Singh was succeeded by Sardar Ravi Sher Singh, the present Chief, born in 1901, during whose minority the State was administered by a Council of Regency. He was invested with ruling powers in 1922.

In 1916 the hereditary title of Raja was conferred (No. XX) on the Chief of Kalsia.

The Chief receives a money payment of Rs. 2,851 a year in perpetuity from the British Government, as compensation for loss of customs duties.

The area of Kalsia is 188 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 57,300; and the revenue Rs. 7,11,000.

The military forces consist (1926) of 17 Cavalry, 83 Infantry, 58 Armed Police and 5 Artillery men, with 3 serviceable guns.

The State is under the political superintendence of the Commissioner of the Ambala Division.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

3. PATAUDI.

The original grantee, Faiz Talab Khan, was a brother of the Jhajjar Nawab, Najabat Ali Khan. He was severely wounded in an action with Holkar's troops, and for his services he was granted in 1806 (No. XXI) the pargana of Pataudi in perpetual jagir. He died in 1829 and was succeeded by Akbar Ali Khan who, in 1862, was succeeded by his son Muhammad Taki Ali Khan.

In 1862 the Chief of Pataudi received an Adoption Sanad (No. XXII).

* When the agreement was renewed in 1897, the following words were added at the end of the ninth clause: "and the import or transport of opium or intoxicating drugs".

In 1867 Muhammad Taki Ali Khan was succeeded by his son Muhammad Mukhtar Husain Ali Khan, and he by his son Muhammad Mumtaz Husain Ali Khan in 1878.

In 1894, under an Agreement (No. XXIII), the control of excise arrangements in the State, and the income derived from the sale of spirits, opium and intoxicating drugs, were transferred to the British Government for a period of five years, in consideration of an annual payment of Rs. 414. This agreement has been renewed from time to time. The annual payment by Government was raised to Rs. 1,000 in 1923. The last renewal was for a period of three years from the 1st April 1928, the conditions remaining unchanged.

Muhammad Mumtaz Husain Ali Khan died in 1898 without issue, and was succeeded by a distant cousin, Muhammad Muzaffar Ali Khan who, in 1901, confirmed by an Agreement (No. XXIV) the cession, originally made in 1884, of full jurisdiction over the lands in the State occupied, or thereafter to be occupied, by the Rajputana-Malwa Railway.

Muhammad Muzaffar Ali Khan was succeeded in 1913 by Muhammad Ibrahim Ali Khan, and he, in 1917, by the present Nawab Muhammad Iftiqar Ali Khan, during whose minority the administration is conducted by a Manager appointed by Government.

The area of Pataudi is 52 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 18,097; and the revenue Rs. 1,87,000.

The military forces consist (1926) of 5 Cavalry, 30 Infantry, 34 Armed Police and 10 Artillery men, with 4 serviceable and 2 unserviceable guns. The Nawab, under the terms of his Sanad, is bound to furnish a contingent of 400 horse when required.

The State is under the political superintendence of the Commissioner of the Ambala Division.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

III.—PUNJAB HILL STATES.

The following States situated in the Simla Hills are under the political control of the Punjab Government:—

- (1) Bashahr, (2) Nalagarh, (3) Keonthal, (4) Baghal, (5) Jubbal, (6) Baghat, (7) Kumharsain, (8) Bhajji, (9) Mahlog, (10) Balsan, (11) Dhami, (12) Kuthar, (13) Kunihar, (14) Mangal, (15) Beja, (16) Darkoti, (17) Tharoch and (18) Sangri.

Control is exercised through the Deputy Commissioner of Simla, who is ex-officio Superintendent of the Simla Hill States.

In early times the number of large and small States between the Sutlej and the Jumna, more or less independent in proportion as they were powerful, was considerable. In 1814, at the date of the Nepalese occupation, three States, Bashahr, Nalagarh and Keonthal, greatly exceeded their original limits. All the smaller Chiefships, though most of them were in theory independent, acknowledged a degree of subordination to one or other of these more powerful States, which varied according to the inclination and ability of the superior to enforce its sway and the political condition of the lesser State and its neighbours. The nature of the conditions binding upon the lesser Chief and his superior differed in every case and was not definitely prescribed; but it is certain that a superior could not confer on another, or resume for himself, the lands of a subordinate.

During the latter half of the eighteenth century, the Gurkhas of Nepal had extended their dominion from Bhutan in the east to the borders of Kangra. Here they were checked for some years by the Kangra Raja, the celebrated Sansar Chand. In 1803, however, Sansar Chand, in company with the Nalagarh Chief, encroached upon Bilaspur,* the Raja of which invited the assistance of the Gurkhas in repelling the encroachment. The desired assistance was afforded by the Gurkhas, their intervention in this quarrel marking the beginning of their conquest of the Punjab Hills. In a few years they overran Kangra, and passing southwards had occupied the Hills as far as the Jumna by 1814, the year of the outbreak of the Nepalese War that ended in 1815 when, by the Treaty of Segauli, the Nepalese renounced all claim to the Punjab Hills (see Vol. XIV, Nepal).

On the conclusion of peace, the British forces in the Punjab being small and the British Government's object being less the acquisition of territory than the keeping of the Nepalese within reasonable bounds, it was decided to secure the co-operation of the liberated Hill Chiefs by the offer to them of restoration, together with a guarantee of future independence, on the condition of their taking part with the British in the event of any subsequent incursions by the Nepalese. All the Simla Hill Rajas accepted this offer: and, it having been resolved to restore to each the territories held by him prior to the Gurkha occupation, a conference of Chiefs under General Ochterlony was held at Plassia. The object of this conference was to determine the territories held by each Chief prior to the occupation. No enquiry was instituted into the circumstances in which possession of any particular tract had been acquired, possession where proved being confirmed. It was considered expedient to sever the connection, subsisting prior to the Gurkha invasion between the more powerful chieftains and their dependents, in all cases where the latter could prove that their dependence consisted of little more than a general recognition of superiority. But in the case of chiefships which had been compelled by the exigencies of their position to submit definitely to the dominion of a more powerful neighbour, the superior Chief was recognised as the overlord of the inferior. Thus the Thakurais of Kumharsain, Balsan, Kuthar, Mangal and Dhami were constituted separate chiefships and granted independent sanads, while the Thakurais of Khaneti and Delath were conferred upon Bashahr and those of Koti, Madhan, Ghund and Theog upon Keonthal.

In 1847 transit duties were abolished throughout the Simla Hill States. An annual payment of Rs. 13,735 is made by Government as compensation for loss of revenue on this account.

An Adoption Sanad (see No. XVII) was granted to each of the Chiefs, except Sangri, in 1862.

Capital sentences passed by the Chiefs require to be confirmed by the Superintendent before they can be carried out.

1. BASHAHR.

On the conclusion of the Gurkha War, Raja Mahendar Singh received a Sanad (No. XXV) confirming him in possession of Bashahr proper and the Thakurais of Khaneti and Delath. A part of the Rawain district of the State was however transferred to Keonthal, while Kumharsain was constituted a separate Thakurai.

Mahendar Singh died in 1850 and was succeeded by his son Shamsar Singh, who died in 1914 when, in the absence of lawful male issue, he was succeeded by his adopted son, the present Raja Padam Singh. He enjoys a personal salute of nine guns.

Adjoining Bashahr is a tract which originally formed the small chiefship of Sairi. The last Chief of Sairi, Dharam Singh, died without issue in 1813: and, on the death of his widow in 1864, the Raja of Bashahr, as the suzerain of Sairi, claimed the chiefship as an escheat in default of a lineal heir to the late Chief. The claim was allowed by Government, the nearest representative of the Sairi family being granted an allowance of Rs. 150 per year from the revenues of the chiefship (about Rs. 400). Nazarana equal to a year's revenue of Sairi was however recovered from the Bashahr Chief as a punishment for his having attempted to establish his claim to Sairi by fraudulent interpolations in the Sanad of 1815.

In 1864 the Raja of Bashahr leased his forests to the British Government for a period of fifty years (No. XXVI). By a supplementary Agreement (No. XXVII), executed in 1871, he also leased his rights to waif and drift timber. The terms of these leases were in 1877 embodied in a single Agreement (No. XXVIII) which, besides securing to the Raja an annual payment of Rs. 10,000 in consideration of the rights conceded, made more definite provision for the conservancy of the forests granted. The Agreement of 1877 terminated in 1927: and in 1929 a fresh Agreement (No. XXIX) was made, with effect from the 1st November 1928, to continue in force for twenty-five years. Under the new agreement more definite provisions for the conservancy of the forests were made, and the annual payment to the Raja was raised to Rs. 1,00,000.

The Bashahr Chief is required, under the terms of his Sanad, to join the British Army with his armed retainers and hill porters when called upon to do so, and to construct roads within his territory. The annual tribute of Rs. 15,000 imposed by the Sanad was reduced in 1847 to Rs. 3,945 as compensation for the abolition of transit duties.

The area of Bashahr and Sairi is 3,820 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 86,000; and the revenue Rs. 3,34,000.

The State maintains a force of 75 Infantry and Police.

The area of Khaneti is 19 square miles, the population 3,000, and the revenue Rs. 27,000. The area of Delath is 42 square miles, the population 1,300, and the revenue Rs. 4,000. The Thakur of Khaneti pays a sum of Rs. 900 annually to the Bashahr State, and the Thakur of Delath a sum of Rs. 150.

The present Thakur of Khaneti is Amog Chaud, who succeeded in 1912: and the present Thakur of Delath is Devi Singh, who succeeded in 1920.

2. NALAGARH OR HINDUR.

In 1815 Raja Ram Singh received a Sanad (No. XXX) confirming him in all his ancestral possessions, with the exception of a half share in village Faizullapura and the fort of Malaun and its surrounding villages. As the Raja's services during the Nepalese War had been exceptional, no tribute was imposed by the Sanad. The fort of Malaun was retained by Government for use as a military post, the Raja being granted in exchange (No. XXXI) the Thakurai of Bharauli. The fort was, however, returned to the Raja in 1846 (No. XXXII) in recognition of his fidelity during the Sikh War. Bharauli, coming again into the possession of Government, was sold for Rs. 8,000 to the Rana of Balsan, whose territory it adjoins. Government's half share in village Faizullapura was transferred to the Raja in 1852, in return for the cession by him of an area of corresponding value elsewhere.

Ram Singh died in 1848 and was succeeded by his son Bije Singh, who died in 1856 without male issue: and the State then lapsed to Government. In view, however, of the exceptional services of Raja Ram Singh, the rule of his family was restored: and in 1860 Ugar Singh, the second of three illegitimate sons of Raja Ram Singh, was appointed to the gaddi with the hereditary title of Raja. The Sanad granted to him (No. XXXIII) prescribed the payment of an annual tribute of Rs. 5,000 and the giving of assistance to Government in times of danger or disturbance.

Ugar Singh died in 1876 and was succeeded by his son Isri Singh, who died in 1911 and was succeeded by his younger brother, the present Raja Jogendar Singh.

The area of Nalagarh is 256 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 46,868; and the revenue Rs. 2,68,000.

The State maintains a force of 58 Armed Police.

3. KEONTHAL.

In 1800, just before the Gurkha invasion, Keonthal is said to have been the overlord of some eighteen petty Thakurais. On the arrival of the Gurkhas, however, the Keonthal Chief, Rana Raghunath Sen, fled to Suket where he subsequently died. He was survived by an infant son, Sansar Sen, to whom, in 1814, the State was restored by the British Government. In the course of the Gurkha occupation many of the Thakurais contrived to free themselves from the overlordship of Keonthal, while others became absorbed in Keonthal or in other States. Of the area which remained to Keonthal in 1814, eight parganas were ceded to Government by the Chief's representatives, in lieu of a money contribution towards the expenses of the Nepalese War. These were granted later to Patiala (see Part II, Punjab States, Patiala No. III) in return for a cash payment, in recognition of his assistance in the prosecution of the war. In the remainder of his territories Sansar Sen was confirmed by a Sanad (No. XXXIV), and in regard to these no tribute was imposed. By a second Sanad (No. XXXV) the Chief of Keonthal was invested with authority over the Thakurais of Theog, Koti, Ghund and Kiari (or Madhan), the Chiefs of which were required to regard him as their overlord and to pay him tribute—in the case of Theog and Koti, Rs. 500 each, and of Ghund and Madhan, Rs. 250 each. By a third Sanad (No. XXXVI) the pargana of Punar was conferred upon Keonthal. This sanad is dated 1823, but the transfer actually took place in 1816. In 1876 the Thakur of Ratesh was declared to be subordinate to Keonthal. No sanad was, however, granted to Keonthal and no tribute is paid by Ratesh.

In 1830 a part of the district of Raingarh, or Rawain, which had been retained by Government in 1815 (see No. XXV) was conferred upon the Keonthal Chief in exchange for Simla. The jagirdars of Rawain, Dhadi and Nandpur in the Raingarh district were, however, excepted from this exchange, and the two former were declared in 1896 to be feudatories of Jubbal. A sanad was promised to the Keonthal Chief on the occasion of this exchange, but it does not appear to have ever been given.

The Keonthal Chiefs were styled Rana up to 1858. In that year the hereditary title of Raja was conferred (No. XXXVII) on the Chief of Keonthal, and Sansar Sen was given a khillat of Rs. 1,000, in recognition of his loyal behaviour at the outbreak of the mutiny. Many Europeans fled from Simla when it was feared that the regiment of Gurkhas stationed there had become disaffected, and these were given shelter by Sansar Sen.

Sansar Sen died in 1862 and was succeeded by his son Mahendra Sen who, in 1882, was succeeded by his son Balbir Sen.

In 1884, in return for an annual payment of Rs. 3,500, he ceded (No. XXXVIII) full jurisdiction over an area of 50 acres of land known as Kasumpti, which adjoins the municipality of Simla.

Balbir Sen died in 1901 and was succeeded by his son Bije Sen who, in that year, ceded (No. XXXIX) full jurisdiction over lands within the State required for the Kalka-Simla Railway. He died in 1916 and was succeeded by his minor son the present Raja Hamendra Sen, who was invested with ruling powers in 1926.

The area of Keonthal proper is 116 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 25,500; and the revenue Rs. 1,30,000.

The State maintains a force of 12 Armed Police.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

The area, population and revenue of the Thakurais is—Koti, 50 square miles, 9,200, Rs. 1,36,000: Theog, 144 square miles, 6,300, Rs. 25,600: Madhan, 9 square miles, 3,700, Rs. 5,500: Ghund, 28 square miles, 2,100, Rs. 1,550: and Ratesh, 12 square miles, 480, Rs. 770.

The present Thakurs are—Koti, Rana Raghubir Chand who succeeded in 1891: Theog, Thakur Padam Chand (1909): Madhan, Thakur Randhir Chand (1905): Ghund, Thakur Ranjit Singh (1907): and Ratesh, Thakur Shamsher Singh (1925).

4. BAGHAL.

During the occupation of Baghal by the Gurkhas, Rana Jagat Singh took refuge in Nalagarh. On the expulsion of the Gurkhas he was restored to the possession of his State by a Sanad (No. XL). The Sanad prescribed the maintenance by the Chief at the service of Government of a hundred begaris, subsequently commuted to an annual tribute of Rs. 3,600.

Jagat Singh was succeeded by his son Sheo Saran Singh, who died in 1840 and was succeeded by his son Kishen Singh. In 1860 a khillat was conferred upon him in recognition of his services during the mutiny, men of his State having helped to guard the road from Jullundur to Simla at a time when an attack upon Simla by the mutineers at Jullundur was apprehended.

In 1875 the hereditary title of Raja was conferred (No. XLI) on the Chief of Baghal.

In 1877 Kishan Singh was succeeded by his son Moti Singh, who died a few months later, when his cousin Dhian Singh succeeded him. In 1904 Dhian Singh was succeeded by his son Bikram Singh, and he in 1922 by his son the present Raja Surendar Singh, who was born in 1909 and has not yet received his powers. The State is administered by a Manager.

The area of Baghal is 124 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 25,000; and the revenue Rs. 1,00,000.

The State maintains a force of 15 Armed Police.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

5. JUBBAL.

At the time of the Gurkha invasion Jubbāl was a tributary of Sirmur, but during the occupation it became separated, and in 1815 Rana Puran Chand was granted an independent Sanad (No. XLII). The Sanad prescribed the maintenance of 70 begaris at the permanent service of Government. This condition was subsequently commuted to an annual tribute of Rs. 2,520.

Puran Chand misgoverned the State, and in 1832 he abdicated in favour of Government. He soon, however, repented this act, and refused the annual allowance of Rs. 4,400 sanctioned for his support. After a lengthy correspondence it was resolved, in 1840, that Puran Chand should be restored. He died, however, before effect could be given to this decision, and the State remained under Government management until his son, Karam Chand, came of age. He was invested with powers in 1853 and died in 1877, his powers being restricted from 1859 to 1862. He was succeeded by his son Padam Chand, who died in 1898, and was succeeded by his minor son Gian Chand who, dying without male issue in 1910, two years after he had received his powers, was succeeded by his half brother Baghat Chand, the present Chief.

In 1918 the hereditary title of Raja was conferred (No. XLIII) on the Chief of Jubbāl.

The area of Jubbāl is 288 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 24,800; and the revenue Rs. 8,82,000.

The State maintains a force of 45 Armed Police.

In 1896 the Thakurais of Rawain (or Rawingurh) and Dhadi were declared subordinate to Jubbāl. Each pays an annual tribute of one musk pod. Jubbāl does not, however, interfere with the administration of the Thakurais.

The area of Rawain is 7 square miles, the population 711, and the revenue Rs. 8,200. The area of Dhadi is 25 square miles, the population 185, and the revenue Rs. 5,500.

The present Chief of Rawain is Thakur Kidar Singh, who succeeded in 1904: and of Dhadi, Thakur Dharm Chand, who succeeded in 1901.

6. BAGHAT.

During the Nepalese War, Rana Mahendra Singh of Baghat was unfriendly in his attitude towards Government: and on the conclusion of the war five parganas were taken from him and sold to Patiala (see Part II, Punjab States, Patiala No. IV). The Rana was, however, confirmed (No. XLIV) in his remaining parganas. Mahendra Singh died without male issue in 1839, and the State then lapsed to Government, pensions to the extent of Rs. 1,282 being sanctioned for the family of the late Chief. In 1842, however, it was restored to Baje Singh, brother of Mahendra Singh. During the escheat the cantonment of Kasauli had been established within the State, and Bije Singh offered to present this area to Government. The offer was refused; but the area was purchased by Government for a sum of Rs. 5,000.

In 1849, on the death of Bije Singh without male issue, the State was again declared an escheat. In 1861, however, Government decided to restore it to Umed Singh, a cousin of Bije Singh, though before effect could be given to this decision Umed Singh died. His minor son Dalip Singh was then appointed to the gaddi, and a new Sanad (No. XLV) was issued to him in 1862, imposing an annual tribute of Rs. 2,000. This was secured by the reservation to Government of lands within the State producing a gross revenue of Rs. 2,500 per annum, including a property which had been acquired by a General Innes, of the Indian Army, during the period of the escheat. Soon however the representatives of the minor Chief complained of the loss of vassalage and cesses to which the State was subjected by this arrangement, and Government then restored the reserved area, except the estate of General Innes, in return for an annual payment equal to the revenue it produced (Rs. 997-1-0). Under the revised Sanad of 1864 (No. XLVI) in which these arrangements were sanctioned, the Rana was required to abide by the revenue settlement made during the second escheat, and to respect the rights of the under-tenants recognised by Government. After the death of General Innes in 1876, his estate was purchased by the Rana for Rs. 35,000. The estate was formally returned to Baghat in 1891.

In 1901 the Chief ceded (No. XLVII) jurisdiction over lands within the State required for the Kalka-Simla Railway, and land has been ceded from time to time for the Solon and Kasauli cantonments and the Sabathu and Dagshai water-works. In consequence of these cessions the tribute of Rs. 2,000 was gradually reduced, and the State now pays no tribute.

Dalip Singh died in 1911, and was succeeded by his minor son, the present Raja Durga Singh, who was invested with powers in 1922.

In 1928 the hereditary title of Raja was conferred (No. XLVIII) on the Chief of Baghat.

The area of Baghat is 36 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 9,500; and the revenue Rs. 1,10,000.

The State maintains a force of 36 Armed Police.

7. KUMHARSAIN.

At the time of the Gurkha invasion Kumharsain was a tributary of Bashahr, and was itself the overlord of Balsan, Bharauli and Madhan. During the subsequent occupation it became independent of Bashahr, but it also lost its own tributaries.

On the arrival of the Gurkhas, Rana Kehr Singh of Kumharsain took refuge in Kulu. He was restored in 1816, his Sanad (No. XLIX) prescribing among other things the maintenance of 40 begaris at the permanent service of Government. This condition was later commuted to an annual cash payment of Rs. 1,440.

Kehr Singh died in 1839 without male issue, and the State then lapsed to Government. In consideration, however, of the attachment of Kehr Singh to British interests during the Nepalese War, it was decided that the rule of his house should be continued: and Pritam Singh, a collateral, was appointed to the gaddi in 1840. The Sanad granted to Pritam Singh was identical with that granted to Kehr Singh; but on Pritam Singh's succession the annual tribute of Rs. 1,440 was raised to Rs. 2,000. Pritam Singh died in 1858 and was succeeded by his son Bhawani Singh who died in 1874, when his son Hira Singh succeeded; but, owing to his mental incapacity, the State was administered by a Council or a Manager during the forty years of his chiefship.

Hira Singh died in 1914 and was succeeded by his son, the present Rana Vidyadhar Singh, born in 1896. He received the powers of a Manager in 1917, and full powers in 1920.

The area of Kumharsain is 90 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 12,200; and the revenue Rs. 47,500.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

8. BHAJJI.

The State was overrun by the Gurkhas in 1803. On their expulsion in 1815, Rana Rudar Pal was restored and confirmed in his territories (No. L).

Rudar Pal abdicated in 1842 and was succeeded by his son Ran Bahadur Singh, to whom a fresh Sanad (No. LI) was granted in 1885, by which the condition, requiring the Chief to maintain 40 begaris at the constant service of Government, was commuted to an annual cash payment of Rs. 1,440.

Ran Bahadur Singh died in 1875 and was succeeded by his son Durga Singh, who died in 1913. Durga Singh was succeeded by his infant son the present Rana Birpal, who was installed in 1918. The State is being administered by a Manager.

The area of Bhajji is 96 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 14,200; and the revenue Rs. 99,000.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

9. MAHLOG.

During the Gurkha occupation Thakur Sansar Chand of Mahlog took refuge in Nalagarh. He was restored in 1815. The obligation to supply 40 begaris imposed by the Sanad (No. LII) was later commuted to an annual cash payment of Rs. 1,440.

Sansar Chand died in 1849 and was succeeded by his son Dalip Chand, who died in 1880. Dalip Chand was succeeded by his son Rag-kunath Chand, who died in 1902, and was succeeded by his infant son the present Thakur Durga Chand, who received his powers in 1920.

The area of Mahlog is 43 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 8,300; and the revenue Rs. 41,000.

The State maintains a force of 10 Armed Police.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

10. BALSAN.

Balsan was for many years a tributary of Sirmur. At the time of the Gurkha invasion it was, however, subordinate to Kumharsain. Thakur Jograj assisted the British forces, his principal exploit being the capture of the Nagan Fort together with a hundred Gurkhas, whom he handed over to General Ochterlony. At the close of the war he was therefore granted an independent Sanad (No. LIII). The obligation to supply 30 begaris was later commuted to an annual cash payment of Rs. 1,080. Jograj again behaved with loyalty during the mutiny, when he sheltered and entertained several European refugees from Simla. In acknowledgment of these services he was given a khillat in 1858 and the hereditary title of Rana was conferred (No. LIV) on the Chief of Balsan. Jograj died in 1867, and was succeeded by his son Bhup Singh, who died in 1884 and was succeeded by his grandson Bir Singh. Bir Singh died in 1920 without male issue, and was succeeded by his brother the present Rana Atar Singh.

The area of Balsan is 51 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 6,100; and the revenue Rs. 84,000.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

11. DHAMI.

At the time of the Gurkha invasion Dhami was tributary to Bilaspur. On the expulsion of the Gurkhas, Rana Goverdhan Singh was, however, granted an independent Sanad (No. LV). The obligation to supply 40 begaris, imposed by this Sanad, was later commuted to an annual cash payment of Rs. 720, which in 1858 was reduced to Rs. 360 for the life of Goverdhan Singh, in consideration of his loyal behaviour during the mutiny.

Goverdhan Singh died in 1868, and was succeeded by his son Fateh Singh. In 1888 the tribute payable by the State was again reduced to Rs. 360 for his life time. He died in 1894 and was succeeded by his son Hira Singh, who also, in 1901, obtained a remission of half the tribute of the State. Hira Singh died in 1920, and was succeeded by his son the present Rana Dalip Singh, during whose minority the State is administered by a Council. The full annual tribute of Rs. 720 is now paid.

The area of Dhimi is 26 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 4,800; and the revenue Rs. 45,500.

12. KUTHAR.

In early times Kuthar seems to have been tributary in turn to Nalagarh and Bilaspur. At the time of the Gurkha invasion it was, however, tributary to Keonthal. During the Gurkha occupation Rana Gopal Singh took refuge at Manimajra, in the Ambala district. He died on his way back to Kuthar at the end of the war, and the State was conferred on his son Bhup Singh. The Sanad granted to Bhup Singh (No. LVI) prescribed the maintenance of 40 begaris at the service of Government. This number was later reduced to 30 and was commuted to an annual cash payment of Rs. 1,000.

Bhup Singh died in 1858, and was succeeded by his son Jai Chand, to whom a khillat of Rs. 600 was granted in consideration of the services rendered by the State during the mutiny. Jai Chand died in 1896 and was succeeded by his son Jagjit Chand, who, on account of ill-health, abdicated in 1930 in favour of his son the present Rana Kishen Chand. The ex-Rana Jagjit Chand died on the 19th November 1930.

The area of Kuthar is 20 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 3,800; and the revenue Rs. 37,500.

The State maintains a force of 12 Armed Police.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

13. KUNI HAR.

On the expulsion of the Gurkhas, Thakur Mungree Deo was confirmed in the Chiefship. The obligation to supply 5 begaris imposed by the Sanad (No. LVII) was commuted later to an annual payment of Rs. 180.

Mungree Deo died in 1816 and was succeeded by his son Kishan Singh, who died in 1866. Kishan Singh was succeeded by his son Tegh Singh, who died in 1905. Tegh Singh was succeeded by his minor son the present Thakur Hardeo Singh, who received his powers in 1917.

The area of Kunihar is 80 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 2,000; and the revenue Rs. 18,000.

The State was liable to the operation of the mazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

14. MANGAL.

Mangal was originally a tributary of Bilaspur. On the expulsion of the Gurkhas, however, Rana Bahadur Singh was granted an independent Sanad (No. LVIII). The obligation to supply begaris imposed by this was later commuted to an annual payment of Rs. 72.

Bahadur Singh was succeeded by his son Prithi Singh, who died in 1844. Prithi Singh was succeeded by his son Jodha Singh, who died within a few months of his succession, when the Chiefship passed to his brother Jit Singh. He died in 1892 and was succeeded by his son Tilok Singh who died in 1920 and was succeeded by his son the present Rana Sheo Singh.

The area of Mangal is 12 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 1,200; and the revenue Rs. 1,200.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

15. BEJA.

On the expulsion of the Gurkhas the State was restored to Thakur Man Chand. The obligation to supply 5 begaris imposed by the Sanad (No. LIX) was later commuted to an annual cash payment of Rs. 180. This was reduced by Rs. 56 per annum in 1892, as compensation for a small area of land incorporated within the Kasauli Cantonment.

Man Chand died in 1817 and was succeeded by his son Partab Chand, who died in 1841 and was succeeded by his son Udai Chand, who died in 1905. He was succeeded by his minor son the present Thakur Puran Chand, who was invested with powers in 1921.

The area of Beja is 4 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 940; and the revenue Rs. 11,000.

The State maintains a force of 4 Armed Police.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

16. DARKOTI.

On the expulsion of the Gurkhas Rana Sutes Ram was confirmed in the Chiefship (No. LX). He died in 1854, and the subsequent succession to the gaddi has been as follows, the eldest son in each case succeeding his father:—Paras Ram (1854): Ram Singh (1856): Ram Saran Singh (1883): and the present Rana Raghunath Singh (1918).

The State forests are managed by Government, the net profits being paid to the Rana.

The area of Darkoti is 8 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 610; and the revenue Rs. 2,000.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

17. THAROCH.

Tharoch was formerly a portion of the Sirmur State. At the time of the expulsion of the Gurkhas its Chief was Thakur Karam Singh. He however was old and infirm, and the administration of the State was in the hands of his brother Jhobu. On Karam Singh's death in 1819 the State was granted to Jhobu, the obligation to supply 8 begaris imposed by the Sanad (No. LXI) being later commuted to an annual cash payment of Rs. 288.

Jhobu was guilty of misgovernment and about 1838 was required to abdicate in favour of his son Syam Singh, who in turn was required to abdicate in 1841, and the State was then incorporated in Jubbal. In 1843, however, it was restored to Ranjit Singh, son of Karam Singh, on his agreeing (No. LXII) to abstain from the barbarities practised by Jhobu and Syam Singh. By the Sanad granted to Ranjit Singh (No. LXIII) the annual payment of Rs. 288 was continued.

Ranjit Singh died in 1871 and was succeeded by his grandson Kidar Singh. He died in 1902 and was succeeded by his minor son the present Rana Surat Singh, who was invested with powers in 1908.

In 1929 the personal title of Rana was conferred on Thakur Surat Singh.

The State maintains a force of 6 Armed Police.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

18. SANGRI.

Sangri was originally a tributary of Bashahr, from whom it was taken by Raja Man Singh of Kulu some time during the first half of the eighteenth century. In 1803 it was seized by the Gurkhas, but in 1815 it was restored (No. LXIV) to its Chief Bikram Singh (or Bikarmanjit).

Bikram Singh died in 1816, and was succeeded by his son Ajit Singh, who died childless in 1841. Jagat Singh, brother of Bikram Singh, should then have succeeded; but, as he was then incapable of ruling, the Chiefship passed to his son Ranbir Singh, on whose death in 1844 Jagat Singh was recognised as Chief, though the State was taken under management and remained so until his death in 1876. He was succeeded by his son Hira Singh.

In 1887 the hereditary title of Rai was conferred (No. LXV) on the Chief of Sangri.

Hira Singh died in 1927 and was succeeded by his son the present Rai Raghbir Singh, born in 1909, who at present exercises the powers of a Manager in the State.

The area of Sangri is 16 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 3,200; and the revenue Rs. 7,500.

The State was liable to the operation of the nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

IV.—MAMDOT JAGIR.

The Chief of Mamdot was not brought under British protection with the other cis-Sutlej States in 1809, but remained a feudatory of the Lahore Darbar, to whom he furnished a contingent of one hundred horse. The Mamdot contingent fought on the side of the Sikh army during the Sutlej campaign; but towards the close of the war the Chief, Jamal-ud-din Khan, deserted to the side of the British and subsequently rendered good service, for which he received the title of Nawab, and his contingent was reduced to 50 horse in time of peace and 75 in war. No enquiry seems to have been made regarding the status of the Chief, nor were his relations to the British Government defined.

The Nawab so grievously misgoverned his State and misused his powers that in 1856, after deliberate enquiry, the British Government declared his sovereign powers to be forfeited for ever, reduced the State to the position of a jagir, and removed the Nawab to Lahore, where he continued to receive the surplus revenues of Mamdot after the expenses of its management by British officials had been met.

Jamal-ud-din Khan died in 1863, when the British Government were pleased to revive the fief in the person and family of his brother Jalal-ud-din Khan, who was recognised as Nawab of Mamdot, with powers carefully restricted by Sanad (No. LXVI).

He died in 1875, and was succeeded by his son Nizam-ud-din Khan, who died in 1891, leaving an infant son, Kutab-ud-din Khan, when the Estate again came under Government management. Kutab-ud-din Khan died on the 16th March 1928, leaving no issue: and claims to succession to the Estate and the hereditary title are now under consideration. Meanwhile the Estate continues under the management of the Court of Wards.

V.—MINOR CIS-SUTLEJ CHIEFS.

When the minor cis-Sutlej Chiefs were deprived of their sovereign powers, the police management of their Estates was assumed by the British Government; all customs duties were abolished without compensation, except in the case of the Nawab of Kunjpura and the Mir of Kotaha; and the Chiefs were reduced to the rank of ordinary jagirdars. But, in consideration of these changes, some privileges of person and property were extended to a limited number of the Chiefs for their lives. Cases in which the cause of action had arisen before the 8th June 1849 were declared not to be cognizable by the civil and revenue courts. For criminal offences committed previous to January 1847 the Chiefs were declared amenable only to the Commissioner as Political Agent. For any criminal offence committed since January 1847 the Chiefs were declared exempt from arrest for their lives, and their family houses from police interference, except in capital cases or heinous offences against person and property, for which they were to be responsible only to the Commissioner. For any civil claims presented to the civil or revenue courts, the Chiefs were declared to be exempt from personal arrest, and their dwellings from attachment. The landed Estates of such Chiefs, being liable to lapse to the British Government in default of male heirs, were declared to be only subject to attachment for rents and profits under court decree during the lifetime of incumbents. All Estates shared between the disfranchised and the superior Chiefs were brought under the civil, revenue and criminal jurisdiction of the British Government, but exchanges might be effected of such coparcenary tenures.

In the mutiny of 1857 all these Chiefs rendered services to the British Government: and as a reward Government sanctioned a permanent reduction in twenty-three Estates of Rs. 21,416 a year in the amount payable in commutation for personal service.

More recently thirteen of the more influential Chiefs were appointed jagirdar magistrates, with jurisdiction over their own Estates, and in some instances over contiguous Government villages.

Succession to these Estates is governed by the following rules:—

1st.—That no widow shall succeed.

2nd.—That no descendants in the female line shall inherit.

3rd.—That on failure of a direct male heir, a collateral male heir may succeed, if the common ancestor of the deceased and of the collateral claimant was in possession of the share at or since 1808-9.

Certain of these Estates have, however, since 1900 been made subject to the Punjab Descent of Jagirs Act of that year.

The following is a statement of the principal cis-Sutlej jagirs, showing their annual revenue and the amount of tribute paid to the British Government. Some of them are held by individual Chiefs, others by clans in which the individual shares are sub-divided into very small fractions, and others by retainers and dependents of Chiefs whose families have become extinct:—

VI.—TRANS-SUTLEJ JAGIRDARS.

Sanads (No. LXVII) granting the right of adoption were given to Sardar Shamsheer Singh, Sandhanwalia, and Raja Tej Singh. These, however, were ordinary jagirdars, having ordinary magisterial and revenue powers within their Estates, but no powers of government.

Tej Singh died in 1862 and was succeeded by his adopted son Harbans Singh, who died in 1900 and was succeeded by his son Kirthi Singh. On his death in 1906, the jagir passed to his brother Fateh Singh, who died on the 24th May 1926 and was succeeded by his son Tika Dhian Singh, the present Jagirdar.

Shamsheer Singh died in 1871 and was succeeded by his adopted son Bakshish Singh, who died on the 3rd January 1907 and was succeeded by his son the present Sardar Raghubir Singh.

In 1900 an Act (No. IV Punjab of 1900) applicable to the whole Punjab was passed, with the object of preventing the breaking up of jagirs and encouraging the custom of primogeniture. In pursuance of this policy it was decided in 1901 that, in the case of perpetual jagirs subject to the rule of primogeniture, it should be open to Government, where the history and circumstance of the jagirdar justified this course, to confer a permanent right of adoption in reference to the succession to such jagirs. Forms of Sanads (No. LXVIII) have been approved for such cases, and the privilege has been conferred on the following jagirdars:—

1. Maharaja Jai Chand of Lambagraon, Kangra district.
2. Raja Narindar Chand of Nadaun, Kangra district.
3. Nawab Ibrahim Ali Khan of Kunjpura, Karnal district.
4. Malik Muhammad Amin Khan of Shamsabad, Attock district.
5. Sardar Gulzar Singh Kalianwala of Kala, Amritsar district.
6. Sardar Ram Singh Shahid of Shahzadpur, Ambala district.
7. Sardar Harcharn Singh of Kharan, Ambala district.
8. Sardar Bahadur Sardar Jawahir Singh of Mustafabad, Ambala district.

TREATY of FRIENDSHIP and AMITY between the HONORABLE EAST INDIA COMPANY and the SIRDARS RUNJEET SING and FUTTEH SING,—1806.

Sirdar Runjeet Sing and Sirdar Futteh Sing have consented to the following Articles of Agreement concluded by Lieutenant-Colonel John Malcolm, under the special authority of the Right Honourable Lord Lake, himself duly authorized by the Honourable Sir George Hilario Barlow, Baronet, Governor-General, and Sirdar Futteh Sing, as principal on the part of himself and plenipotentiary on the part of Runjeet Sing.

ARTICLE 1.

Sirdar Runjeet Sing and Sirdar Futteh Sing Aloowalla hereby agree that they will cause Jeswunt Rao Holkar to remove with his army to the distance of 30 coss from Amritsur immediately, and will never hereafter hold any further connection with him, or aid or assist him with troops, or in any other manner whatever; and they further agree that they will not in any way molest such of Jeswunt Rao Holkar's followers or troops as are desirous of returning to their homes in the Deccan, but, on the contrary, will render them every assistance in their power for carrying such intention into execution.

ARTICLE 2.

The British Government hereby agrees that in case a pacification should not be effected between that Government and Jeswunt Rao Holkar, the British Army shall move from its present encampment on the banks of the River Beah as soon as Jeswunt Rao Holkar aforesaid shall have marched with his army to the distance of 30 coss from Amritsur; and that in any Treaty which may hereafter be concluded between the British Government and Jeswunt Rao Holkar, it shall be stipulated that, immediately after the conclusion of the said Treaty, Holkar shall evacuate the territories of the Sikhs and march towards his own, and that he shall in no way whatever injure or destroy such parts of the Sikh country as may lie in his route. The British Government further agrees that as long as the said Chieftains Runjeet Sing and Futteh Sing abstain from holding any friendly connection with the enemies of that Government, or from committing any act of hostility on their own parts against the said Government, the British Armies shall never enter the territories of the said Chieftains, nor will the British Government form any plans for the seizure or sequestration of their possessions or property.

TREATY with the RAJAH OF LAHORE,—1809.

Whereas certain differences which had arisen between the British Government and the Rajah of Lahore have been happily and amicably adjusted, and both parties being anxious to maintain the relations of perfect amity and concord, the following Articles of Treaty, which shall be binding on the heirs and successors of the two parties, have been concluded by Rajah Runjeet Sing on his own part, and by the agency of Charles Theophilus Metcalfe, Esquire, on the part of the British Government.

ARTICLE 1.

Perpetual friendship shall subsist between the British Government and the State of Lahore. The latter shall be considered, with respect to the former, to be on the footing of the most favoured powers; and the British Government will have no concern with the territories and subjects of the Rajah to the northward of the River Sutlej.

ARTICLE 2.

The Rajah will never maintain in the territory occupied by him and his dependants, on the left bank of the River Sutlej, more troops than are necessary for the internal duties of that territory, nor commit or suffer any encroachments on the possessions or rights of the Chiefs in its vicinity.

ARTICLE 3.

In the event of a violation of any of the preceding Articles, or of a departure from the rules of friendship on the part of either State, this Treaty shall be considered to be null and void.

ARTICLE 4.

This Treaty consisting of four Articles, having been settled and concluded at Amritsur, on the 25th day of April 1809, Mr. Charles Theophilus Metcalfe has delivered to the Rajah of Lahore a copy of the same, in English and Persian, under his seal and signature and the said Rajah has delivered another copy of the same, under his seal and signature; and Mr. Charles Theophilus Metcalfe engages to procure, within the space of two months, a copy of the same duly ratified by the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council, on the receipt of which by the Rajah, the present Treaty shall be deemed complete and binding on both parties, and the copy of it now delivered to the Rajah shall be returned.

TRANSLATION of the PAPER delivered by the RIGHT HONORABLE the GOVERNOR-GENERAL to MAHARAJAH RUNJEET SING, on the evening of the 31st October 1831.

In these days of auspicious commencement and happy close, while the sound of rejoicing has gladdened the firmament, a meeting has been arranged at a fortunate moment and under favourable circumstances between the heads of the two exalted Governments, on the terms of reciprocal friendship, and in all cordiality, with reference to the relations established of old between the two States, and many interviews and conversations have been held with mirth and joy and mutual satisfaction; the rose buds of our hearts on both sides having expanded, and the garden of our sensations being in blossom from the exceeding joy and good feeling that prevailed. Of a truth the growing friendship and cordiality which subsisted between the two Durbars of exalted dignity have been watered and fostered by the hand of Providence, and by the showers of the Divine grace, so as to have reached a maturity and strength for which God be praised. Nevertheless, Your Highness may derive further satisfaction from the assurance that, agreeably to the relations of friendship which have been thus established, in the same manner, from generation to generation, as settled by reciprocal engagements, shall the growth of this friendship continue and increase, and the materials of the existing good understanding be sought and extended at all times and at all places. There shall never at any time, or on any account whatsoever, be any difference or estrangement, nor shall such feelings in any way find entrance. But on the contrary, the example of the unanimity and long standing friendship shall, like the sun, shine glorious in history, and the reputation of it shall become a bye-word amongst the princes and rulers of the earth and be a subject of conversation to all ranks of men, in all countries, and at all times, so that, observing the fruits of this long standing friendship, the well-wishers of the two Governments shall rejoice, and their enemies and those who envy their good fortune shall be downcast and repentant.

Hereafter all the gentlemen and authorities of the British Government will study to maintain in perpetuity the relations which exist, as established by mutual engagements of long standing, so as to raise and display to the world the standards of the mutual good faith, fidelity, and cordiality of the two Governments.

These few lines have been committed to writing, as a testimony of friendship, at Rooper, and have been signed and sealed by me, to be delivered in person at this last interview, on the 31st October 1831, corresponding with the 24th of Jumadee-oos-Sanee, 1247 Hegiræ, to His Highness Maharajah Runjeet Sing Behauder.

No. IV.

TREATY concluded between the EAST INDIA COMPANY and HIS HIGHNESS MAHA-RAJAH RUNJEET SING, the Ruler of the PUNJAB,—1832.

By the grace of God, the relations of firm alliance and indissoluble ties of friendship existing between the Honorable the East India Company and His Highness the Maha Rajah Runjeet Sing, founded on the auspicious Treaty formerly concluded by Sir C. T. Metcalfe, Baronet, and since confirmed in the written pledge of sincere amity presented by the Right Honorable Lord W. C. Bentinck, G.C.B. and G.C.H., Governor-General of British India, at the meeting at Rooper, are like the sun, clear and manifest to the whole world, and will continue unimpaired and increasing in strength from generation to generation. By virtue of these firmly established bonds of friendship, since the opening of the navigation of the Rivers Indus Proper (i.e., Indus below the confluence of the Punjnad) and Sutlej, a measure deemed expedient by both States, with a view to promote the general interests of commerce, has lately been effected through the agency of Captain C. M. Wade, Political Agent at Loodianah, deputed by the Right Honorable the Governor-General for that purpose, the following Articles, explanatory of the conditions by which the said navigation is to be regulated, as concerns the nomination of Officers, the mode of collecting the duties, and the protection of the trade by that route, have been framed in order that the Officers of the two States employed in their execution may act accordingly.

ARTICLE 1.

The provision of the existing Treaty relative to the right bank of the River Sutlej and all its stipulations, together with the contents of the friendly pledge already mentioned, shall remain binding, and a strict regard to preserve the relations of friendship between the two States be the ruling principles of action. In accordance with that Treaty the Honorable Company has not nor will have any concern with the right bank of the River Sutlej.

ARTICLE 2.

The tariff which is to be established for the line of navigation in question is intended to apply exclusively to the passage of merchandize by that route, and not to interfere with the transit duties levied on goods proceeding from one bank of the river to the other, nor with the places fixed for their collection. They are to remain as heretofore.

ARTICLE 3.

Merchants frequenting the said route, while within the limits of the Maha Rajah's Government, are required to show a due regard to his authority as is done by merchants generally, and not to commit any acts offensive to the civil and religious institutions of the Sikhs.

ARTICLE 4.

Any one purposing to go by the said route, will intimate his intention to the Agent of either State, and apply for a passport, agreeably to a form to be laid down; having obtained which he may proceed on his journey. The merchants coming from Amritsur and other parts on the right bank of the River Sutlej, are to intimate their intentions to the Agent of the Maha Rajah at Herreeke, or other appointed places, and obtain a passport through him; and merchants coming from Hindoostan or other parts on the left bank of the River Sutlej will intimate their intentions to the Honourable Company's Agent, and obtain a passport through him. As Foreigners and Hindoostarees and Sirdars of the protected Sikh States and elsewhere are not in the habit of crossing the Sutlej without a passport from the Maha Rajah's officers, it is expected that such persons will hereafter also conform to the same rule, and not cross without the usual passports.

ARTICLE 5.

A tariff shall be established, exhibiting the rate of duties leviable on each description of merchandize, which, after having been approved by both Governments, is to be the standard by which the Superintendents and Collectors of Customs are to be guided.

ARTICLE 6.

Merchants are invited to adopt the new route with perfect confidence; no one shall be suffered to molest them or unnecessarily to impede their progress; care being taken that they are only detained for the collection of the duties in the manner stipulated at the established stations.

ARTICLE 7.

The officers who are to be entrusted with the examination of the goods and collection of the duties on the part of Maha Rajah Runjeet Sing, shall be stationed at Mithinkot and Herreeke. At no other places, but those two, shall boats in transit on the river be liable to examination or stoppage.

ARTICLE 8.

When the persons in charge of boats stop of their own accord to take in or give out cargo, the goods will be liable to the local transit duty of the Maha Rajah's Government previously to their being embarked, and subsequently to their being landed, as provided in Article 2.

ARTICLE 9.

The Superintendent stationed at Mithinkot having examined the cargo will levy the established duty, and grant a passport, with a written account of the cargo and freight. On the arrival of the boat at Herreeke, the Superintendent of that station will compare the passport with the cargo, and whatever goods are found in excess will be liable to the payment of the established duty; while the rest, having already paid duty at Mithinkot, will pass on free.

ARTICLE 10.

The same rule will be observed in respect to merchandize conveyed from Herreeke by way of the rivers towards Sindh.

ARTICLE 11.

Whatever may be fixed as the share of duties on the right bank of the River Sutlej in right of the Maha Rajah's own dominions, and of those in allegiance to him, the Maha Rajah's officers will collect it at the places appointed.

ARTICLE 12.

With regard to the security and safety of merchants who may adopt this route, the Maha Rajah's officers shall afford them every protection in their power, and merchants on halting for the night on either bank of the Sutlej, are required, with reference to the Treaty of friendship which exists between the two States, to give notice and to show their passports to the thanadar or officers in authority at the place, and request protection for themselves. If, notwithstanding this precaution, loss should at any time occur, a strict inquiry will be made, and reclamation sought from those who are blameable.

ARTICLE 13.

The Articles of the present Treaty for opening the navigation of the rivers above mentioned, having, agreeably to subsisting relations, been approved by the Right Honorable the Governor-General, shall be carried into execution accordingly.

SUPPLEMENTARY TREATY between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and MAHA RAJAH RUNJEET SINGH, for establishing a toll on the Indus, dated 29th November 1834.

In conformity with the subsisting relations of friendship as established and confirmed by former Treaties between the Honorable the East India Company and His Highness Maha Rajah Runjeet Singh, and whereas in the 5th Article of the Treaty concluded at Lahore, on the 26th day of December 1832, it was stipulated that a moderate scale of duties should be fixed by the two Governments in concert, to be levied on all merchandize in transit up and down the Rivers Indus and Sutlej, the said Governments being now of opinion that, owing to the inexperience of the people of these countries in such matters, the mode of levying duties then proposed (viz., on the value and quantity of goods) could not fail to give rise to mutual misunderstandings and reclamations, have, with a view to prevent these results, determined to substitute a toll which shall be levied on all boats with whatever merchandize laden; the following Articles have therefore been adopted as supplementary to the former treaty, and in conformity with them, each Government engages that the toll shall be levied, and its amount neither be increased nor diminished, except by mutual consent.

ARTICLE 1.

A toll of 570 Rupees shall be levied on all boats laden with merchandize in transit on the Rivers Indus and Sutlej, between the sea and Rooper, without reference to their size or to the weight or value of their cargo; the above toll to be divided among the different States in proportion to the extent of territory which they possess on the banks of these rivers.

ARTICLE 2.

The portion of the above toll appertaining to the Lahore Chief, in right of his territory on both banks of these rivers, as determined in the sub-joined scale, shall be levied opposite to Mithinkot on boats coming from the sea towards Rooper and in the vicinity of Herree-ke-Pettin on boats going from Rooper towards the sea, and at no other place.

Rupees 155-4-0.

In order to facilitate the realization of the toll due to the different States, as well as for the speedy and satisfactory adjustment of any disputes which may arise connected with the safety of the navigation and the welfare of the trade by the new route, a British officer will reside opposite to Mithinkot—and a native agent on the part of the British Government opposite to Herree-ke-Pettin. These officers will be subject to the orders of the British Agent at Loodcanah, and the Agents who may be appointed to reside at those places on the part of the other States concerned in the navigation, viz., Bhawulpore and Sindh, together with those of Lahore, will co-operate with them in the execution of their duties.

ARTICLE 4.

In order to guard against imposition on the part of merchants in making false complaints of being plundered of property which formed no part of their cargoes, they are required, when taking out their passport, to produce an invoice of their cargo, which being duly authenticated, a copy of it will be annexed to their passports; and wherever their boats may be brought to for the night, they are required to give immediate notice to the thanadars or officers of the place, and to request protection for themselves; at the same time showing the passports they may have received at Mithinkot or Herree-ke, as the case may be.

ARTICLE 5.

Such parts of the 5th, 7th, 9th, and 10th Articles of the Treaty of the 26th of December 1832, as have reference to the fixing a duty on the value and quantity of merchandize, and to the mode of its collection, are hereby rescinded, and the foregoing Articles substituted in their place, agreeably to which and the conditions of the preamble the toll will be levied.

TREATY between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT, MAHARAJAH RUNJEET SINGH and SHAH SHOOJAH-ool-MOOLK,—1838.

Whereas a Treaty was formerly concluded between Maharajah Runjeet Singh and Shah Shoojah-ool-Moolk, consisting of fourteen Articles, exclusive of the preamble and the conclusion, and whereas the execution of the provisions of the said Treaty was suspended for certain reasons, and whereas at this time Mr. W. H. Macnaghten having been deputed by the Right Honourable George, Lord Auckland, G.C.B., Governor-General of India, to the presence of Maharajah Runjeet Singh, and vested with full powers to form a Treaty in a manner consistent with the friendly engagements subsisting between the two States, the Treaty aforesaid is revived and concluded with certain modifications and four new Articles have been added thereto, with the approbation of, and in concert with, the British Government, the provisions whereof, as contained in the following eighteen Articles, will be duly and faithfully observed.

ARTICLE 1ST.

Shah Shoojah-ool-Moolk disclaims all title on the part of himself, his heirs, successors and all the Suddozais to all the territories lying on either bank of the River Indus, that may be possessed by the Maharajah, viz., Cashmere, including its limits E. W. N. S., together with the Fort of Attock, Church, Hezara, Khebel, Amb, with its dependencies on the left bank of the aforesaid river, and on the right bank Peshawur, with the Eusufzai Territory, Kheteks, Hisht Nagar, Meehnee Kohat, Hungoo, and all places dependent in Peshawur, as far as the Khyber Pass, Benno, the Viziri Territory, Dowr Tank, Gorang, Kalabagh and Kushalgher, with their dependent districts, Derah Ismail Khan and its dependency, together with Derah Ghazee Khan, Kot Mithan, Omarkote and their dependent territory, Singher, Heren, Dajel, Hajeepore, Rajenpore, and the three Ketches, as well as Mankera with its district, and the province of Multan situated on the left bank. These countries and places are considered to be the property and to form the estate of the Maharajah—the Shah neither has nor will have any concern with them. They belong to the Maharajah and his posterity from generation to generation.

ARTICLE 2ND.

The people of the country on the other side of Khyber will not be suffered to commit robberies or aggressions, or any disturbances on this side. If any defaulter of either State, who has embezzled the revenue, take refuge in the territory of the other, each party engages to surrender him, and no person shall obstruct the passage of the stream which issues out of the Khyber defile, and supplies the Fort of Futtehgurh with water, according to ancient usage.

ARTICLE 3RD.

As agreeably to the Treaty established between the British Government and the Maharajah, no one can cross from the left to the right bank of the Sutlej without a passport from the Maharajah, the same rule shall be observed regarding the passage of the Indus, whose waters join the Sutlej, and no one shall be allowed to cross the Indus without the Maharajah's permission.

ARTICLE 4TH.

Regarding Shikarpore and the territory of Sindé on the right bank of the Indus, the Shah will agree to abide by whatever may be settled as right and proper in conformity with the happy relations of friendship subsisting between the British Government and the Maharajah through Captain Wade.

ARTICLE 5TH.

When the Shah shall have established his authority in Cabool and Candahar, he will annually send the Maharajah the following articles, viz., 55 high-bred horses of approved colour and pleasant paces, 11 Persian scimitars, 7 Persian poignards, 25 good mules, fruits of various kinds, both dry and fresh, and sirdas or musk melons of a sweet and delicate flavour (to be sent throughout the year), by the way of Cabool River to Peshawur, grapes, pomegranates, apples, quinces, almonds, raisins, pistahs or chesnuts, an abundant supply of each, as well as pieces of satin of every colour, choghas of fur, kinkhabs wrought with gold and silver, and Persian carpets, altogether to the number of 101 pieces. All these articles the Shah will continue to send every year to the Maharajah.

ARTICLE 6TH.

Each party shall address the other on terms of equality.

ARTICLE 7TH.

Merchants of Afghanistan, who will be desirous of trading to Lahore, Amritsur, or any other parts of the Maharajah's possessions, shall not be stopped or molested on their way; on the contrary, strict orders shall be issued to facilitate their intercourse, and the Maharajah engages to observe the same line of conduct on his part, in respect to traders who may wish to proceed to Afghanistan.

ARTICLE 8TH.

The Maharajah will yearly send to the Shah the following articles in the way of friendship, 55 pieces of shawls, 25 pieces of muslin, 11 dopattahs, 5 pieces of kinkhab, 5 scarves, 5 turbans, 55 loads of Bareh rice (peculiar to Peshawur).

ARTICLE 9TH.

Any of the Maharajah's officers who may be deputed to Afghanistan to purchase horses or on any other business, as well as those who may be sent by the Shah into the Punjab for the purpose of purchasing piece-goods or shawls etc to the amount of Rs. 11,000, will be treated by both sides with due attention and every facility will be afforded to them in the execution of these commissions.

ARTICLE 10TH.

Whenever the armies of the two States may happen to be assembled at the same place, on no account shall the slaughter of kine be permitted to take place.

ARTICLE 11TH.

In the event of the Shah taking an auxiliary force from the Maharajah, whatever booty may be acquired from the Barakzais, in jewels, horses, arms, great and small, shall be equally divided between the two contracting parties. If the Shah should succeed in obtaining possession of their property without the assistance of the Maharajah's troops, the Shah agrees to send a portion of it by his own agent to the Maharajah in the way of friendship.

ARTICLE 12TH.

An exchange of missions charged with letters and presents shall constantly take place between the two parties.

ARTICLE 13TH.

Should the Maharajah require the aid of any of the Shah's troops "in furtherance of the objects contemplated by this Treaty," the Shah engages to send a force commanded by one of his principal officers; in like manner the Maharajah will furnish the Shah, when required, with an auxiliary force composed of Mahomedans, and commanded by one of his principal officers as far as Cabool, in furtherance of the objects contemplated by this Treaty. When the Maharajah may go to Peshawur, the Shah will depute a Shahzadah to visit him, on which occasions the Maharajah will receive and dismiss him with the honour and consideration due to his rank and dignity.

ARTICLE 14TH.

The friends and enemies of each of the three high powers, that is to say, the British and Sikh Governments and Shah Shoojah-ool-Moolk, shall be the friends and enemies of all.

ARTICLE 15TH.

Shah Shoojah-ool-Moolk engages, after the attainment of his object, to pay without fail to the Maharajah the sum of two lakhs of Rupees of the Nanuk-shahie or Kuldar currency, calculating from the date on which the Sikh troops may be despatched for the purpose of reinstating His Majesty in Cabool in consideration of the Maharajah's stationing a force of not less than 5,000 men, Cavalry and Infantry, of the Mahomedan persuasion, within the limits of the Peshawur Territory, for the support of the Shah, and to be sent to the aid of His Majesty, whenever the British Government, in concert and counsel with the Maharajah, shall deem their aid necessary; and when any matter of great importance may arise to the westward, such measures will be adopted with regard to it as may seem expedient and proper at the time to the British and Sikh Governments. In the event of the Maharajah requiring the aid of any of the Shah's troops, a deduction will be made from the Subsidy proportioned to the period for which such aid may be afforded, and the British Government holds itself responsible for the punctual payment of the above sum annually to the Maharajah so long as the provisions of this Treaty are duly observed.

ARTICLE 16TH.

Shah Shoojah-ool-Moolk agrees to relinquish for himself, his heirs and successors all claims of supremacy and arrears of tribute over the country now held by the Ameers of Sind (and which will continue to belong to the Ameers and successors in perpetuity), on condition of the payment to him by the Ameers of such a sum as may be determined under the mediation of the British Government, fifteen lakhs of such payment being made over by him to Maharajah Runjeet Singh. On these payments being completed, Article 4 of the Treaty of the 12th of March 1833 will be considered cancelled, and the customary interchange of letters and suitable presents between the Maharajah and the Ameers of Sind shall be maintained as heretofore.

ARTICLE 17TH.

When Shah Shoojah-ool-Moolk shall have succeeded in establishing his authority in Afghanistan, he shall not attack or molest his nephew, the ruler of Herat in the possession of the territories now subject to his Government.

ARTICLE 18TH.

Shah Shoojah-ool-Moolk binds himself, his heirs and successors to refrain from entering into negotiations with any Foreign State, without the knowledge and consent of the British and Sikh Governments, and to oppose any power having the design to invade the British or Sikh territories by force of arms to the utmost of his ability.

The three powers, parties to this Treaty, viz., the British Government, Maharajah Runjeet Singh, and Shah Shoojah-ool-Moolk, cordially agree to the foregoing articles. There shall be no deviation from them, and in that case the present Treaty shall be considered binding for ever, and this Treaty shall come into operation from and after the date on which the seals and signatures of the three contracting parties shall have been affixed thereto.

TREATY with MAHA RAJAH KHURRUK SINGH,—1840.

Formerly a Treaty was executed by the Right Honorable Lord William Cavendish Bentinck, the Governor-General of India, on the 14th of Poos, Sumbut 1889 (corresponding with A.D. 1832), through Colonel (then Captain) Wade, concerning the navigation of the Sutlej and the Scinde rivers in the Khalsa territory, in concurrence with the wishes of both the friendly and allied Governments. Another Treaty on the subject was subsequently executed through the same officer, in Sumbut 1891 (corresponding with A.D. 1834), fixing a duty on every mercantile boat, independent of the quantity of its freight, and the nature of its merchandize. A third Treaty was executed on this subject, in accordance with the wishes of both Governments, on the arrival of Mr. Clerk, Agent to the Governor-General, at the Durbar, in May 1839, adjusting the rate of duties on merchandize, according to quantity and kind; and although at the end of that document so much was specified as that the two high powers should after this never propose a rate below (less than) that specified, yet notwithstanding after this, when that gentleman came to the Khalsa Durbar at Amritsur, in Jeth, Sumbut 1897 (corresponding with May 1840), he explained the difficulties and inconvenience which seemed to result to trade under the system proposed last year, in consequence of the obstruction to boats for the purpose of search and the ignorance of traders, and the difficulty of adjusting duties according to the different kinds of articles freighted in the boats, and proposed to revise that system by fixing a scale of duties proportionate to the measurement of boats, and not on the kind of commodities, if this arrangement should be approved of by both Governments. Having reported to his Government the circumstances of the case, he now drew up a Schedule of the rate of duties on the mercantile boats navigating the Rivers Scinde and Sutlej, and forwarded it for the consideration of this friendly Durbar. The Khalsa Government, therefore, with a due regard to the established alliance, having added a few sentences in accordance with the late Treaties and agreeably to what is already well understood, has signed and sealed the Schedule, and it shall never be at all liable to any contradiction, difference, change or alteration, without the concurrence and concert of both Governments, in consideration of mutual advantages, upon condition it does not interfere with the established custom duties at Amritsur, Lahore, and other inland places, or the other rivers in the Khalsa territory.

ARTICLE 1.

Grain, wood, and limestone will be free from duty.

ARTICLE 2.

With exception to the above, every commodity to pay duty according to the measurement of the boat.

ARTICLE 3.

	Rs.
Duty on a boat not exceeding two hundred and fifty maunds of freight, proceeding from the foot of the hills, Roopur or Loodiana, to Mithenkote or Rojan, or from Rojan or Mithenkote to the foot of the hills, Roopur or Loodiana will be	50

ARTICLE 4.

Boats to be classed 1, 2, or 3, and the same to be written on the boat, and every boat to be registered.

These duties on merchandize frequenting the Sutlej and Scinde, are not to interfere with the duties on the banks of other rivers, or with the established inland custom houses, throughout the Khalsa Territory, which will remain on their usual footing.

 No. IX.

—1845.

The British Government has ever been on terms of friendship with that of the Punjab.

In the year 1809, a Treaty of amity and concord was concluded between the British Government and the late Maharajah Runjeet Singh, the conditions of which have always been faithfully observed by the British Government, and were scrupulously fulfilled by the late Maharajah.

The same friendly relations have been maintained with the successors of Maharajah Runjeet Singh by the British Government up to the present time.

Since the death of the late Maharajah Shere Singh, the disorganised state of the Lahore Government has made it incumbent on the Governor-General in Council to adopt precautionary measures for the protection of the British Frontier. The nature of these measures and the cause of their adoption were at the time fully explained to the Lahore Durbar.

Notwithstanding the disorganised state of the Lahore Government during the last two years and many most unfriendly proceedings on the part of the Durbar, the Governor-General in Council has continued to evince his desire to maintain the relations of amity and concord which had so long existed between the two States for the mutual interests and happiness of both. He has shown on every occasion the utmost forbearance from consideration to the helpless state of the infant Maharajah Duleep Singh, whom the British Government had recognised as the successor to the late Maharajah Shere Singh.

The Governor-General in Council sincerely desired to see a strong Seikh Government re-established in the Punjab, able to control its army, and to protect its subjects. He had not, up to the present moment, abandoned the hope of seeing that important object effected by the patriotic efforts of the Chiefs and people of that country.

The Seikh Army recently marched from Lahore towards the British Frontier, as it was alleged by the orders of the Durbar, for the purpose of invading the British Territory.

The Governor-General's Agent, by direction of the Governor-General, demanded an explanation of this movement—and no reply being returned within a reasonable time, the demand was repeated. The Governor-General unwilling to believe in the hostile intentions of the Seikh Government, to which no provocation had been given, refrained from taking any measures which might have a tendency to embarrass the Government of the Maharajah or to induce collision between the two States.

When no reply was given to the repeated demand for explanation, and while active military preparations were continued at Lahore, the Governor-General considered it necessary to order the advance of troops towards the Frontier to reinforce the Frontier posts.

The Seikh Army has now, without a shadow of provocation, invaded the British Territories.

The Governor-General must therefore take measures for effectually protecting the British Provinces, for vindicating the authority of the British Government, and for punishing the violators of treaties and the disturbers of the public peace.

The Governor-General hereby declares the possessions of Maharajah Duleep Singh on the left or British bank of the Sutlej confiscated and annexed to the British Territories.

The Governor-General will respect the existing rights of all jaghiredars zemindars, and tenants in the said possessions, who, by the course they now pursue, evince their fidelity to the British Government.

The Governor-General hereby calls upon all the Chiefs and Sirdars in the protected territories to co-operate cordially with the British Government for the punishment of the common enemy, and for the maintenance of order in these States. Those of the Chiefs who show alacrity and fidelity in the discharge of this duty, which they owe to the protecting power, will find their interests promoted thereby, and those who take a contrary course will be treated as enemies to the British Government, and will be punished accordingly.

The inhabitants of all the territories on the left bank of the Sutlej are hereby directed to abide peaceably in their respective villages, where they will receive efficient protection by the British Government. All parties of men found in armed bands, who can give no satisfactory account of their proceedings, will be treated as disturbers of the public peace.

All subjects of the British Government and those who possess estates on both sides the River Sutlej, who by their faithful adherence to the British Government, may be liable to sustain loss, shall be indemnified and secured in all their just rights and privileges.

On the other hand, all subjects of the British Government, who shall continue in the service of the Lahore State, and who disobey this Proclamation by not immediately returning to their allegiance, will be liable to have their property on this side the Sutlej confiscated, and declared to be aliens and enemies of the British Government.

By order of the Right Honorable the Governor-General of India.

F. CURRIE,

Secretary to the Govt. of India, with the Governor-General

CAMP LUSHKURREE KHAN KE SERAI,

The 13th December 1845.

No. X.

TREATY between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the STATE OF LAHORE,—1846.

Whereas the treaty of amity and concord, which was concluded between the British Government and the late Maharajah Runjeet Sing, the Ruler of Lahore, in 1809, was broken by the unprovoked aggression, on the British Provinces, of the Sikh Army, in December last; and Whereas, on that occasion, by the Proclamation, dated 13th December, the territories then in the occupation of the Maharajah of Lahore, on the left or British bank of the River Sutlej, were confiscated and annexed to the British Provinces; and since that time hostile operations have been prosecuted by the two Governments, the one against the other, which have resulted in the occupation of Lahore by the British troops; and Whereas it has been determined that, upon certain conditions, peace shall be re-established between the two Governments, the following treaty of peace between the Honorable English East India Company and Maharajah Dhuleep Sing Bahadoor, and his children, heirs and successors, has been concluded on the part of the Honorable Company by Frederick Currie, Esquire, and Brevet-Major Henry Montgomery Lawrence, by virtue of full powers to that effect vested in them by the Right Hon'ble Sir Henry Hardinge, G.C.B., one of Her Britannic Majesty's Most Honorable Privy Council, Governor-General, appointed by the Honorable Company to direct and control all their affairs in the East Indies, and on the part of His Highness Maharajah Dhuleep Sing by Bhaee Ram Sing, Rajah Lal Sing, Sirdar Tej Sing, Sirdar Chuttur Sing Attareewalla, Sirdar Runjore Sing Majeethia, Dewan Deena Nath and Fakeer Noorood-deen, vested with full powers and authority on the part of His Highness.

ARTICLE 1.

There shall be perpetual peace and friendship between the British Government on the one part, and Maharajah Dhuleep Sing, his heirs and successors on the other.

ARTICLE 2.

The Maharajah of Lahore renounces, for himself, his heirs and successors, all claim to, or connection with, the territories lying to the south of the River Sutlej, and engages never to have any concern with those territories or the inhabitants thereof.

ARTICLE 3.

The Maharajah cedes to the Honorable Company, in perpetual sovereignty, all his forts, territories and rights in the Doab or country, hill and plain, situated between the Rivers Beas and Sutlej.

ARTICLE 4.

The British Government having demanded from the Lahore State, as indemnification for the expenses of the war, in addition to the cession of territory described in Article 3, payment of one and half crore of Rupees, and the Lahore Government, being unable to pay the whole of this sum at this time, or to give security satisfactory to the British Government for its eventual payment, the Maharajah cedes to the Honorable Company, in perpetual sovereignty, as equivalent for one crore of Rupees, all his forts, territories, rights and interests in the hill countries, which are situated between the Rivers Beas and Indus, including the Provinces of Cashmere and Hazarah.

ARTICLE 5.

The Maharajah will pay to the British Government the sum of 50 lakhs of Rupees on or before the ratification of this Treaty.

ARTICLE 6.

The Maharajah engages to disband the mutinous troops of the Lahore Army taking from them their arms—and His Highness agrees to re-organize the Regular or Aeen Regiments of Infantry, upon the system, and according to the Regulations as to pay and allowances, observed in the time of the late Maharajah Runjeet Sing. The Maharajah further engages to pay up all arrears to the soldiers that are discharged, under the provisions of this Article.

ARTICLE 7.

The Regular Army of the Lahore State shall henceforth be limited to 25 Battalions of Infantry, consisting of 800 bayonets each—with twelve thousand cavalry—this number at no time to be exceeded without the concurrence of the British Government. Should it be necessary at any time—for any special cause—that this force should be increased, the cause shall be fully explained to the British Government, and when the special necessity shall have passed, the regular troops shall be again reduced to the standard specified in the former clause of this Article.

ARTICLE 8.

The Maharajah will surrender to the British Government all the guns—thirty-six in number—which have been pointed against the British Troops—and which, having been placed on the right bank of the River Sutlej, were not captured at the Battle of Subraon.

ARTICLE 9.

The control of the Rivers Beas and Sutlej, with the continuations of the latter river, commonly called the Gurrah and the Punjnud, to the confluence of the Indus at Mithunkote—and the control of the Indus from Mithunkote to the borders of Beloochistan, shall, in respect to tolls and ferries, rest with the British Government. The provisions of this Article shall not interfere with the passage of boats belonging to the Lahore Government on the said rivers, for the purposes of traffic or the conveyance of passengers up and down their course. Regarding the ferries between the two countries respectively, at the several ghats of the said rivers, it is agreed that the British Government, after defraying all the expenses of management and establishments, shall account to the Lahore Government for one-half of the net profits of the ferry collections. The provisions of this Article have no reference to the ferries on that part of the River Sutlej which forms the boundary of Bhawalpore and Lahore respectively.

ARTICLE 10.

If the British Government should, at any time, desire to pass troops through the territories of His Highness the Maharajah, for the protection of the British Territories, or those of their Allies, the British Troops shall, on such special occasion, due notice being given, be allowed to pass through the Lahore Territories. In such case the Officers of the Lahore State will afford facilities in providing supplies and boats for the passage of rivers, and the British Government will pay the full price of all such provisions and boats, and will make fair compensation for all private property that may be endamaged. The British Government will, moreover, observe all due consideration to the religious feelings of the inhabitants of those tracts through which the army may pass.

ARTICLE 11.

The Maharajah engages never to take or to retain in his service any British subject—nor the subject of any European or American State—without the consent of the British Government.

ARTICLE 12.

In consideration of the services rendered by Rajah Golab Sing, of Jummoo, to the Lahore State, towards procuring the restoration of the relations of amity between the Lahore and British Governments the Maharajah hereby agrees to recognize the Independent Sovereignty of Rajah Golab Sing, in such territories and districts in the hills as may be made over to the said Rajah Golab Sing, by separate Agreement between himself and the British Government, with the dependencies thereof, which may have been in the Rajah's possession since the time of the late Maharajah Khurruck Sing, and the British Government, in consideration of the good conduct of Rajah Golab Sing, also agrees to recognize his independence in such territories, and to admit him to the privileges of a separate Treaty with the British Government.

ARTICLE 13.

In the event of any dispute or difference arising between the Lahore State and Rajah Golab Sing the same shall be referred to the arbitration of the British Government, and by its decision the Maharajah engages to abide.

ARTICLE 14.

The limits of the Lahore Territories shall not be, at any time, changed without the concurrence of the British Government.

ARTICLE 15.

The British Government will not exercise any interference in the internal administration of the Lahore State—but in all cases or questions which may be referred to the British Government, the Governor-General will give the aid of his advice and good offices for the furtherance of the interests of the Lahore Government.

ARTICLE 16.

The subjects of either State shall, on visiting the territories of the other, be on the footing of the subjects of the most favoured nation.

This Treaty, consisting of sixteen articles, has been this day settled by Frederick Currie, Esquire, and Brevet-Major Henry Montgomery Lawrence acting under the directions of the Right Hon'ble Sir Henry Hardinge, G.C.B., Governor-General, on the part of the British Government, and by Bhaee Ram Sing, Rajah Lal Sing, Sirdar Tej Sing, Sirdar Chuttur Sing Attareewalla, Sirdar Runjore Sing Majeethia, Dewan Deena Nath, and Fuqueer Noorooddeen, on the part of the Maharajah Dhuleep Sing, and the said Treaty has been this day ratified by the

Whereas all the hill country has come into the possession of the British Government; and whereas Rajah Ram Sing has, during the present war, performed worthily the part of an ally of the British Government, joining the British troops in person with his forces, and furnishing begarees to level roads and to perform other work, wherefore, by order of the Right Honorable the Governor-General, this Sunnud is granted to the said Rajah, conferring on him and his heirs for ever Hindoor, etc., seven Pergunnahs; and Buhtowlee with twelve villages, and Munthoolee with four villages (excepting, however, the half share of Fyzoollah-poorah, in Pergunnah Khas Hindoor, and the Fort of Malown, with six villages of Mouzah Malown Chakiran, which are on the point [tegh] of the Hill of Malown, and Mouzas Malown-badhoo, Chulan doocaree-wallah, etc., the jumma of the whole seven villages being 118 rupees and 123½ maunds of grain), together with all the rights and appurtenances belonging thereto, and the sayer collections, and right of distributing justice to the ryots ; without exaction of begarees, or of service, or of nazzuranah, all these dues being remitted. Whatever number of begarees the Rajah shall furnish in case of war, shall be paid for by the British Government at the rate of 4 rupees per man. The Rajah, however, will not receive any pay for himself and his troops in joining the British Forces. The Rajah, considering this Sunnud a full and valid title for himself and his descendants, will exert himself to the utmost to promote the welfare of his subjects, and will abstain from encroaching on the possessions of others ; and being grateful for the favour which has been shown him by the British Government, he will continue firm in allegiance to it, and will conform to all the conditions of this Sunnud.

It will be the duty of the ryots on their part to consider the Rajah as their rightful lord, and to pay their revenue punctually, and show obedience to his authority, and to exert themselves to improve the cultivation of their lands and to augment the Rajah's resources.

PERMANENT LEASE by HIS HIGHNESS RAJA BALBIR SEN of KEONTHAL in favor of the SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA in Council, through the Deputy Commissioner of Simla,—1884.

Whereas under a correspondence ending with an endorsement No. 2453, dated 29th September 1884, from the Commissioner and Superintendent of the Umballa Division, the British Government in India is, for the purposes of convenience and better conservancy, desirous of extending the municipal limits of Simla to a tract of land now covered by the dwelling-houses of Europeans in the pargana of Kasumti, and in my territory, I, Balbir Sen, the present Raja of Keonthal, do hereby, on my own behalf and that of my successors, lease and surrender the said tract to the British Government in perpetuity on the following conditions, viz.—

1. The territory ceded comprises an area of 49a. 1p. 24yds. (British acres) more or less, and is included within boundary pillars numbered consecutively:

2. A plan* accompanies this lease showing the pillars, their distances apart and their bearings backward and forward from true north. It also shows whether the line between pillars is indicated by a vertical drop line, the hill contour, or a road, as the case may be.

3. In lieu of the area transferred on perpetual lease, the British Government shall pay to me or my successors an annual quit-rent of Rs. 3,500 (three thousand five hundred) in moities. These moities shall become payable half-yearly in advance on the 1st of January and 1st of July respectively.

4. This lease is terminable at the will of the British Government, but not so at the will of the ruling Raja of Keonthal, except in default of payment of rent exceeding a period of one year, who hereby, and in consideration of the quit-rent above specified, transfers all and every jurisdiction in the land tract to the British Government.

5. The quit-rent above specified includes compensation to the Keonthal State for the loss of the following revenues :—(1) Ground-rent now levied by the Raja, (2) excise, (3) revenue from law and justice, (4) miscellaneous grazing fees, &c. As it is necessary in the interests of the perpetual lessees that the excise revenue of the leased tract shall be in future secured to them, I hereby bind myself and my successors not to locate or permit location of a still for liquor, or a liquor or drug shop within a nearer distance of the boundary than my capital of Junga, which is situated five miles, more or less, from Kasumti.

6. As the primary reason for the lease is the better sanitation of the municipal town of Simla, I finally pledge myself not to permit an extension of the habitation known as the Kasumti Bazaar, or to permit the construction of any new buildings or dwellings within a mile of municipal limits without the consent first obtained of the Deputy Commissioner for the time being. A failure on my part to conform to this condition shall involve such penalty as the lessees shall deem just to impose on me.

SIMLA,

24th October 1884.

C. BEADON,

Deputy Commissioner.

7 P.S.—The Municipal Committee of Simla are under no pretence whatever to exercise authority beyond the boundaries as now laid down.

PART II.

Treaties, Engagements and Sanads

in Political Relations with the Government of India

Punjab States.

THE establishment of the British power in the cis-Sutlej States dates from the Treaty of 1809 with Ranjit Singh (see Part I, Punjab, No. II) by which he engaged neither to commit nor suffer any encroachments on the possessions or rights of the Chiefs on the left bank of the Sutlej. In May 1809 a Proclamation (No. I) was issued, extending the protection of the British Government to the Chiefs of Sirhind and Malwa without demand of tribute; requiring service in time of war; and defining generally the relation of the protected States to the British Government. The general scope of the proclamation of 1809 was to establish the Chiefs in the States they held before they were received under British protection. Relieved of their fear of Ranjit Singh, however, the stronger Chiefs began to encroach on the weaker: and in August 1811 it was found necessary to issue a second Proclamation (No. II), directing the restoration of such usurped Estates, and prohibiting such encroachments.

After the first Sikh war, the relations of the British Government with the Chiefs of the cis-Sutlej States were entirely changed. With the exception of nine of the larger States,* all the Chiefs were deprived of their sovereign powers and, in lieu of the military service which they were bound to render, they were required to pay a commutation tax fixed at the rate of two annas in the rupee or $12\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on their income. The States of Dialgarh and Raikot have since lapsed to the British Government, and the Chief of Mamdot has been reduced to the position of a jagirdar (see Part I, Punjab).

Of the territory taken under protection in 1809, lands assessed at Rs. 4,97,485 lapsed in 1891 to the British Government from failure of heirs, and lands assessed at Rs. 8,90,477 were confiscated. Out of the territory thus acquired, jagirs worth Rs. 75,961 were granted.

In November 1921 the following States were brought into direct relations with the Government of India, through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States. The serial number placed before each shows the order in which they are noticed in the narrative, which follows the provincial order of precedence:

(2) Bahawalpur.	Trans-Sutlej States:
(13) Loharu.	(5) Kapurthala.
Cis-Sutlej States:	(7) *Mandi.
(1) Patiala.	(11) Chamba.
(3) Jind.	(12) Suket.
(4) Nabha.	Punjab Hill States:
(9) Maler Kotla.	(6) *Sirmur.
(10) Faridkot.	(8) Bilaspur.

1. PATIALA.

Patiala is the largest of the Sikh States. The Maharaja belongs to the Sidhu Jat tribe of Sikhs. Chaudhri Phul, who founded a village, in Nabha territory, called after his name, obtained from the Emperor Shah Jahan a farman confirming the chaudhriyat which had been conferred on his ancestor Bariam by the Emperor Babar after the battle of Panipat in 1526. Phul, who died in 1652, had six sons, of whom the two elder, Tiloka and Rama, became founders of a dynasty of princes, the Maharajas of Jind and Nabha being descended from the former, and the Maharaja of Patiala from the latter. These three States are known as the Phulkian States. Rama's descendant Sardar Ala Singh founded the city of Patiala and in 1762 received the title of Raja from Ahmad Shah Abdali. He died in 1765. In 1767 his successor Amar Singh obtained from Ahmad Shah Abdali the title of Raja-i-Rajagan Bahadur. He died in 1781.

* Sirmur and Mandi are equal in rank and take precedence according to the relative seniority for the time being of their respective Chiefs, calculated from the date of installation in each case.

Relations between the British Government and Patiala appear to have begun in 1808 with Raja Sahib Singh's overtures for protection and the British Envoy's visit to Patiala in August of that year, from which, however, no definite results followed. But in February 1809 the Chief welcomed Colonel Ochterlony and his troops at Patiala. Two years afterwards the misgovernment of the State, due to Sahib Singh's imbecility, compelled Colonel Ochterlony to interfere: and, at the invitation of Sahib Singh and the Rajas of Nabha and Jind, he visited Patiala in January 1811. The British Government, however, declined any active interference. Matters, nevertheless, grew so bad that it became necessary to modify this decision: and in April 1812 Colonel Ochterlony was again sent to Patiala, where he established Rani Aus Kour as Regent. On Sahib Singh's death in 1813, the British Government withdrew from interference: and Karam Singh was installed as his successor.

During the Nepal War Karam Singh aided the British Government with troops: and on the conclusion of the war Sanads (Nos. III and IV) were granted to him, conferring on him portions of the Keonthal and Baghat States, yielding a revenue of Rs. 35,000, in return for a payment of two lakhs and eighty thousand rupees.

In 1823 the British Government again interfered in the internal affairs of Patiala, to support Karam Singh against Rani Aus Kour.

In 1827 the Maharaja lent the British Government 20 lakhs of rupees. -

In 1830 the hill territory of Simla was obtained from Patiala in exchange for three villages in pargana Bharauli.

In 1839 the Maharaja advanced to the British Government 25 lakhs of rupees for the first Afghan War and 5 lakhs in connection with the second Afghan War in 1842.

Karam Singh died in 1845 and was succeeded by his son Narendar Singh. Both he and his father rendered services to the British Government during the winter of 1845-46, when the Khalsa army invaded the cis-Sutlej territories. After the campaign Narendar Singh obtained, as a reward, the gift of a portion of the territory confiscated from the Raja of Nabha in consequence of his misconduct.

In 1847, at the request of the Maharaja, a Sanad (No. V) was conferred on him, confirming him for ever in his ancient possessions, and those granted by the British Government, with all rights pertaining thereto. The Maharaja relinquished for himself and successors all right to levy excise and transit duties, and engaged to suppress sati, infanticide and slave-dealing and to attend in person with his forces should the cis-Sutlej territories be invaded by an enemy; while the British Government gave up all claims to tribute, revenue, or commutation in lieu of troops or otherwise. In the same year the Maharaja received an additional grant of territory confiscated from the Lahore Darbar, amounting to Rs. 10,000, in consideration of his relinquishment of customs and transit duties.

During the mutiny of 1857 Maharaja Narendar Singh aided the British Government by furnishing an auxiliary force, which proceeded to Delhi and kept open the communication on the Grand Trunk Road. He also sent troops to Gwalior and Dholpur, and helped the Government with money. For these services he received, besides other rewards, the Narnaul division of the Jhajjar territory, yielding a revenue of Rs. 2,00,000 a year, in perpetual sovereignty, on condition of good behaviour and of service, political and military, at any time of general danger or disturbance. In addition to this, the British Government ceded to the Maharaja jurisdiction over Bhadaur, and the right of escheats and reversion of lapsed Estates therein, together with the annual commutation tax, amounting to Rs. 5,265 a year.

In 1860 a new Sanad (No. VI) was given to the Maharaja, under which the British Government engaged never to demand any tribute on account of revenue, service, or on any other plea, and also conferred on the Maharaja the right of adoption in default of direct heirs; but, in the case of the Chief dying without male issue and without adopting a successor, nazarana was to be paid to the British Government. The power of life and death over his own subjects was conceded to the Maharaja, who was bound, on the appearance of an enemy, to co-operate with the British forces and to provide carriage and supplies, and was also required to furnish material for railways and communications on payment, and to grant land free for such works.

Subsequently a portion of the Kanaud pargana of the Jhajjar territory, and the taluka of Khamanun, were sold to the Maharaja in perpetual sovereignty, in liquidation of debts due to him by the British Government and in payment of the large interest due on loans. For these transfers a supplementary Sanad (No. VII) was granted in 1861.

In March 1862 the right of adoption, conferred by the Sanad of 1860, was confirmed (No. VIII). Narendar Singh died in November 1862 and was succeeded by his minor son Mahendar Singh.

In 1858 the Chiefs of Patiala, Jind and Nabha had preferred certain requests to the British Government, one of which was that, in the event of the death of any of them, leaving an infant heir, a Council of Regency consisting of three old and trusted ministers of the State, not related to the heir, should be selected by the British Government acting with the advice of the other two Chiefs. This request was granted. On the death of Maharaja Narendar Singh it was argued by the Chiefs of Jind and Nabha that the terms of the Sanads of 1860 gave them the power of superseding at will the arrangements to which they had asked the British Government to consent in 1858. But the sanads in reality made no change in the status of these Chiefs towards the British Government: they were merely to exercise such sovereignty as they had been accustomed to exercise. The argument was therefore untenable, and a Council of Regency was formed in accordance with the arrangements of 1858. Maharaja Mahendar Singh was vested with full powers of administration in 1870.

In 1867 the Ruler of Patiala was granted a permanent salute of 17 guns.

In 1870 the system by which Patiala had been superintended by the Commissioner of Ambala was superseded, and the State was placed under the direct control of the Punjab Government.

In 1872 the Maharaja abolished transit dues, amounting in value to about half a lakh of rupees a year, in the territories assigned to his father in 1858: and in the same year concluded an Agreement (No. IX) for the construction of a line of telegraph from Ambala to Patiala.

In 1873 an Agreement (No. X) was concluded between the British Government and the States of Patiala, Jind and Nabha, by which terms were arranged for the construction of the Sirhind Canal and the supply of water to the signatory States.

In 1873 a code of rules for regulating the pursuit and extradition of criminals on the Patiala and Jaipur border was drawn up and received the sanction of the British Government (see Vol. III, Jaipur). The rules were adopted in 1879 for the Patiala and Alwar border also, and in 1883 the Government of India sanctioned their extension to Patiala and Bikaner.

Mahendar Singh died in 1876 and was succeeded by his elder son Rajendar Singh, during whose minority a Council of Regency was selected in accordance with the arrangements sanctioned in 1858.

On the outbreak of war in Afghanistan in 1878, the Patiala State placed its troops at the disposal of the British Government, and they were employed in the Kurram valley, with the contingents of some other States in the Punjab. In consideration of these services the Maharaja was exempted for life from presenting a nazar in Darbar.

A Postal Convention (No. XI) was concluded in 1884.

In 1889 Maharaja Rajendar Singh was tentatively invested with powers, in which he was formally confirmed in 1890.

In 1891 the Darbar granted, free of cost, the lands in the State required for the Delhi-Ambala-Kalka Railway.

From about 1809 to 1846 Patiala had furnished, from time to time, a contingent of sowars for general duty. In 1846 the State was exempted from the operation of the rules then passed about the abolition of customs and the commutation of contingent service to a money payment. At the same time the number of sowars was fixed at 100. In 1892, in recognition of the formation of the Imperial Service troops, the State was exempted from this liability.

On the extension of the Sirsa branch of the Western Jumna Canal, an Agreement (No. XII) was entered into in 1893 in connection with the administration of that portion of the Sirsa branch which lies within the Patiala State.

In the same year an Agreement (No. XIII) was concluded, for the working of the Rajpura-Bhatinda line by the North Western Railway. This was subsequently twice modified: first in 1902 when, in return for a payment of Rs. 50,000, the Bhatinda Railway Station was transferred to the Government of India and the provisions of clauses 10, 11, 13, 24 and 28 were declared to be no longer applicable to the station area: and secondly in 1903, when the North Western Railway's share of the gross receipts (clause 27) was reduced from 55 to 52 per cent.

In 1895 the approval of the Government of India was given to the adoption of a set of rules regulating the procedure between Patiala and Bikaner in regard to the capture and extradition of criminals.

Maharaja Rajendar Singh served in the Frontier expedition of 1897, and some Patiala troops also took part in the campaign.

In 1900 the Maharaja ceded full and complete power and jurisdiction over lands in the State that were, or might thereafter be, required for the Rewari-Bhatinda (No. XIV) and Delhi-Ambala-Kalka Railways (No. XV). These cessions had originally been made in 1886 and 1890 respectively, and the Agreements signed in 1900 were in a revised form. In the same year similar cessions, in the same form, were made in respect of the Rajpura-Bhatinda (No. XVI), Bikaner-Bhatinda (No. XVII), Ludhiana-Dhuri-Jakhal (No. XVIII) and Southern Punjab Railways (No. XIX).

A revised Postal Convention (No. XX) was concluded in 1900.

In 1900 the Maharaja entered into an Agreement (No. XXI) for the control and discipline of his Imperial Service troops when serving beyond the frontiers of his State. In the same year the Darbar agreed, with all the other Punjab States supplying Imperial Service troops, to the mutual surrender of deserters, other than officers, escaping from one State to another.

Rajendar Singh died on the 8th November 1900, and was succeeded by his son the present Maharaja Bhupindar Singh, born on the 12th October 1891. During his minority the State was administered by a Council of Regency. He was invested with full powers in 1909.

In 1903 a subsidiary Agreement (No. XXII) regarding the working of the Sirhind Canal was concluded with the States of Patiala, Jind and Nabha, in accordance with the provisions of clause 27 of the Agreement of 1873 (No. X).

In the same year the Patiala Darbar ceded (No. XXIII) jurisdiction over lands in the State required for the Kalka-Simla Railway.

In 1910 the Maharaja leased (No. XXIV) from the British Government a strip of land in the Kaithal Tehsil of the Karnal District, for the drainage outfall of Patiala city.

In 1913 the Darbar ceded (No. XXV) jurisdiction over lands in the State occupied by the main line of the North Western Railway between Ambala and Ludhiana.

On the outbreak of the Great War, Maharaja Bhupindar Singh placed his personal services and the resources of his State at the disposal of the King-Emperor. The Patiala Imperial Service Infantry served in Egypt, Gallipoli and Palestine, and the Rajindra Lancers were employed in Egypt and Mesopotamia. The Maharaja himself visited the Western front and Palestine. The total contribution of the State towards the War amounted approximately to 37,000 men and 87 lakhs of rupees.

In 1917 the Ruler of Patiala was exempted in perpetuity from the presentation of nazar at Viceregal Darbars.

In 1918 Maharaja Bhupindar Singh was granted a personal salute of 19 guns.

Maharaja Bhupindar Singh served in the Afghan War of 1919, and his State troops served on the Afghan front and in the Punjab.

In 1921 the Ruler of Patiala was granted a permanent local salute of 19 guns within his own territories.

In 1922 the Darbar joined the scheme for the reorganisation of the Indian State Forces, and undertook responsibility for the internal security of the State. In 1925 the proposal of the Darbar to maintain a machine gun section as part of the military forces of the State was approved by the Government of India.

In 1926 an Agreement (No. XXVI) was concluded, modifying the Agreement of 1893 (No. XII) regarding the administration of the Sirsa branch of the Western Jumna Canal.

In the same year sanction was given to the construction by the Darbar of the Sirhind-Rupar Railway, and an agreement relating to its working is under consideration.

In 1927 an Agreement (No. XXVII) was concluded with the Patiala Darbar for the provision of a siding at Kandaghat railway station for the use of the State.

In 1928 the Patiala Darbar leased (No. XXVIII) from the North Western Railway administration a piece of land at Kandaghat Station for the purpose of laying a water pipe line.

The area of the State is 5,932 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 1,499,739; and the revenue approximately 1½ crores.

Under the reorganisation scheme of January 1921 the authorised strength of the Patiala State Forces consists (December 1926) of—

1st (Rajindra) Lancers	526
2nd Lancers	526
Horse Guards	139*
1st Infantry (Rajindra Sikhs)	775
2nd Infantry	775
3rd Infantry	775
4th Infantry	775
Foot Guards	174
Motor Machine Gun Section

The following other State forces are maintained:—

Armed Police	1,286
Artillery	225
Military Transport	78

The State possesses 45 serviceable and 65 unserviceable guns.

With effect from the 1st January 1922 the designation "Imperial Service Troops" was changed to "Indian State Forces"

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

The State was in political relations with the Punjab Government through the Political Agent, Phulkian States, from 1901 until the establishment of the Punjab States Agency in 1921, when it was placed in direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States.

2. BAHAWALPUR.

The rulers of Bahawalpur assumed independence during the dismemberment of the Durani empire which followed the expulsion of Shah Shuja from Kabul. On the rise of Ranjit Singh, Nawab Bahawal Khan made several applications to the British Government for an engagement of protection. These, however, were declined, although the result of the treaties of Lahore, whereby Ranjit Singh was confined to the right bank of the Sutlej, in reality effected his protection.

The first treaty with Bahawalpur was that of 1833 (No. XXIX), which was negotiated at the same time as the treaty with Ranjit Singh for regulating traffic on the Indus. It secured the independence of the Nawab within his own territories, and opened the traffic on the Indus and Sutlej, at a fixed tariff to be levied at Mithankot and Hariki. In 1835 a toll on boats was, by a Supplementary Treaty (No. XXX), substituted for a tariff; the schedule of tolls was revised in 1838 (No. XXXI), and again in 1840 (No. XXXIII); and in 1843, by an Agreement (No. XXXIV), the tolls were reduced one-half and a scale of duties was fixed on merchandise in transit through Bahawalpur by land. In 1847 the Nawab, at the instance of the Resident at Lahore, remitted all duties on boats passing through his territory, and refused to take any compensation. In 1855, when the Sind postal authorities proposed to establish a camel train through Bhawalpur, the Nawab reduced the duty on goods passing by the land route, and shortly afterwards consented to revise ferry rates on the Sutlej, which were formerly a customs duty, and to reduce them to a reasonable remuneration for the labour of crossing passengers and goods over the river.

When arrangements were made in 1838 for the restoration of Shah Shuja, a Treaty (No. XXXII) was concluded with the Nawab, by which he placed himself under the supremacy of, and bound himself to act in subordinate co-operation with, the British Government, receiving its protection and being recognised as the absolute ruler of his country. During the Afghan war the Nawab rendered assistance, both in facilitating the passage of troops and furnishing supplies, for which he was rewarded by the grant of the districts of Sabzalkot and Bhaung Barra.

In carrying out the provisions of Act XIV of 1843, it became desirable to extend the British customs line as far as the Sutlej; and in 1844 the Nawab made over, in free gift, the strip of land required for this purpose.

In 1847-48 Nawab Bahawal Khan co-operated in the operations against Multan, and was rewarded by the grant of a life pension of a lakh of rupees a year, commencing from the date of the British assumption of the government of the Punjab.

In 1850 the Nawab proposed to supersede his eldest son Muhammad Fateh Khan, and to appoint his third son, Saadat Khan as his heir. The Governor-General decided that the Government of India were not called upon to interfere in any way in his selection of a successor. When Bahawal Khan died in 1852 the heir-select succeeded him, taking the name of Mohammad Sadiq Khan; but was deposed by the eldest son, with the aid of the Daudputras. Sadiq Khan solicited the aid of the British Government; but the Governor-General decided that, according to the treaties with Bahawalpur, the British Government were bound to support the Chief against his external enemies, but were not bound to aid him against internal commotions. The victorious brother, having accepted the treaties existing between the British Government and the Bahawalpur State, was recognised as Ruler of Bahawalpur: and the deposed Nawab, through the mediation of the British Government, obtained asylum in British territory, was assigned a cash allowance of Rs. 1,600 a month from the Bahawalpur State, and relinquished for ever, on the part of himself and his heirs, all claim to the State. An Agreement (No. XXXV) to this effect was executed in 1853 and guaranteed by the British Government.

But within a year Sadiq Khan violated his engagement. He addressed the Chief Commissioner of the Punjab soliciting reconsideration of his case; stated that he would never during his life renounce his claim to the Chiefship; and begged permission to proceed to Bahawalpur to recover the masnad. In consideration of the guarantee of the British Government to cause the observance of the Agreement by both parties, the Governor-General directed the ex-Nawab to be placed under strict surveillance. He was detained in custody in the fort at Lahore, and died in 1863.

Nawab Muhammad Fateh Khan died in 1858, and was succeeded by his eldest son Rahim Yar Khan, who took the name of Bahawal Khan.

In 1863 an insurrection, caused by the tyranny and cruelty of the Nawab, broke out among the Daudputra Chiefs. It was suppressed, but not until the Nawab had put to death three of his uncles through fear of their being released by the rebels from their imprisonment in the fort of Derawar. For this atrocious crime the Nawab incurred the severe displeasure of the British Government, and was subsequently required to make over to the protection of the British authorities others among his relations who had suffered from his harsh treatment. Some of the rebels took refuge in British territory, where they remained unmolested as long as they refrained from hostilities against the Nawab. An attack on a Bahawalpur village was, however, organised, and on its failure the leaders again sought refuge in British territory, but were placed in confinement for abuse of the asylum formerly afforded them. The misgovernment of Bahawalpur continued to endanger the peace of the country, and a formidable insurrection took place in March 1866. On the 25th March 1866 Nawab Bahawal Khan died suddenly, not without suspicion of poison, and was succeeded by his son Sadiq Muhammad Khan, then four years of age. A rival claimant appeared in the person of Jafar Khan, half-brother of Nawab Bahawal Khan. At the same time the leader of the troops, sent by the late Nawab to quell the insurrection, threw off his allegiance and marched on the capital. As the British Government were under no treaty obligation to interfere in the internal affairs of Bahawalpur, intervention was at first limited to a declaration that the British Government recognised the succession of Nawab Sadiq Muhammad Khan and intended to accord him full moral support. The presence of the Indian Agent of Government at the capital, where he had been instructed to reside in order to give the Nawab and his advisers the benefit of his counsel, was sufficient to secure the dispersion of the rebels; their leader was taken prisoner, and all overt resistance ceased.

The state of affairs, however, continued very unsatisfactory. Many influential men had been alienated by the conduct of Nawab Bahawal Khan, the army was discontented, and there was no party of sufficient influence to carry on the administration. In these circumstances the Bahawalpur Darbar preferred a formal request that the British Government would undertake the administration of the State during the minority of the Nawab. Government consented, on the understanding that the British officer appointed should have full powers: and issued a Proclamation (No. XXXVI) explaining the reasons which had compelled them to interfere. Shortly afterwards, a plot for the elevation of Jafar Khan to the masnad was discovered and, at the request of the Darbar, he was removed to Lahore as a State prisoner. In 1867 an attempt was made by Muhammad Nizam Khan, the former Minister of Bahawalpur, to excite disaffection among the soldiery, and he was therefore removed from Bahawalpur and not permitted to return. The State has not since been disturbed by political troubles.

In 1867 the Ruler of Bahawalpur was granted a permanent salute of 17 guns.

In 1870 the Imperial Postal Department took over the postal arrangements in the State on payment of an annual subsidy of Rs. 20,000 by the Darbar. In 1878, on the opening of the Indus Valley Railway, the subsidy was reduced to Rs. 6,000, at which figure it now stands.

In 1872 the Darbar ceded (No. XXXVII) full sovereignty over lands in the State required for railway purposes.

In 1877 the Bahawalpur State abolished customs duties on salt and other articles, and suppressed the local manufacture of salt in its territory: and the British Government agreed to pay Rs. 80,000 a year to the State as compensation for the loss incurred. An Agreement (No. XXXVIII) to this effect was concluded in 1879.

On the outbreak of the war in Afghanistan in 1878, the Nawab placed a military contingent at the disposal of the British Government, and his troops were employed on the frontier.

In 1879 Sadiq Muhammad Khan was invested with full powers, and the British Agency in Bahawalpur was abolished. He died in 1899 and was succeeded by his son Muhammad Bahawal Khan, during whose minority a British Superintendent was appointed to conduct the administration of the State.

In 1899 the Darbar ceded (No. XXXIX) full and exclusive power and jurisdiction of every kind over the lands in the State which were, or might thereafter be, occupied by the Southern Punjab Railway.

In 1900 the State entered into an Agreement (see No. XXI) for the control and discipline of its Imperial Service troops when serving beyond its frontiers. In the same year Bahawalpur joined the other Punjab States supplying Imperial Service troops in agreeing to the mutual surrender of deserters, other than officers, escaping from one State to another.

In May 1903 the duties of the Superintendent were transferred to the Political Agent, Phulkian States and Bahawalpur. In November of the same year, Muhammad Bahawal Khan was invested with ruling powers under the control of the Political Agent.

In March 1906 the restriction placed on the Nawab's powers in 1903, requiring the confirmation by the Political Agent of all death sentences passed by him, was withdrawn.

In November 1906 Muhammad Bahawal Khan proceeded on a pilgrimage to Mecca, and on his way back died at Aden on the 15th February 1907. He was succeeded by his son the present Nawab Sadiq Muhammad Khan, born in 1904.

In 1909 the construction of a branch railway line from Khanpur to Chachran was sanctioned. As the line lies wholly in Bahawalpur territory, the Darbar have been permitted to retain jurisdiction thereon. An Agreement (No. XL) for the construction, maintenance and working of the line was concluded in 1912.

In 1913 the Darbar ceded (No. XLI) full and exclusive power and jurisdiction over the land required for the McLeodganj Road and Fazilka section of the Southern Punjab Railway.

On the outbreak of the Great War the Darbar offered all their troops for service abroad. The escort of the Bahawalpur State Camel Corps served in Egypt and Iraq.

In 1920 the Punjab Government concluded an Agreement (No. XLII) with the States of Bahawalpur and Bikaner, in connection with the Sutlej Valley Canals project. This Agreement was confirmed in 1921 by the Secretary of State.

In 1922 the Darbar joined the scheme for the reorganisation of the Indian State Forces, and undertook at the same time responsibility for the internal security of the State, though this does not include the strategic railway passing through the Bahawalpur territory.

Nawab Sadiq Muhammad Khan was invested with full ruling powers on the 8th March 1924.

In 1926 the Government of India sanctioned the construction of the Bahawalnagar-Cholisthan Railway, through the agency of the North Western Railway. The actual terms of the working agreement have yet to be settled. The Darbar have been permitted to retain jurisdiction, as the line lies wholly in State territory.

The territory of Bahawalpur covers an area of 15,000 square miles; but, exclusive of the desert portion, it is a narrow strip of country of an average width of 8 miles extending for 300 miles along the left banks of the Sutlej, Chenab and Indus. The population, according to the Census of 1921, is 781,191; and the revenue is estimated at 50 lakhs.

Under the reorganisation scheme of January 1921 the authorised strength of the Bahawalpur State Forces consists (December 1926) of—

1st Sadiq Infantry	426
2nd Haroon Infantry	153

The following other State forces are maintained:—

Cavalry	96
Armed Police	295

The State possesses 4 serviceable guns.

With effect from the 1st January 1922 the designation "Imperial Service Troops" was changed to "Indian State Forces".

In 1913 the State was removed from the Phulkian States Agency and included in a newly established Bahawalpur Agency. This Agency was abolished in 1921 on the establishment of the Punjab States Agency, by which the State was placed in direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States.

3. JIND.

The Chief of Jind belongs to the same clan as the Maharaja of Patiala, but is descended from the elder branch. Gajpat Singh founded the town of Jind in 1763, and was recognised as Raja by the Emperor of Delhi in 1772. His descendant Raja Bhag Singh was one of the foremost of those who offered their allegiance to the British Government after the overthrow of the Mahrattas. He joined Lord Lake in the pursuit of Holkar to the banks of the Beas, and his good offices were of importance in the negotiations which followed. Bhag Singh was the maternal uncle of Ranjit Singh of Lahore. Lord Lake confirmed to the Raja the grants of land he held under the Emperors of Delhi, or under Scindia, and as a special reward conferred on him in addition Kharkauda and Bhawani, each worth about Rs. 25,000 annually. The Raja also received, jointly with Bhai Lal Singh of Kaithal, the grant of Barsat Faridpur, in Panipat, worth about Rs. 70,000. These grants were, however, for life only, and lapsed many years ago to the British Government.

Bhag Singh died in 1819, and his successor, Fateh Singh, in 1822. The next Chief, Sangat Singh, died in 1834 without issue, and was succeeded by Sarup Singh, though not without a struggle; at one time indeed, his claims were denied and the State was declared an escheat. Eventually his right, though a collateral, to all the possessions of the family held by Raja Gajpat Singh, the common ancestor, was admitted; but all subsequent accessions of territory acquired by Bhag Singh and Sangat Singh were declared an escheat. Sarup Singh was formally installed in 1837.

At the beginning of the Sutlej campaign in 1845 Raja Sarup Singh refused to send camels for the use of the British, and was fined Rs. 10,000. After this, however, he gave the British active assistance; the fine was eventually remitted and the Raja was granted lands, not exceeding Rs. 3,000 a year, as a mark of satisfaction at his conduct.

In 1847 the Raja of Jind received a Sanad (No. XLIII). In the same year he received in perpetuity an additional grant of land confiscated from the Lahore Government, yielding Rs. 1,000 a year, in consideration of his having abolished customs and transit duties.

Sarup Singh offered his services in the second Sikh war of 1849, for which he received the thanks of the British Government.

In 1857 the Raja of Jind was the first person who marched against the mutineers at Delhi. His troops acted as the vanguard of the army. He remained in the British camp before Delhi until the reoccupation of the city, and a portion of his troops also took part in the assault. For these services he received a grant of additional territory yielding Rs. 1,16,813 a year, on condition of good behaviour and of service, political and military, in time of difficulty or danger.

In 1860 the Raja received a new Sanad (No. XLIV), including the privilege of adoption. By a Sanad granted in 1861 (No. XLV) the Raja was allowed to purchase a portion of the Kanaud tahsil of the Jhajjar territory, on payment of nazarana. In 1862 the right of adoption, conferred by the Sanad of 1860, was confirmed (No. XLVI).

Sarup Singh died in 1864 and was succeeded by his son Raghubir Singh.

In 1867 the Ruler of Jind was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

In 1873 the States of Patiala, Jind and Nabha entered into an Agreement (see No. X), for the construction of the Sirhind canal.

In 1878, on the outbreak of the war in Afghanistan, the State furnished a contingent of troops.

In 1881 the hereditary title of Raja-i-Rajagan was conferred on the Ruler of Jind.

The code of rules regarding the pursuit and extradition of criminals, sanctioned in 1873 for the Jaipur and Patiala border, was adopted in 1883 to regulate the procedure between Jind and the States of Jaipur and Bikaner.

A Postal Convention (see No. XI) was executed in 1884.

Raghbir Singh died on the 7th March 1887, and was succeeded by his grandson, the present Maharaja Ranbir Singh, born in 1881. During his minority the State was administered by a Council of Regency appointed in the terms of the arrangement of 1858 (see under Patiala).

From about 1809 to 1846 Jind had furnished from time to time a contingent of sowars for general duty. In 1846 the State was exempted from the operation of the rules then passed about the abolition of customs and the commutation of contingent service to a money payment. At the same time the number of sowars was fixed at 50. They were reduced to 25 in 1860, in return for the good services rendered by Jind during the mutiny. In 1892, in recognition of the formation of the Imperial Service troops, the State was exempted altogether from this liability.

In 1892 an amended Agreement (No. XLVII), regarding the supply of water from the Western Jumna Canal, was concluded with the State. This superseded one that had been signed in 1875.

In 1893 an Agreement (No. XLVIII) was concluded for the construction of a line of telegraph from Maler Kotla to Sangrur.

In 1897 a protest against the appointment of a European tutor to Raja Ranbir Singh was made by the other Phulkian States (Patiala and Nabha) who claimed that they should be entrusted with the arrangements for his education; but it was held that such a claim could not be supported by the paper of requests of 1858, and it was disallowed. When the Raja was invested with powers on the 10th November 1899, but kept for a time under the guidance of a British political adviser, they again protested, on the ground that this was a breach of the Sanads of 1860; but this protest also was overruled. In 1901 the State, which had formerly been under the direct control of the Punjab Government, was placed under the Political Agent, Phulkian States and Bahawalpur, and the political adviser was withdrawn.

The Jind Imperial Service Infantry served in the Tirah campaign of 1897.

In 1899 an Agreement (No. XLIX) was made for the construction, maintenance and working of the Ludhiana-Dhuri-Jakhal Railway by the North Western Railway, on behalf of the Jind and Maler Kotla Darbars. Cession of jurisdiction over lands in the State occupied by the Rewari-Ferozepore Railway, which had originally been made in 1886, was renewed in 1900 by an Agreement (No. L) in a revised form. In the same year similar cessions, in the same form, were made in respect of the Southern Punjab Railway (No. LI) and the Ludhiana-Dhuri-Jakhal Railway (No. LII).

A revised Postal Convention (see No. XX) was concluded in 1900.

The following other State forces are maintained:—

The State possesses 16 serviceable and 2 unserviceable guns.

With effect from the 1st January 1922 the designation "Imperial Service Troops" was changed to "Indian State Forces".

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

The State was in political relations with the Punjab Government through the Political Agent, Phulkian States, until the establishment of the Punjab States Agency in 1921, when it was placed in direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States.

4. NABHA.

The Chief of Nabha is descended from the same stock as the Maharajas of Patiala and Jind, but like the latter belongs to the elder branch of the family.

Like the rest of the Sirhind and Malwa Chiefs, Nabha was taken under the protection of the British Government under the Proclamation of 1809 (No. I), and in 1810 Raja Jaswant Singh was given a Paper (No. LIX) confirming him in his possessions and emphasizing the promises made in the Proclamation of 1809. Jaswant Singh gave supplies and carriage to the British during the Gurkha and Bikaner campaigns of 1810 and 1818, and advanced a loan of six lakhs during the Kabul campaign of 1838. He died in 1840 and was succeeded by his son Devindar Singh.

During the first Sikh War in 1845, Devindar Singh withheld supplies from the British and neglected to attend to the requisitions of the Agent to the Governor-General. As a punishment he was deposed in 1846; one-fourth of his territory, viz., the districts of Pakowal, Dehraru and Rori, less a portion worth Rs. 12,200, was confiscated; and all transit duties, estimated at Rs. 12,200 a year, with the exception of the customs of the town of Nabha, were abolished. Of the confiscated territory, a portion worth Rs. 71,224 was divided equally between the Maharaja of Patiala and the Raja of Faridkot, in reward for services during the war while the remainder, valued at Rs. 28,766, was retained by the British Government. Up to that year the Raja of Nabha had furnished, in addition to the forces which he was to supply in war, a contingent of 50 sowars for general duty. But it was then determined that the Chief should no longer be required to supply any forces in war: and the revenue, from the portion of the confiscated territory retained by the British Government, was appropriated to keeping up 100 sowars and 133 infantry, supposed to represent one-third of the force which the State used to furnish in war. The supply of the 50 sowars for general duty ceased at the same time. Devindar Singh was granted a pension of Rs. 50,000 a year, and was kept under surveillance at Muttra till 1854; and thereafter at Lahore, where he died in 1865. His minor son Bharpur Singh succeeded, under the guardianship of his step-grandmother and three officers of the Nabha State, who were responsible to the British Government for his education and safety. He was installed in 1847.

During the mutiny of 1857 Bharpur Singh rendered important services, and was rewarded by a grant of land out of the Jhajjar territory, yielding a lakh and six thousand rupees a year, on condition of good behaviour and of service, military and political, in time of difficulty and danger.

On the occasion of the Governor-General's visit to the Punjab in 1860, the Raja received a Sanad (No. LX). In 1861 he was allowed to purchase a portion of the Kanaud tahsil of the Jhajjar district, in liquidation of a debt due to him from the British Government, and he received a supplementary Sanad (No. LXI) on this account.

In 1862 the right of adoption, conferred by the Sanad of 1860, was confirmed (No. LXII).

Bharpur Singh died in 1863, leaving no heir, either natural or adopted: and it thus devolved upon the Maharaja of Patiala and the Raja of Jind, in accordance with the Sanad of 1860 (No. LX), to select a successor, in concert with the British Government, from the Phulkian family. Their choice fell upon Bhagwan Singh, younger brother of Bharpur Singh, who had always been looked upon as his heir: and it was confirmed by the British Government, nazarana being levied as provided in clause 3 of the Sanad.

Bhagwan Singh was installed in 1864, and died in 1871 without heirs. The procedure laid down for such cases by the Sanad of 1860 was followed and a collateral relative, Hira Singh of Badrukhan, a feudatory of Jind, was chosen. The selection was approved by the British Government, and the customary nazarana levied. Hira Singh's share in the Estate of Badrukhan was considered to have lapsed for want of direct heirs, and was made over unconditionally to the Raja of Jind.

In 1867 the Ruler of Nabha was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

For many years a dispute had existed between the Sonthi Sikhs and their feudal superior the Raja of Nabha, relative to certain acts of feudal obedience which they were bound to pay to their Chief; to the equivalent to be paid in money for that service when it ceased; and to the division of the profits of certain villages in which both parties had rights. The dispute began in 1820, regarding the times and occasions when the Sonthi Sikhs were to furnish a quota of horsemen. In 1861 an arrangement was made, with the approval of Government, by which the Raja was to give the Sonthi Sikhs Rs. 5,000 a year in discharge of all matters in dispute between them. The Sonthi Sikhs appealed against this decision: and in 1869 the Government of India decided that the Sonthi Sikhs' share of the revenues of the villages in dispute should be Rs. 24,500 a year: and that the Raja of Nabha had a right in respect of escheats, commutation for loss of service of horsemen, and a deduction of one-eighth on account of confiscated and restored territory, amounting in all to Rs. 11,502: leaving the balance, to be paid to the Sonthi Sikhs, Rs. 12,998 a year. As an alternative the Sikhs were permitted, should they desire it, to receive villages producing a clear income of Rs. 8,000 a year, under certain specified conditions. They elected to take the assignment from land revenue of Rs. 12,998 a year. Payment was made in full by the Raja in 1872.

In 1873 the States of Patiala, Jind and Nabha entered into an Agreement (see No. X), for the construction of the Sirhind Canal.

In 1878 the State furnished a contingent of troops for employment in Afghanistan.

A code of rules regarding the pursuit and extradition of criminals, similar to that sanctioned in 1873 for the Patiala-Jaipur border, was adopted for the border between Nabha and Alwar in 1879, between Nabha and Jaipur in 1883, and between Nabha and Bikaner in 1897.

A Postal Convention (see No. XI) was executed in 1884.

In the same year the Raja ceded full jurisdiction over the lands in his State required for the railways comprised in the Rajputana-Malwa railway system.

In 1894 the hereditary title of Raja-i-Rajagan was conferred (No. LXIII) on the Ruler of Nabha.

Nabha Imperial Service troops served in the Tirah Campaign of 1897.

Agreements were made in 1900 ceding jurisdiction over lands in the State occupied by the Rajpura-Bhatinda (No. LXIV), Rewari-Ferozepore (No. LXV) and Ludhiana-Dhuri-Jakhal Railways (No. LXVI).

A revised Postal Convention (see No. XX) was concluded in 1900.

In 1900 the State entered into an Agreement (see No. XXI) for the control and discipline of its Imperial Service troops when serving beyond its frontiers. In the same year Nabha joined all the other Punjab States supplying Imperial Service Troops in agreeing to the mutual surrender of deserters, other than officers, escaping from one State to another.

In 1903 a subsidiary Agreement (see No. XXII), regarding the working of the Sirhind Canal, was concluded with the States of Patiala, Jind and Nabha.

In 1911 the hereditary title of Maharaja was conferred (No. LXVII) on the Ruler of Nabha.

Hira Singh died in 1911 and was succeeded by his son Ripudaman Singh.

During the Great War the Maharaja contributed sums amounting to over 5½ lakhs for various purposes, and the State Imperial Service Infantry served in Mesopotamia.

In 1916 Deeds, the execution of which had been overlooked in 1900, were signed, formally ceding jurisdiction over the lands in the State occupied by the main lines of the Rajputana-Malwa (No. LXVIII) and North Western Railways (No. LXIX).

In 1921 the permanent salute of the Ruler of Nabha was increased to 13 guns.

In 1923 the Government of India appointed a Special Commissioner to enquire into certain disputes between Patiala and Nabha States. As a result of the Commissioner's findings, Maharaja Ripudaman Singh agreed to sever his connection with the administration of the State upon certain conditions. This offer the Government of India accepted, and the Maharaja accordingly left Nabha on the 9th July 1923. The administration of the State was entrusted to an Administrator appointed by the Government of India.

In 1924 the Darbar joined the scheme for the reorganisation of the Indian State Forces, and undertook at the same time responsibility for the internal security of the State.

In 1928 the State ceded (No. LXX) jurisdiction over the lands occupied by the Rajpura-Bhatinda Railway, the Bhatinda-Fazilka section of the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway, and the Raewind-Bhatinda branch of the North Western Railway.

In the same year, owing to the proved disloyalty of Maharaja Gurcharan (alias Ripudaman) Singh, the Government of India decided to deprive him of his titles and privileges, to reduce his allowance, and to deport him to Kodaikanal in the Madras Presidency. He was succeeded by his son the present Maharaja Pratap Singh, born in 1920. During his minority the State is administered by a Council of Regency, consisting of a President and three Members.

Although Jind and Nabha are equal in rank, Jind is given precedence over Nabha on public occasions, except that Nabha receives a return visit from the Viceroy before Jind—a decision given in 1880.

The area of Nabha is 928 square miles: the population, according to the Census of 1921, 263,394; and the revenue approximately 24 lakhs.

Under the reorganisation scheme of January 1921 the authorised strength of the Nabha State Forces consists (December 1926) of—

Akal Infantry	450

The following other State forces are maintained :—

Artillery	4
Armed Police	403

The State possesses 10 serviceable and 3 unserviceable guns.

With effect from the 1st January 1922 the designation "Imperial Service Troops" was changed to "Indian State Forces".

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

The State was in political relations with the Punjab Government through the Political Agent, Phulkian States, until the establishment of the Punjab States Agency in 1921, when it was placed in direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States.

5. KAPURTHALA.

The Chief of Kapurthala at one time held possessions both Cis and Trans-Sutlej, and also in the Bari Doab. The scattered possessions in the Bari Doab were gained by the sword, and were the first acquisitions made by Sardar Jassa Singh, the founder of the family. In them lies the village of Ahlu, whence the family spring and from which the style of Ahluwalia is derived. The Trans-Sutlej Estates were also acquired by conquest, and from their chief city, Kapurthala, the family derives its general designation. Of the Cis-Sutlej possessions some were conquered, and some were granted by Maharaja Ranjit Singh, prior to September 1808. The total value of the Cis-Sutlej possessions was estimated at Rs. 5,65,000.

Sardar Fateh Singh of Kapurthala was a party, with Ranjit Singh of Lahore, to the Treaty of 1806 (see Part I, Punjab, No. I), under which he pledged himself to hold no friendship or connection with Holkar, while the British Government promised him peaceful possession of his territory so long as he continued friendly.

By article 4 of the Declaration of 1809 (No. I) the Sardar of Kapurthala was pledged to furnish supplies to British troops when marching through his territory for purposes connected with the general welfare: and by article 5 he was bound to join the British army with his forces, should an enemy approach from any quarter for the purpose of conquering the country of the Chiefs of Malwa and Sirhind.

In 1825 Sardar Fateh Singh fled to the Cis-Sutlej States for the protection of the British Government against the aggressions of Ranjit Singh, and protection was accorded. It was declared in 1928 that the Ahluwalia Chief was under British protection in respect of his ancestral possessions east of the Sutlej, but dependent on Lahore for places conferred by the Lahore Government prior to September 1808, viz., Bassi, Naraingarh and Jagraon. The protection of the British Government, however, extended over both.

Fateh Singh died in 1837, and was succeeded by his son Nihal Singh. He collected supplies for the British troops on their way to Kabul, while some of his troops took part in the Kabul expedition of 1842.

In the first Sikh war of 1845 the troops of Kapurthala fought against the British at Aliwal: and, in consequence of these hostilities and of the failure of the Sardar to furnish supplies from his Cis-Sutlej Estates to the British army, his Cis-Sutlej Estates were confiscated. When the Jullundur Doab came under the dominion of the British Government in 1846, the Trans-Sutlej possessions of the Ahluwalia Sardar were maintained in his independent possession, conditionally on his paying to the British Government a commutation in cash of the service engagements by which he had previously been bound to the Government of Lahore. The value of the Jullundur Estates was estimated at Rs. 5,77,763. The terms of the confirmation were in favour of the Sardar and the heirs of his body lawfully begotten, on condition of good conduct and good management, that no customs or duties of any kind were levied, and that he made and kept in repair the high roads through his lands.

The commutation for military service in the Jullundur Doab was fixed at Rs. 1,38,000; but subsequently a reduction of Rs. 7,000 was made on account of the Nurmahal jagir, which was included with the Kapurthala territory when first calculating the tribute due by the Raja, but was afterwards declared to be distinct therefrom. The Bari Doab Estates, estimated to yield Rs. 25,270, but subsequently assessed at Rs. 16,742, were released to Sardar Nihal Singh on a life tenure, and subject to British jurisdiction.

The punishment inflicted after the first Sikh war was not without its effect on Sardar Nihal Singh, and he rendered satisfactory assistance to the British Government during the second Sikh war, at the close of which he was created a Raja in 1849. He died in 1852, and was succeeded by his son Randhir Singh. During the mutiny of 1857, and subsequently in Oudh in 1858, Raja Randhir Singh rendered service to the British Government. In recognition of the services then performed by him in the Jullundur Doab, the Government of India, among other rewards, remitted a year's tribute, and permanently reduced the tribute by Rs. 25,000. The Raja, however, requested that the hereditary jagir in the Bari Doab, which had been resumed on the death of Raja Nihal Singh in 1852, though of less present value, might be restored to him in lieu of the remission of tribute. This request was complied with in 1860, and the jagir was released to the Raja in perpetuity, the civil and police jurisdiction remaining in the hands of the British authorities. The tribute payable by the Raja accordingly stood at its former amount, Rs. 1,31,000.

For his services in Oudh in 1858, where, at the head of his contingent, Randhir Singh took part in several engagements with the enemy, some valuable talukdari lands in that province were conferred upon him (No. LXXI):

- (1) The Baundi and Bithauli Estates on the Ghagra, in the Bahraich and Barabanki districts, granted at a favourable assessment fixed in perpetuity. The revenue demand on these Estates is Rs. 59,950.
- (2) The Akona and Dongapur Estates in the Bahraich district, granted at ordinary rates and temporarily settled.

By a Sanad (No. LXXII) granted in 1862, the Ruler was guaranteed the right of adoption.

Shortly before his death in 1852 Nihal Singh executed a will empowering his two younger sons, Bikrama Singh and Suchet Singh, to claim a partition of the fief. Dissensions arose among the brothers, and in 1853 Suchet Singh demanded and received his share, which he held, independently of the Raja, as a Jagirdar of the British Government.

In 1859 Suchet Singh, having become reconciled to his brothers, desired that the arrangement ordered by his father's will might be set aside and the lands restored to the Kapurthala State, to be held by him in subordination to the Raja. This request was sanctioned by the British Government, and the dismemberment of the State having thus been prevented by voluntary agreement between the brothers, the cancellation of the will, and the restoration to the Raja of his territory on the same footing as it existed in former times, were announced in 1860 by Lord Canning at a Darbar at which all the brothers were present. In 1866 dissensions again arose among the brothers, and Bikrama Singh and Suchet Singh claimed the execution of their father's will. It was decided, however, that Lord Canning's order should be upheld: that the Raja should exercise paramount authority over the whole of the Kapurthala State, and that the younger brothers should each receive Rs. 60,000 a year in cash, the net annual value of the property bequeathed to them.

In 1862 the hereditary title of Raja-i-Rajagan was conferred upon the Ruler of Kapurthala: and in 1867 he was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

Randhir Singh died in 1870 and was succeeded by his eldest son Kharak Singh. He soon showed signs of insanity, and in 1874 became incapable of conducting the administration, which was entrusted to a Council composed of the Wazir and the Diwan of the State and an officer in the service of the British Government. This arrangement failed to work satisfactorily, and it was found necessary in 1875 to appoint a British officer as Superintendent of the State, under the general control of the Commissioner of the Jullundur Division. Kharak Singh died in 1877 and was succeeded by his only son, the present Maharaja Jagatjit Singh, then five years old. During his minority the State continued under the administration of the British Superintendent.

The State furnished a contingent of troops during the Afghan Campaign of 1878-79.

In 1883 an Act of the Legislature, No. X of that year, was passed to confirm and give effect to an award made by the Governor-General regarding certain matters in dispute between the Kapurthala State and Sardar Bikrama Singh, touching a grant of land in Oudh received by the Sardar from the British Government.

Raja Jagatjit Singh was invested with full powers on the 24th November 1890.

A contingent of Kapurthala Imperial Service Troops served in the Tirah Campaign of 1897.

In 1899 the State entered into an Agreement (see No. XXI) for the control and discipline of its Imperial Service Troops when serving beyond its frontiers: and in 1900 joined the other Punjab States supplying Imperial Service Troops in agreeing to the mutual surrender of deserters, other than officers, escaping from one State to another.

In 1911 the hereditary title of Maharaja was conferred (No. LXXIII) on the Ruler of Kapurthala.

In 1912 the Maharaja ceded (No. LXXIV) full and exclusive power and jurisdiction over the lands in the State occupied by the main line of the North Western Railway between Phillaur and Beas.

On the outbreak of the Great War the Maharaja offered the resources of his State to Government, and the State Forces served in East Africa. The Maharaja contributed a lakh of rupees towards their maintenance on field service, and gave Rs. 25,000 for the purchase of motor ambulances. He also defrayed the whole of the extra expenditure entailed by the maintenance of the State Forces on a war footing, amounting to approximately Rs. 4,00,000.

In 1915 the Maharaja ceded full and exclusive power and jurisdiction over the lands in the State occupied by the Jullundur-Doab (No. LXXV) and Phagwara-Rahon Railways (No. LXXVI).

In 1918 the permanent salute of the Ruler of Kapurthala was increased to 13 guns: and a personal salute of 15 guns was granted to Maharaja Jagatjit Singh.

In the same year the Maharaja received a Sanad (No. LXXVII) conferring on him the power to pass death sentences on his subjects.

In 1921 the Ruler of Kapurthala was granted a permanent local salute of 15 guns within his own territories.

In 1923 the Darbar joined the scheme for the reorganisation of the Indian State Forces, and undertook at the same time responsibility for the internal security of the State, including the protection of the stretch of strategic railway passing through Kapurthala territory.

In 1924, in view of the efficiency of the State Forces and of the expenditure involved in their maintenance, the annual tribute of Rs. 1,31,000 was remitted by the Government of India under certain conditions.

The area of the State proper is 630 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 284,275; and the revenue 18½ lakhs. The estates in Oudh extend over an area of 725 square miles, throughout which the Maharaja enjoys talukdari rights. The population of the Oudh estates is about 300,000 and the revenue 18½ lakhs.

Under the reorganisation scheme of January 1921 the authorised strength of the Kapurthala State Forces consists (December 1926) of—

Bodyguard Cavalry	30
1st Jagatjit Infantry	609
2nd Line Infantry	150

The following other State Forces are maintained:—

Armed Police	100
Artillery	22

The State possesses 9 serviceable and 10 unserviceable guns.

With effect from the 1st January 1922 the designation “Imperial Service Troops” was changed to “Indian State Forces”.

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

The State was in political relations with the Punjab Government through the Commissioner of Jullundur prior to the establishment of the Punjab States Agency in 1921, when it was placed in direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States.

6*. SIRMUR OR NAHAN.

When the Gurkhas were expelled from the hills, Karam Parkash, of a Rajput family claiming connection with the Maharawals of Jaisalmer, was the ruling Chief. On the ground of his notorious profligacy and imbecility, however, the Chiefship was bestowed on his eldest son, Fateh Parkash.

* See footnote on page 116 ante.

The Sanad (No. LXXVIII) granted to the Raja in 1815 conferred on him and his heirs in perpetuity his ancient possessions, with the exception of the fort and pargana of Morni, which were made over to the Mir of Kotaha to whom they had originally belonged: the Kiarda Dun, which was restored (No. LXXIX) in 1833 on payment of a nazarana of Rs. 50,000: a tract of hill country to the north of the river Giri, made over to the Rana of Keonthal: and the parganas of Jaunsar and Bawar, in the Dehra Dun district, annexed to the British dominions.

In 1857 the Raja of Sirmur was Shamsher Parkash. He rendered good service during the mutiny, in recognition of which he received, among other rewards, a khillat of the value of Rs. 5,000.

In 1862 the Ruler received a Sanad of Adoption (see Part I, Punjab, No. XVII).

In 1867 the Ruler of Sirmur was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

By article 4 of the Sanad of 1815 the Raja of Sirmur was bound to consult the British Government before appointing a Diwan or Mutsaddi. In 1872 this clause was cancelled at the request of Shamsher Parkash, and a revised Sanad (No. LXXX) was issued to him.

Nahan State troops served in the Afghan War of 1878. The Sirmur Sappers and Miners also served in the Tirah Campaign of 1897.

Shamsher Parkash died in 1898 and was succeeded by his eldest son Surendar Bikram Parkash.

In 1899 the State entered into an Agreement (see No. XXI) for the control and discipline of its Imperial Service Troops when serving beyond its frontiers: and in 1900 joined the other Punjab States supplying Imperial Service Troops in agreeing to the mutual surrender of deserters, other than officers, escaping from one State to another.

Surendar Bikram Parkash died on the 4th July 1911 and was succeeded by his son the present Maharaja Amar Parkash, born in August 1888.

On the outbreak of the Great War the Raja offered the services of the State Sappers, who served in Mesopotamia, where they formed part of the garrison captured in Kut El Amara.

In 1918 the hereditary title of Maharaja was conferred (No. LXXXI) upon the Ruler of Sirmur.

In 1919 Maharaja Amar Parkash was invested with unrestricted power to pass sentences of death on his subjects, as a personal mark of distinction for his life only.

In 1922 the Darbar joined the scheme for the reorganisation of the Indian State Forces, and undertook at the same time responsibility for the internal security of the State.

The area of the State is 1,198 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 140,448; and the revenue 6 lakhs.

The Ruler of Sirmur receives a money payment of Rs. 13,735 a year in perpetuity from the British Government, as compensation for the loss occasioned by the abolition of customs duties. He pays no tribute, but is bound to render feudal service.

Under the reorganisation scheme of January 1921 the authorised strength of the Sirmur State Forces consists (December 1926) of—

Sappers—
Headquarters	5
No. 1 Company	142
No. 2 Company	155
Band	38

The following other State forces are maintained:—

Military Transport	21

The State possesses 4 serviceable and 3 unserviceable guns.

With effect from the 1st January 1922 the designation “Imperial Service Troops” was changed to “Indian State Forces”.

Before 1911 the State was in political relations with the Punjab Government through the Commissioner of Delhi. It was then transferred to that of the Commissioner of Ambala until the establishment of the Punjab States Agency in 1921, when it was placed in direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States.

7*. MANDI.

This ancient Hindu Rajput principality came into the possession of the British Government by the Lahore Treaty of the 9th March 1846 (see Part I, Punjab, No. X). In October of the same year the State was granted (No. LXXXII) to Raja Balbir Sen, who had tendered his allegiance to the British Government at Bilaspur in February 1846.

Balbir Sen died in 1851 and was succeeded by his infant son Bijai Sen, during whose minority the administration was carried on by a Council of Regency.

In 1862 the Ruler of Mandi received a Sanad of Adoption (see Part I, Punjab, No. XVII).

Bijai Sen was entrusted with the administration of the State in 1866, but its affairs soon fell into such disorder that it was found necessary to appoint a British officer as councillor. Under his advice reforms were introduced and, the administration having been put on a satisfactory footing, he was withdrawn in 1873.

* See footnote on page 116 ante.

In 1867 the Ruler of Mandi was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

In consequence of the loss of revenue caused by the introduction into British territory of untaxed salt from the Mandi mines, an arrangement was made with the Raja in 1870 whereby an extra duty of ten annas per maund was levied on all salt sold from the mines, and the Raja was required to pay to the British Government such proportion of the revenue, realised from the new duty, as the quantity of Mandi salt imported into British territory might from time to time bear to the total sales of the Mandi salt. A customs establishment for registering the sale and destination of the salt was stationed at the mines. In 1878 it was decided that the British share of the duty should be realised in a lump sum: and the ratio of the share of Government to that of the Mandi State was fixed at 2 to 1, which was believed to be the ratio between Mandi salt consumed in British territory and Mandi salt consumed elsewhere. In 1884 a further modification was introduced, by which the duty was reduced to 6 annas per maund, and an arrangement was made for its variation in future, in the proportion of 1 to 5 to any variation of the duty in British India. It was also a condition that the price should not be reduced without the previous sanction of the British Government. In 1922 a fresh arrangement for 5 years was made, under which the Darbar paid Rs. 19,000 annually to the British Government in lieu of their two-thirds share of the duty, and all British control over the industry and sale price of salt was withdrawn. This arrangement expired on the 1st July 1927, and the question of its renewal is under consideration.

In 1885 the Raja leased to the British Government the right to collect drift and waif timber on the river Beas in Mandi territory for a period of five years on a payment of Rs. 500 a year. The lease was renewed periodically for varying terms, with slight modifications. The last lease expired on the 31st August 1925, and the question of its renewal is under consideration.

Bijai Sen died in 1902, leaving no legitimate issue; but his illegitimate son Bhawani Sen was allowed to succeed, and was installed in October 1903. For two years after his accession he was assisted by a European Superintendent from the Indian Civil Service, who was withdrawn in 1905, when full powers were conferred on the Raja.

In May 1909 there was a serious disturbance in Mandi, but the arrival of troops from Simla quickly restored order.

Bhawani Sen died in February 1912, leaving no heir, natural or adopted. His nearest male relative, the present Raja Jogindra Sen, born on the 20th August 1904, was selected to succeed him, and was installed on the 28th April 1913. During his minority the State was administered by a Superintendent,

In 1923 the Darbar joined the scheme for the reorganisation of the Indian State Forces, and undertook at the same time responsibility for the internal security of the State.

Raja Jogindar Sen was invested with full ruling powers on the 13th February 1925, and received a Sanad (No. LXXXIII) removing the existing restrictions on the Ruler's power to inflict capital sentences.

In 1925 the Darbar gave Government a 99-years' lease (No. LXXXIV) of certain land and water rights in connection with the Punjab Hydro-Electric Scheme.

The area of Mandi is 1,200 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 185,048; and the revenue approximately 10 lakhs. The State pays an annual tribute of one lakh.

Under the reorganisation scheme of January 1921 the authorised strength of the Mandi State Forces consists (December 1926) of—

Jogindar Lancers	21
Jogindar Infantry	153
State Band	27*

The State possesses 5 serviceable and 13 unserviceable guns.

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

The State was in political relations with the Punjab Government through the Commissioner, Jullundur, until the establishment of the Punjab States Agency in 1921, when it was placed in direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States.

8. BILASPUR OR KAHLUR.

The Chief of this State belongs to a Rajput family said to have come from the Deccan. One of the sons of Harihar Chand, fourteenth in descent from the founder of the family, conquered Chamba, and Bilaspur was founded by Bir Chand, another son. Ajit Chand, twelfth in descent from Bir Chand, founded the State of Nalagarh, and bestowed it on his brother, Ajai Chand. The Raja of Kahlur had estates on both sides of the Sutlej, but the Sanad (No. LXXXV) given to Raja Maha Chand in 1815, after the expulsion of the Gurkhas, confirmed to him the Cis-Sutlej portion only. Kharak Chand died in 1839, and was succeeded by a collateral, Jagat Chand; the claims of an alleged posthumous son, Garab Chand, were rejected after a full enquiry. A second Sanad (No. LXXXVI) was granted to Kahlur in 1847 for its Trans-Sutlej territories, which up to that time had been subject to the Lahore Darbar. The abolition of transit duties was one of the conditions of this Sanad: and the Raja's application for compensation was rejected by the Governor-General, partly on the ground that the Kahlur State, owing to the transfer of its Trans-Sutlej possessions to the British Government, no longer had to pay tribute, amounting to about Rs. 4,000, to the Lahore Darbar. The Raja pays no tribute to the British Government, but is bound to render feudal service.

In 1850, at the request of Raja Jagat Chand, the administration was made over to his grandson, Hira Chand. In acknowledgment of his services during the mutiny of 1857, Raja Hira Chand received, among other rewards, a khillat of the value of Rs. 5,000.

In 1862 the Ruler received a Sanad of Adoption (see Part I, Punjab, No. XVII).

In 1867 the request of Raja Hira Chand for the restoration of the parganas of Basse and Bachretu, which had originally belonged to the Kahlur family, was granted on condition of his paying an annual nazarana of Rs. 8,000. These parganas had been seized by Ranjit Singh in 1819, and conferred on the Majithia family. At the close of the first Sikh War, the grant was continued by the British Government to Laihna Singh Majithia for his life, and it lapsed at his death.

In 1867 the Ruler of Bilaspur was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

Hira Chand was succeeded in 1883 by his son Amar Chand, who died in 1889 and was succeeded by his son Bijē Chand, during whose minority the administration was carried on by a Council of Regency. In 1893 Bijē Chand was invested with full powers, the Council being kept on as a consultative body until 1899, when the Raja dismissed it. His constant absence from the State finally led, however, to his being deprived of his powers in 1903, when he was required to live outside the State, and the administration was placed under a manager. In 1908 he was permitted to return and resume the administration of the State.

On the outbreak of the Great War the Raja offered his personal services and the resources of his State to the British Government.

A Sanad removing the existing restriction on the Ruler's power to inflict capital sentences was granted (see No. LXXXIII) in 1922.

In 1925 Raja Bijē Chand established a Council to carry on the administration of the State as, for reasons of health, he preferred to live in Benares. In 1927 the Government of India acceded to his request that he should be allowed to abdicate in favour of his son, the present Raja Anand Chand, born in 1913. During his minority the administration is carried on by a Council of Administration.

The area of the State is 448 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 98,000; and the revenue Rs. 3,23,286.

The State Forces consist (1926) of 80 Infantry, with 2 serviceable and 1 unserviceable guns.

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

The State was in political relations with the Punjab Government through the Superintendent, Hill States, Simla, until the establishment of the Punjab States Agency in 1921, when it was placed in direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States.

9. MALER KOTLA.

This family came to India from Kabul. It was originally a brotherhood dividing the Estate among the several members in equal or unequal shares, according as the power and influence of the several branches might be predominant at the time of succession.

The ancestors of the present Chief occupied positions of trust in the Sirhind province under the Moghul Emperors, and gradually became independent as the Moghul dynasty sank into decay. The Chief of Maler Kotla joined Lord Lake, and the protection of the British Government was extended to him at the same time as to the Phulkian States. Nawab Sikandar Ali Khan succeeded his father Mahbub Ali Khan in 1858.

In 1862 the Ruler received an Adoption Sanad (No. LXXXVII).

In 1867 the Ruler of Maler Kotla was granted a permanent salute of 9 guns.

Sikandar Ali Khan died without male issue in 1871, having selected as his heir Ibrahim Ali Khan, the representative of one of the two extant branches of the family, descended from a common ancestor, Jamal Ali Khan. The choice was confirmed by the British Government and the State was placed under British management during the minority of the Nawab. He received full powers in 1878.

By family custom, in the case of a death without issue, the property was divided equally among the branches descended from Jamal Ali Khan, an extra share being allotted to the Chief. The near relations of the Nawab also exercised sovereign powers in their estates subject to a general subordination to the Nawab. These customs frequently gave rise to family dissensions and maladministration. On the succession of Nawab Ibrahim Ali Khan the opportunity was taken to determine that the Chief's holding should be divided into two portions: the share which he received as Chief, with all subsequent accretions, to remain undivided, or held by the Chief for the time being: and the other portion to be divided according to family custom. It was further determined to limit to existing possessors the exercise of powers independent of the Chief.

In 1885, owing to the mental incapacity of the Nawab, the State was temporarily placed under the management of a Superintendent, subject to the control of the Commissioner of Delhi. On the death of the Superintendent in 1892, the management of the State was entrusted to the Nawab of Loharu.

From about 1809 to 1846 Maler Kotla had furnished from time to time a contingent of sowars for general duty. In 1846 the State was exempted from the operation of the rules then passed about the abolition of customs and the commutation of contingent service to a money payment. At the same time the number of sowars was fixed at 25. In 1892, in recognition of the formation of the Imperial Service Troops, the State was exempted from this liability.

The Maler Kotla Imperial Service Sappers and Miners served in the Tirah Campaign of 1897 and in the China Campaign of 1900-1901. In 1899 the State entered into an Agreement (see No. XXI) for the control and discipline of its Imperial Service troops when serving beyond its frontiers: and in 1900 joined the other States in the Punjab supplying Imperial Service troops in agreeing to the mutual surrender of deserters, other than officers, escaping from one State to another.

* In 1899 the Jind and Maler Kotla Darbars concluded an Agreement (see No. XLIX) for the construction, maintenance and working of the Ludhiana-Dhuri-Jakhal Railway by the North Western Railway. In the same year the Maler Kotla Darbar ceded (No. LXXXVIII) jurisdiction over lands in the State occupied by the railway.

In 1903 Ibrahim Ali Khan's elder son Ahmad Ali Khan was given the powers of the Superintendent, the Nawab of Loharu being retained as his adviser. In 1905 he was given full control as Regent, and the Nawab of Loharu's services were withdrawn.

Ibrahim Ali Khan died on the 23rd August 1908 and was succeeded by his son the present Nawab Ahmad Ali Khan.

In 1909 Nawab Ahmad Ali Khan was granted a personal salute of 11 guns.

On the outbreak of the Great War the Nawab offered the resources of his State to the British Government: and the Maler Kotla Sappers and Miners served in France and Iraq.

In 1917 the permanent salute of the Ruler of Maler Kotla was increased to 11 guns.

A Sanad (see No. LXXXIII) removing the existing restrictions on the Ruler's power to inflict capital sentences was granted in 1922.

In 1923 the Darbar joined the scheme for the reorganisation of the Indian State Forces, and undertook at the same time responsibility for the internal security of the State.

In the same year a supplementary Agreement (see No. LVI) was concluded with the Jind and Maler Kotla Darbars for the working of the Ludhiana-Dhuri-Jakhal Railway.

The area of Maler Kotla is 167 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 80,322; and the revenue 15 lakhs.

The Ruler receives compensation from Government amounting to Rs. 2,500 a year in perpetuity, on account of loss of revenue caused by the abolition of customs duties.

Under the reorganisation scheme of January 1921 the authorised strength of the Maler Kotla State Forces consists (December 1926) of—

Lancers	40
Infantry	226
Sappers—
Headquarters	16
Field Company	295

The following other State forces are maintained:—

Armed Police	100
Military Transport	80

The State possesses 8 serviceable and 5 unserviceable guns.

With effect from the 1st January 1922 the designation “Imperial Service Troops” was changed to “Indian State Forces”.

In 1921, on the establishment of the Punjab States Agency, the State was placed in direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States.

10. FARIDKOT.

The territory of the Faridkot State consists of two portions, Faridkot proper and Kot-Kapura. It is situated to the south-west of the Ferozepore district, and borders to the south-east on Patiala. The Chief belongs to the Barar Jat tribe, one of whom, named Bhallan, acquired great influence in the time of the Emperor Akbar. His nephew built the fort of Kot-Kapura, and made himself an independent ruler. Early in the nineteenth century the Kot-Kapura pargana was seized by the Lahore Diwan, Mohkam Chand: and after the Sikh war of 1846 it was confiscated by the British Government. But, in reward for his attachment to the British cause, and for the aid he rendered to the British forces at Mudki during the Sutlej campaign in 1845-46, the Chief, Pahar Singh, was granted a khillat and the rank of Raja; the ancestral Estate of Kot-Kapura was restored to him in jagir; and he was granted half the territory which had been confiscated from the Raja of Nabha.

In lieu of customs abolished, the British Government agreed to pay to the Raja the annual sum of Rs. 2,000: and at the same time, as there were many rent-free holdings in the Kot-Kapura Estate which would lapse to the British Government, an arrangement was made by which each rent-free holding, as it lapsed, was made over to the Raja, and a corresponding reduction was made in the amount of compensation for customs. After holdings to the value of Rs. 2,000 had been made over to the Raja, he was permitted to purchase the remainder, as each lapse occurred, for a cash payment of twenty times the annual revenue.

Pahar Singh died in 1849, and was succeeded by Wazir Singh.

From about 1809 to 1846 Faridkot had furnished from time to time a contingent of sowars for general duty. In 1846 the State was exempted from the operation of the rules then passed about the abolition of customs and the commutation of contingent service to a money payment. At the same time the number of sowars was fixed at 10. For Raja Wazir Singh's services during the mutiny he was exempted altogether from this service: and, among other rewards, he was also given an increase to his khillat and certain honorary additions to his title.

In 1862 the Ruler received a Sanad of Adoption (see Part I, Punjab, No. XVII).

In 1863 the Raja was granted a Sanad (No. LXXXIX), similar in some respects to those granted in 1860 to the Phulkian Chiefs, but differing from them in that it conferred no new rights or privileges on the Raja, but merely guaranteed and confirmed those which he then enjoyed.

In 1867 the Ruler of Faridkot was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

Wazir Singh died in 1874 and was succeeded by his only son Bikram Singh.

Faridkot State troops served in the Afghan War of 1878.

In 1886 a Postal Convention (see No. XI) was concluded. This was revised (see No. XCV) in 1896.

The services of the Imperial Service Sappers and Miners were offered for the Tirah Campaign of 1897; but, as military arrangements had been completed, the Government of India were unable to accept the offer.

Bikram Singh died in 1898, and was succeeded by his son Balbir Singh. It was made a condition of his installation that he should for five years act under the immediate control of the Commissioner of Jullundur in certain matters, such as the appointment of high officials.

In 1899 the Raja signed an Agreement (No. XC) ceding full jurisdiction over the lands in the State occupied by the Rewari-Ferozepore Railway. This cession had originally been made in 1884, and the Agreement signed in 1899 was in a revised form. In 1899 the State entered into an Agreement (see No. XXI) for the control and discipline of its Imperial Service troops when serving beyond its frontiers: and in 1900 agreed, with the other Punjab States supplying Imperial Service troops, to the mutual surrender of deserters, other than officers, escaping from one State to another.

In 1901, in compliance with the expressed desire of the Government of India to bring about the unification of the postal system throughout India, the Raja agreed to the cancellation of the Postal Convention and the transfer of the postal arrangements in the State to the British Government.

In the same year Balbir Singh, having no issue of his own, adopted his nephew Brij Indar Singh, but his succession was conditional on the Raja having no legitimate son of his own body.

In 1905 the Government of India approved of the permanent adoption of rules regulating the extradition of criminals between Faridkot and Bikaner, which had been tentatively introduced in 1903.

Balbir Singh died in 1906, and was succeeded by Brij Indar Singh, during whose minority the administration of the State was conducted by a Council of Regency until 1914, and subsequently by a Superintendent who held charge of the State for two years.

On the outbreak of the Great War the State offered its Imperial Service Sappers and Miners, and they served in British East Africa.

Brij Indar Singh was invested with full powers in 1916. He died on the 23rd December 1918, and was succeeded by his son the present Raja Har Indar Singh, born on the 29th January 1915. During his minority the administration was carried on by a Council of Regency until February 1921, when it was replaced by the present Council of Administration.

In 1922 the Darbar joined the scheme for the reorganisation of the Indian State Forces, and undertook at the same time responsibility for the internal security of the State, including the stretch of the North Western Railway line which passes through the State.

A Sanad (see No. LXXXIII), removing the existing restriction on the Ruler's power to inflict capital sentences, was granted in 1922.

In 1928 an Agreement (No. XCI) was executed between the British Government and the Faridkot Darbar for the supply of canal water for the storage tank at Kot-Kapura in the Faridkot State. In 1929 this Agreement was renewed for another year.

The area of the State is 642 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 150,661; and the revenue 17 lakhs.

The State pays no tribute to the British Government.

Under the reorganisation scheme of January 1921 the authorised strength of the Faridkot State Forces consists (December 1926) of—

Body Guard Cavalry	27
Infantry	112
Band	35
Sappers—Headquarters	8
Field Company Sappers and Miners	129

The following other State forces are maintained :

Armed Police	108
--------------	-----------	-----

The State possesses 4 serviceable and 2 unserviceable guns.

With effect from the 1st January 1922 the designation “Imperial Service Troops” was changed to “Indian State Forces”.

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

In 1913 the State was removed from the charge of the Commissioner, Jullundur Division, and included in the newly established Bahawalpur Agency. This Agency was abolished in 1921 on the establishment of the Punjab States Agency, when the State was placed in direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States.

11. CHAMBA.

This ancient Hindu Rajput principality came into the possession of the British Government in 1846, when part of it was made over to Maharaja Gulab Singh of Kashmir.

By an agreement with the Maharaja of Kashmir in 1847 (see Vol. XII, Kashmir), Chamba came again entirely under the British Government: and a Sanād (No. XCII) was given to the Raja, Sri Singh, assigning the Chamba territory to him and to his heirs male. In case of his decease without legitimate male issue, his brothers were to succeed in order of seniority.

In 1854 the Raja made over the sanitarium of Dalhousie in return for a remission of Rs. 2,000 from the yearly tribute, which then stood at Rs. 10,000. In 1867 a further remission of Rs. 5,000 a year was made in compensation for lands taken up for military purposes. Subsequent acquisitions and modifications of the land required for military use in 1909, 1912 and 1923 resulted in a further reduction of the tribute, which now stands at Rs. 2,307-4-0 per annum.

In 1862, at the request of the Raja, who had become deeply involved in debt, a British officer was appointed Superintendent.

In the same year the Ruler received a Sanād of Adoption (see Part I, Punjab, No. XVII).

In 1864 the Raja leased (No. XCIII) all his forests to Government.

In 1867 the Ruler of Chamba was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

Sri Singh died without issue in 1870, and, as by the terms of the Sanad the succession, in default of legitimate heirs, devolved upon the eldest surviving brother, his half-brother Gopal Singh was recognised as Chief, to the exclusion of the younger brother Suchet Singh, who claimed the Chiefship on the ground of his being the full brother of Sri Singh.

In 1872 the forest lease of 1864 was revised (No. XCIV).

In 1873 Gopal Singh abdicated in favour of his minor son Sham Singh. Suchet Singh renewed his claims, but they were again rejected. Gopal Singh died in 1895.

During Sham Singh's minority the administration was carried on by a British officer in concert with officials of the State. In 1884 Sham Singh was invested with full powers, on condition of his appointing a suitable Wazir and conforming to the advice of the Superintendent. The Superintendent was withdrawn in 1885.

A Postal Convention (see No. XI), was concluded in 1886. This was revised (No. XCV) in 1896.

In 1903 Sham Singh, who had no issue, abdicated, dying two years later. He was succeeded by his brother Bhure Singh, who had conducted the administration of the State on his behalf for some time previously.

In 1905 the forest lease of 1864, which had been renewed in 1884, was again renewed (No. XCVI), with some modifications, for a further period of 20 years: but in 1908 the control of the State forests was, as an experimental measure, restored to the Darbar for a period of five years on certain conditions, the provisions of the lease of 1905 being held in abeyance for that period. The experiment was successful: and in 1913 the Government of India sanctioned the permanent restoration to the Raja of control of his forests, subject to the continuance of the existing conditions.

On the outbreak of the Great War the Raja offered his personal services and the resources of his State to the British Government.

Bhure Singh died in September 1919 and was succeeded by his elder son the present Raja Ram Singh, born in 1890.

A Sanad removing the existing restriction on the Ruler's power to inflict capital sentences was granted (see No. LXXXIII) in 1922.

In June 1922, owing to the ill-health of the Raja, the administration of the State was temporarily placed in the charge of his brother, Mian Kesri Singh; but the Raja resumed charge of the administration in September 1923. He is assisted by a British Adviser.

In 1923 the Darbar joined the scheme for the reorganisation of the Indian State Forces, and undertook responsibility for the internal security of the State including the protection of communications.

The area of the State is 3,216 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 141,867; and the revenue about 7 lakhs.

Under the reorganisation scheme of January 1921 the authorised strength of the Chamba State Forces consists (December 1926) of—

Cavalry	:	:	:	:	:	:	:	:	:	:	:	16
Infantry	:	:	:	:	:	:	:	:	:	:	:	200

The State possesses 3 serviceable and 4 unserviceable guns.

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

The State was in political relations with the Punjab Government through the Commissioner of Lahore until the establishment of the Punjab States Agency in 1921, when it was placed in direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States.

12. SUKET.

This ancient Hindu Rajput principality came into the possession of the British Government by the Treaty of Lahore. In October 1846 the State was granted (No. XCVII) to Raja Ugar Sen, who had tendered his allegiance to the British Government at Bilaspur in February 1846.

In 1862 the Ruler received a Sanad of Adoption (see Part I, Punjab, No. XVII).

In 1867 the Ruler of Suket was granted a permanent salute of 11 guns.

Ugar Sen died in 1875, and was succeeded by his son Rudar Sen, who was deposed in April 1878 for proved incapacity to govern, and died in 1886. He was succeeded by his son Dusht Nikandan Sen, during whose minority the administration was carried on by a Council of Regency, assisted by a Government official as Manager. He received full ruling powers in 1884.

The administration of Dusht Nikandan Sen was so unsatisfactory is to call for the interference of the Punjab Government. In 1892 he was given a year's trial to enable him to retrieve his position as a ruler, and at his own request an Assistant Commissioner was deputed to act as his counsellor and adviser during that period. The Raja's control was restored in 1893, subject to the condition that the appointment of a Wazir should not be made without the consent of the Commissioner. The State was for a time under the immediate political charge of the Assistant Commissioner, Kulu, acting as Political Assistant to the Commissioner of Jullundur; and in 1902 this arrangement was restored, the condition regarding the appointment of a Wazir being withdrawn at the same time.

Dusht Nikandan Sen died in 1908 and was succeeded by his eldest son Bhim Sen. On the outbreak of the Great War Raja Bhim Sen offered his own services, and the State contributed gifts to the value of nearly 2 lakhs. He died on the 12th October 1919 and was succeeded by his brother the present Raja Lakshman Sen, born in 1894.

A Sanad (see No.LXXXIII), removing the existing restriction on the Ruler's power to inflict capital sentences, was granted in 1922.

In December 1924 a rebellion took place which necessitated the despatch of troops from Dharamsala to restore order. The Raja retired from the State and the administration was entrusted to the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States. A loan of a lakh of rupees was given by the Government of India to restore the finances of the State. Raja Lakshman Sen returned to Suket in June 1925, and resumed the administration of the State on certain conditions.

The area of the State is 420 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 54,328; and the revenue Rs. 2,25,000.

The Ruler pays an annual tribute of Rs. 11,000 to the British Government.

The military forces of the State consist (1926) of 3 Cavalry and 34 Infantry.

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

The State was in political relations with the Punjab Government through the Commissioner, Jullundur, until the establishment of the Punjab States Agency in 1921, when it was placed in direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States.

13. LOHARU.

Ahmad Bakhsh Khan, the founder of the family, was a vakil of the Raja of Alwar. For his services in the negotiations between Alwar and Lord Lake, he received in 1806 Loharu in perpetuity from the Raja, and (No. XCVIII) the pargana of Firozpur in the Gurgaon district from Lord Lake, on condition of fidelity and military service. He died in 1827 and was succeeded by his son Shams-ud-Din Khan, who was executed in 1835 for the murder of Mr. Fraser, the Agent at Delhi. The Ferozpur pargana was confiscated, and the Loharu pargana was made over to Amin-ud-Din Khan and Zia-ud-Din Khan, the brothers of Shams-ud-Din. Owing to disputes between the brothers, the younger was deprived of all share in the management of the State, and a fixed allowance of Rs. 18,000 a year was assigned to him.

In 1847 Zia-ud-Din Khan preferred a claim, which was finally disallowed, to be entrusted with the management of the State, or to have half of it separated off to himself. These two brothers remained in Delhi during the siege in 1857. After its capture they were put under surveillance, but were eventually released and restored to their position.

In 1862 the Ruler of Loharu received a Sanad of Adoption (see Part I, Punjab, No. XXII).

Amin-ud-Din Khan died in 1869 and was succeeded by his son Ala-ud-Din Ahmad Khan. Claims put forward by Zia-ud-Din Khan to the right to manage the State were again negatived. In 1874 the hereditary title of Nawab was conferred (No. XCIX) on the Ruler of Loharu.

Ala-ud-Din Ahmad Khan's extravagance involved the State in debt. In 1878 Government granted a loan of Rs. 23,000, and in 1882 a further loan of Rs. 95,000, with which the Commissioner of Hissar settled the claims of all concerned. One of the conditions on which the second loan was granted was that Ala-ud-Din Ahmad Khan should live out of Loharu, the management of the State being vested in his eldest son.

In 1883 the Government of India sanctioned the introduction of extradition rules between Loharu and the States of Jaipur and Bikaner, similar to those then in force between the Jaipur and Patiala States.

Ala-ud-Din Ahmad Khan died in 1884 and was succeeded by his eldest son Amir-ud-Din Ahmad Khan. From 1893 to 1902 he was Superintendent of the Maler Kotla State. During his absence the management of the Loharu State was entrusted to his younger brother Sahibzada Aziz-ud-Din Ahmad Khan.

In order to pay off the debts of the State the Government of India sanctioned in 1907 a loan of Rs. 3,11,000 from the Mamdot Estate: and the financial control of the State was placed in the hands of Aiz-ud-Din Ahmad Khan, the heir-apparent.

In 1903 Nawab Amir-ud-Din Ahmad Khan was granted a personal salute of 9 guns: and in 1918 the Ruler of Loharu was granted a permanent salute of 9 guns.

In April 1920 Nawab Amir-ud-Din Ahmad Khan abdicated at his own request, retaining the title and his salute of 9 guns as a personal distinction. He was succeeded by his son Aiz-ud-Din Ahmad Khan.

In 1922 the State joined the scheme for the reorganisation of the Indian State Forces, and also undertook responsibility for the internal security of the State.

A Sanad removing the existing restrictions on the Ruler's power to inflict capital sentences was granted (see No. LXXXIII) in 1923.

Aiz-ud-Din Ahmad Khan died on the 30th October 1926 and was succeeded by his son the present Nawab Amin-ud-Din Ahmad Khan; born on the 23rd March 1911. During his minority the administration of the State is conducted by a Council of Regency, with his grandfather the ex-Nawab Amir-ud-Din Ahmad Khan as Regent.

The area of the State is 222 square miles; the population, according to the Census of 1921, 20,621; and the revenue Rs. 1,13,500.

Under the reorganisation scheme of January 1921 the authorised strength of the Loharu State Forces consists (December 1926) of—

Infantry	30*
Camel Corps	30

The following other State forces are maintained:

Cavalry	13
Armed Police	10

The State possesses 2 serviceable guns.

The State was liable to the operation of the Nazarana rules up to 1911 when, on the occasion of the Coronation Darbar, all such levies were abolished.

Until 1911 the State was in political relations with the Punjab Government through the Commissioner of Delhi. It was then transferred to the Commissioner of Ambala until the establishment of the Punjab States Agency in 1921, when it was placed in direct relations with the Government of India through the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States.

TRANSLATION of an ITTILAH-NAMEH addressed to the CHIEFS of the country of MALWA and SIRHIND on this side of the River Sutlege (3rd May 1809).

It is clearer than the sun, and better proved than the existence of yesterday, that the detachment of British Troops to this side of the Sutlege was entirely in acquiescence to the application and earnest entreaty of the Chiefs, and originated solely through friendly considerations in the British to preserve the Chiefs in their possessions and independence. A Treaty having been concluded on the 25th April 1809 between Mr. Metcalfe on the part of the British Government and Maharaja Runjeet Sing agreeably to the orders of the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council, I have the pleasure of publishing, for the satisfaction of the Chiefs of the country of Malwa and Sirhind, the pleasure and resolutions of Government contained in the seven following Articles:—

ARTICLE 1.

The country of the Chiefs of Malwa and Sirhind having entered under the protection of the British Government, in future it shall be secured from the authority and control of Maharajah Runjeet Sing, conformably to the terms of the Treaty.

ARTICLE 2.

The country of the Chiefs thus taken under protection shall be exempted from all pecuniary tribute to the British Government.

ARTICLE 3.

The chiefs shall remain in the exercise of the same rights and authority within their own possessions, which they enjoyed before they were taken under the British protection.

ARTICLE 4.

Whenever a British Force, for purposes connected with the general welfare shall be judged necessary to march through the country of the said Chiefs, every Chief shall, within his own possession, assist and furnish the British Force, to the full of his power, with supplies of grain and other necessaries which may be demanded.

ARTICLE 5.

Should an enemy approach from any quarter for the purpose of conquering this country, friendship and mutual interest require that the Chiefs join the British Army with their forces, and, exerting themselves in expelling the enemy, act under discipline and obedience.

ARTICLE 6.

Any European articles brought by merchants from the eastern districts, for the use of the army, shall be allowed to pass by the thanadars and sirdars of the several districts belonging to the Chiefs without molestation or the demand of duty

ARTICLE 7.

All horses purchased for the use of the Cavalry Regiments, whether in Sirhind or elsewhere, the bringers of which being furnished with sealed rahdarees from the Resident at Delhi, or Officer Commanding at Sirhind, the several Chiefs shall allow such horses to pass without molestation or the demand of duty.

PROCLAMATION addressed to the SIKH SIRDARS, etc., 22nd August 1811.

On the 3rd of May 1809 an Ittalah-nameh, comprised of seven Articles, was issued by the orders of the British Government, purporting that the country of the Sirdars of Sirhind and Malwa, having come under their protection, Rajah Runjeet Sing, agreeably to Treaty, had no concern with the possession of the above Sirdars; that the British Government had no intention of claiming peshcush or nuzzuranah, and that they should continue in the full control and enjoyment of their respective possessions. The publication of the above Ittalah-nameh was intended to afford every confidence to the Sirdars that they had no intention of control and that those having possession should remain in full and quiet enjoyment thereof.

Whereas several zemindars and other subjects of the Chiefs of this country have preferred complaints to the officers of the British Government, who, having in view the tenor of the above Ittalah-nameh, have not attended, and will not in future pay attention to them; for instance, on the 15th June 1811, Dellawer Ali Khan, of Samana, complained to the Resident of Delhi against the officers of Rajah Saheb Sing, for jewels and other property said to have been seized by them, who, in reply, observed: "that the cusba of Samana, being in the omaldery of Rajah Saheb Sing, this complaint should be made to him;" and also on the 12th July 1811, Dussownda Sing and Goormook Sing complained to Colonel Ochterlony, Agent to the Governor-General, against Sirdar Churru Sing, for their shares of property, etc.; and in reply, it was written on the back of the urzee, that "since during the period of three years no claim was preferred against Churru Sing by any of his brothers, nor even the name of any co-partner mentioned, and since it was advertised in the Ittalah-nameh, delivered to the Sirdars, that every Chief should remain in the quiet and full possession of his domains, their petition could not be attended to." The insertion of these answers to complaints is intended as examples, and also that it may be impressed on the minds of every zemindar and other subjects that the attainment of justice is to be expected from their respective Chiefs only, that they may not, in the smallest degree, swerve from the observance of subordination. It is therefore highly incumbent upon the Rajahs and other Sirdars on this side of the River Sutlege that they explain this to their respective subjects and court their confidence; that it may be clear to them that complaints to the officers of the British Government will be of no avail, and that they consider their respective Sirdars as the source of justice, and that of their free will and accord they observe uniform obedience.

And whereas, according to the first proclamation, it is not the intention of the British Government to interfere in the possessions of the Sirdars of this country, it is nevertheless, for the purpose of ameliorating the condition of the community, particularly necessary to give general information, that several Sirdars have, since the last incursion of Rajah Runjeet Sing, wrested the estates of others, and deprived them of their lawful possession, and that in the restoration they have used delays until detachments from the British Army have enforced restitution, as in the case of the Ranee of Jeera, the Sikhs of Cholian, the talooks of Karowley and Chehloundy, and village of Cheeba ; and the reason of such delays and evasions can only be attributed to the temporary enjoyment of the revenues, and subjecting the owners to irremediable losses. It is therefore by order of the British Government, hereby proclaimed, that if any of the Sirdars or others have forcibly taken possession of the estates of others, or otherwise injured the lawful owners, it is necessary that, before the occurrence of any complaint, the proprietor should be satisfied, and by no means to defer the restoration of the property ; in which, however, should delays be made, and the interference of the British authority become requisite, the revenues of the estate, from the date of the ejection of the lawful proprietor, together with whatever other losses the inhabitants of that place may sustain from the march of troops, shall, without scruple, be demanded from the offending party ; and for disobedience of the present orders, a penalty, according to the circumstances of the case and of the offender, shall be levied, agreeably to the decision of the British Government.

Agent to Governor-General.

SUNNUD to the MAHARAJAH of PUTTEALA, dated 22nd September 1847.

The Right Honorable the Governor-General having resolved to bestow certain lands on the Rajah of Putteala as a mark of consideration for his attachment and services to the British during the late war with the Lahore State, and the Rajah of Putteala having requested that he may at the same time receive a renewed assurance of protection and guarantee of his rights in his former possessions, the Governor-General is pleased to confer this assurance in the form of a Sunnud or Grant as follows, in order that the Maharajah and his successors after him may, with perfect confidence, continue to exercise the same rights and authority in his possessions as heretofore.

The Maharajah's ancient hereditary estates, according to annexed schedule,* shall continue for ever in the possession of himself and his successors, with all Government rights thereto belonging of Police jurisdiction and collection of revenue as heretofore. The Maharajah's chaharumians, feudatories, adherents and dependants will continue bound in their adherence and obligations to the Rajah as heretofore. His Highness will exert himself to do justice and to promote the welfare and happiness of his subjects, while they on their part, considering the Rajah as their true and rightful lord, must obey him and his successors accordingly, and pay the revenue punctually, and be always zealous to promote the cultivation of their lands, and to testify their loyalty and obedience. The Maharajah has relinquished for himself and his successors for ever all right to levy excise and transit duties which have been abolished throughout the Putteala territory. His Highness also binds himself and his successors to the suppression of suttee, infanticide, and slave-dealing within his territories. If, unknown to the Maharajah's authorities, any persons should be guilty of these acts, the Maharajah's authorities will on conviction punish them with such severity as to deter others. His Highness will also appoint encamping grounds for British troops at the different stages which shall be marked off, so that there be no claims made hereafter on account of damaged crops.

TRANSLATION of a SANAD regarding possession of territory granted to the MAHARAJA of PATIALA, by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India, dated the 5th May 1860.

Whereas since the day of the rise of the sun of the everlasting British Empire and supremacy in this country of India, the acts of loyalty and devotion to Government of Farzand-i-khas-i-Daulat-i-Inglisia, Mansur-i-Zaman, Amir-ul-Umara, Maharaja Dhiraj, Rajesar Sri Maharaja Rajagan Naraindar Singh Mahindar Bahadur and ancestors and predecessors of the said Maharaja on occasions of war and battle, etc., have become fully conspicuous; accordingly as a reward for these good services and aid and assistance with troops and supplies, etc., they have always been distinguished and exalted by the powerful British Government by being granted territory and titles and raised in degrees of honour and dignity. Particularly in the year 1857 A.D. during the days of the insurrection and mutiny of wretched persons the Maharaja Sahib Mahindar Bahadur rendered and displayed worthy and conspicuous services which surpassed his previous achievements. Therefore, in recognition of such approved services, the powerful British Government, by way of Royal favour and kindness, has conferred on the Maharaja Sahib Mahindar Bahadur, some territory and additional title for generation after generation and descendant after descendant. The Maharaja Sahib Bahadur has applied for a renewal of the sanad regarding his ancestral territory as well as that granted to him previously and now by the powerful Government. In view of this His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General is pleased to approve of the grant of the present sanad by way of treaty with the conditions entered below as a memorable document :—

CLAUSE I.

According to the list annexed to this Sanad, the Maharaja Sahib Bahadur and his successors will, in the present and future time, exercise sovereignty, with peace of mind and in perfect security, in accordance with ancient custom, over his ancestral possessions and the dominions bestowed on him by the British Government and consider the territory granted to him by the British Government in recognition of his good services as his ancestral territory with all powers and rights, internal and external. All powers great and small, administrative and criminal and in respect of the produce of revenue, etc., will, as heretofore, remain permanently vested in the power and control of the Maharaja Sahib Bahadur and his successors generation after generation and descendant after descendant, in present and in future for ever and in perpetuity; and (his) brothers, Zaildars, Chaharumians (persons entitled to a fourth share), feudatories, Jagirdars and dependants will, according to old custom, obey the orders and commands of the Maharaja Sahib Bahadur and his successors.

CLAUSE II.

The powerful British Government will not demand or exact anything on account of nazarana, land revenue, administrative or criminal cesses, compensation on account of troops, etc., or on any other plea whatever, in the present or future, from the Maharaja Sahib Mahindar Bahadur, his successors, dependants, brothers, Zaildars, Jagirdars, Chaharunnians or feudatories except as provided in Clause III.

CLAUSE III.

As an additional Royal favour and having regard to the loyalty and devotion of the Maharaja Sahib Mahindar Bahadur the powerful Government desires that this territory should always remain under the sovereignty of this family. Therefore the power of adoption is granted for ever to the said Maharaja Sahib and his successors so that in case there is no lineal descendant, they may, for the purpose of perpetuating the line of Chiefship, adopt a successor, according to their own choice from among the descendants of the Phulkian family. The powerful Government cordially accepts and agrees to this. The powerful Government also grants permission that in case—may God forbid—the Maharaja on the masnad should suddenly die, without leaving a lineal descendant or an adopted successor, the Raja Sahib of Jind and the Raja Sahib of Nabha, in concert with the Commissioner Sahib Bahadur, may select a successor from among the Phulkian family and place him on the masnad. In that case nazarana to the extent of one-third of the income of the State for one year will be paid into the treasury of the British Government by the Patiala State.

CLAUSE IV.

In the year 1847, an agreement regarding the infliction of capital punishment after reference to the Commissioner Sahib Bahadur and the prevention of female infanticide, sati and slavery, etc., was obtained from the said Maharaja Sahib. That is now cancelled, and absolute power by all means regarding the infliction of capital punishment, etc., in his territory, according to old custom, is granted to the Maharaja Sahib Mahindar Bahadur and his successors. Similarly with regard to punishing subjects of the powerful British Government, committing crime and apprehended in the territory of the Patiala State, the Maharaja Sahib Mahindar Bahadur and his successors are granted power in accordance with the provisions of the despatch No. 3, dated 1st June 1836, from the Hon'ble Court of Directors at the capital, London. The Maharaja Sahib Bahadur will exert himself by every possible means in promoting the welfare of his people and the happiness of his subjects and redressing the grievances of the oppressed and injured in the proper way. He will prevent in his territory female infanticide, sati and slavery, which are opposed to the principles of justice and equity towards the people, in accordance with the provisions of the former sanad. In the event of any person at any time committing the above mentioned prohibited crimes without the knowledge of the officials of the Maharaja Sahib Bahadur, the latter will inflict deterrent punishment on him.

CLAUSE V.

The Maharaja Sahib and his successors will never fail in their faithful and devoted obedience to the Empress, Queen of England, and her successors.

CLAUSE VI.

If at any time any hostile troops with mischievous intention should appear in his neighbourhood from any side or direction, the Maharaja Sahib Bahadur will along with his existing force sincerely and loyally co-operate with the English in repelling them in accordance with past practice. He will exert himself, to the utmost of his resources, in providing supplies, grains, etc., and transport according to the requisitions of British officers.

CLAUSE VII.

Complaints against the Maharaja Sahib from his subjects, Muafidars, Jagirdars, dependants, brothers and servants, etc., will on no account be listened to by the powerful British Government.

CLAUSE VIII.

With regard to internal management and the affairs of brothers, household and relatives, the rules and arrangements made by the Maharaja Sahib Mahindar Bahadur will always be respected and not interfered with by the powerful British Government.

CLAUSE IX.

On the occasion of the construction and repairs of roads in his territory the Maharaja Sahib Bahadur will, in accordance with the written communication of the Commissioner Sahib Bahadur, arrange from his own territory, through kardars and officials of Parganas, according to former custom, for the materials required, on payment; and at the time of the construction of a rail-road or other roads, the Maharaja Sahib Bahadur will concede, free of charge, land that comes under the roads in the same way as he has done for the Imperial road.

CLAUSE X.

The Maharaja Sahib Bahadur will always pursue the course of obedience and loyalty to the powerful Government who will likewise continue to uphold his honour, respect, rank and dignity in the manner it is done at present.

The British Government agree to construct for the Puttiala State a line of telegraph consisting of one wire, on the standards to be erected between Umballa and Lahore, from Umballa to Rajpore, and a one-wire line from Rajpore to Puttiala, at a cost of Rupees (15,526) fifteen thousand five hundred and twenty-six, more or less; and His Highness the Maharaja of Puttiala agrees to pay the actual cost incurred in the construction of the line, on its being officially reported to His Highness that the Telegraph Office at Puttiala has been established and opened; and His Highness the Maharaja of Puttiala also agrees to defray all expenses and cost on account of the salaries of the signallers, and of the necessary menial servants attached to the Office and peons for the delivery of messages, and to provide free of charge or rent and to keep in good and habitable repair a suitable house or building, to be approved of by the Director General of Telegraphs in India, if necessary, for the accommodation of the Telegraph Office to be established and maintained at Puttiala, and of the employés and others considered necessary for the efficient working of it.

2. With the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, extra wires may at any time be added by the Telegraph Department for the Puttiala State, on terms and conditions to be agreed upon at the time between the Puttiala State and the Government of India.

3. This line shall be called the Puttiala Telegraph line, and the materials shall be the property of the Puttiala State. But if from any special reason, the Puttiala State should at any time deem it proper to abolish the line, it will be necessary for that State to give notice to the Punjab Government six months beforehand for dismantling the line.

4. His Highness the Maharaja agrees to pay annually such sums as may be required to keep the line in good repair, together with the sum of Rupees (900) nine hundred only to cover the cost of supervision.

5. The Telegraph Office at Puttiala shall remain open night and day for the receipt and despatch of messages, or during such hours as from time to time may be arranged by the Durbar in communication with the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab.

6. The entire proceeds from the line between Umballa and Puttiala shall belong to the Puttiala Telegraph line. The charges on messages delivered at Puttiala for transmission along any British line and the charge levied at any British Telegraph Station for delivery at Puttiala shall include the charge for both lines, and the account between the British Government and the Puttiala State for such messages shall be adjusted quarterly, viz., on 31st March, 30th June, 30th September, and 31st December of each year.

7. For the first year, the whole of the receipts for telegrams sent from the Puttiala Office shall appertain to His Highness the Maharaja of Puttiala, and the receipts for all messages sent to Puttiala shall appertain to the British Government; subsequent thereto the Government of India reserves to itself the right at any time, on giving three months' notice or intention thereof, to change the system from that in force during the first year, and to divide the revenues derived from messages sent to and from Puttiala between His Highness and the British Government in proportion to the average distance over which the messages are transmitted.

8. The Telegraph Master, the Signallers, and all officials employed in the Puttiala Telegraph Office shall be officers of the British Telegraph staff; but they shall be natives and not Europeans or Eurasians; and His Highness the Maharaja agrees to pay them regularly month by month such pay as they may be entitled to from their position in the British service.

9. His Highness the Maharaja agrees to apply to the Puttiala Telegraph line the provisions of the British Telegraph Act, No. VIII of 1860, and such other Acts or legal provisions as have been or may hereafter be passed by the British Government with reference to Telegraphs.

10. His Highness the Maharaja agrees to apply to the Puttiala Telegraph line any rules or regulations that are now or may hereafter be made applicable to lines of Telegraph in British India. The British Government will undertake to furnish the Puttiala State with accurate translations of such Acts, rules and regulations.

11. His Highness the Maharaja agrees that the Puttiala Telegraph line shall be open to the inspection and supervision of the Director General of Telegraphs and of any officer deputed by him for that purpose.

12. The British Government agrees that, whenever the Maharaja shall find occasion to be dissatisfied with any of the officials employed in the Puttiala Telegraph Office and may wish to remove them from office, such officials shall, on His Highness the Maharaja's application, be at once removed, and other officers shall be sent to fill their place as soon afterwards as practicable.

13. Jurisdiction in regard to offences against the Telegraph Act, committed in Puttiala territory by native subjects of the British Government or by subjects of the Maharaja, will be regulated by Clause 4 of the Sunnud dated 5th May 1860 granted to His Highness the Maharaja by the British Government. European British subjects accused of such offences shall be tried in British Courts.

14. The British Government shall furnish, for the information of the Puttiala State, a half-yearly or yearly report embodying all the proceedings of the Puttiala Office showing the total receipts and disbursements, the total number of messages in a classified form, and other necessary facts.

15. In most urgent cases the Puttiala State will, during the pleasure of the British Government, have the power of ordering the line to be cleared.

No. X.

TERMS of AGREEMENT between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the STATES of PUTTIALA, JHEEND, and NABHA regarding the Sirhind Canal, executed at Umballa, on the one part, on behalf of the British Government, by MR. GORE OUSELY, COMMISSIONER, UMBALLA DIVISION, duly empowered by HIS EXCELLENCY the VICEROY and GOVERNOR-GENERAL of INDIA in COUNCIL; and on the other part, on behalf of the Puttiala State, by KHALIFA SYUD MAHOMED HOSSEIN, MEER MOONSHEE, duly empowered by HIS HIGHNESS the MAHARAJA of PUTTIALA; and on behalf of the Jheend State, by SIRDAR TUMUND SING and LALLA MOHUR SING, duly empowered by HIS HIGHNESS the RAJA of JHEEND; and on behalf of the NABHA STATE, by MEER MOONSHEE RAMDYAL and SIRDAR BISHEN SING, Adawluttee, duly empowered by HIS HIGHNESS the RAJA of NABHA,—1873.

1. The project to be drawn out under the exclusive control of the British Government on the general basis of taking the water in the most economical manner to those districts east of the Sutlej to whom it can in an engineering point of view most advantageously be carried.

2. The original designs for the Canal works will be drawn out under the sole direction of the British Government, every possible attention being given to the wishes of the Governments of the other States concerned as to the precise direction and position of the Canals, etc., consistently with sound engineering principles.

3. On the final settlement of the project the share of the water-supply to be allotted to the Branch Canal shall be determined on the general basis of giving a fairly equal proportion to all the districts traversed by the entire system of canals, having regard to the lands that will actually be capable of receiving irrigation from them.

4. In the subsequent part of this Agreement the Ubohur and Bhuttinda branch canals will be referred to as the British branches, and the Kutlah, the Central, and the Choa Branches will, for the sake of brevity, be alluded to as the Puttiala branches, as they chiefly pass through the territory of the Puttiala State.

5. Water shall be distributed, if required and so far as practicable, from the British branch canals rateably to all villages along their courses whose lands can be advantageously irrigated therefrom, whether those villages are under British jurisdiction, or that of any other State.

6. Similarly on the Puttiala branches the distribution shall be made rateably to all villages, whether belonging to the Puttiala or any other State.

7. The land required for the canals and works in connection with them shall be made over by the Government of each State traversed according to its own usage, all payments of compensation being made by the British Government in accordance with the regulations in force in the several States, and the amount being dealt with as a part of the general expenditure on the canal works.

8. Compensation will be paid for any building or house injured by the works,

9. The entire cost of the main canal, inclusive of original surveys and the preparation of the project, shall be borne by the British Government and Native States concerned in proportion to the water-supply allotted to each ; but the whole cost of the Puttiala branches shall be borne entirely by the States concerned in similar proportion.

N.B.—Puttiala paid the expense of the preliminary surveys and project incurred in 1862. This will be added to the general cost of the whole project and be shared by all the parties concerned.

10. Each State will defray the entire expenditure on its own rajbhas, which will be designed (unless otherwise mutually agreed upon) as far as possible so as to provide separately for the lands of the several States, and will be specially assigned to the States by the British Government which will determine all doubtful points relating to this assignment.

11. The States interested in the Puttiala branches concerned shall supply annually, to meet the cost of construction while the works are in progress, a proportion of the estimated annual outlay on the main canal equal to the share of the entire water-supply allotted to those branches, as well as the whole of the funds required for those branches in shares proportioned to the quantity of water allotted to each.

12. On the completion of the works an account will be drawn out by the British Government of the actual expenditure on those portions of the project of which the cost is to be defrayed proportionally by the several Governments, and a final statement will be prepared of the exact sum due from the several States concerned, when each State will pay or receive back any difference between its actual payments year by year and its ultimate share of the cost.

13. The above account of total cost will include the charges for the original surveys and proper charges for establishments, etc., whether incurred by the British or any of the other Governments concerned ; and credit will be given to every State for payments made by it directly.

14. Copies of such parts of the British accounts of the expenditure on construction will be furnished periodically to the Governments of the several States concerned, so far as may be desired by them.

15. The several States concerned shall pay to the British Government an annual sum as seigniorage on the Sutlej water supplied to the Puttiala branches in shares proportioned to the quantity of water allotted to each.

16. The seigniorage to be paid by the States interested in the Puttiala branches in consideration of the water supplied to them by the British Government will be at a rate not exceeding four annas per acre.

17. The sum to be paid annually will be calculated on the area actually irrigated during the year by the British branches of the canal, and in proportion to the relative volumes of water passing at the time down the British and Puttiala branches respectively, that is to say, if, with 2,000 cubic feet per second passing down the British branches, 200,000 acres have been irrigated, and 1,000 cubic feet per second have been at the same time discharged in the Puttiala branches, the seigniorage to be 100,000 acres at four annas, equal to Rupees 25,000.

N.B.—The area irrigated will be the actual area, i.e., an acre of double crop land will not be reckoned as two acres.

18. No seigniorage will be demanded so long as the British canals yield no profit, and as long as the profits from the British branches shall be so small as would render the seigniorage rate of four annas per acre unduly high, such seigniorage shall be proportionately reduced to one, two, or three annas per acre at the discretion of the British Government.

The British Accounts Department will determine when the canals yield profit.

19. The first payment of seigniorage will be demanded on the eleventh year after the admission of water into the Puttiala branches.

20. In cases of any falling off in the annual supply of water entering the main canal channel, the British Government and the other States will share the actual supply according to the original proportion fixed, and the other States shall have no claim for compensation from the British Government on account of any such reduction of the supply.

21. The gauge registers at the regulating head of the British and Puttiala branches shall be held to give authoritative data for calculating the quantity of water supplied.

22. No State will have any claim against the British Government on account of water escaping unused from the branches, because it is not required or used in their territories. Should the British Government realize any income from the surplus (unused) water of the Puttiala branches, the States concerned shall be entitled to claim a remission of seigniorage in proportion to the income so derived.

23. The several States shall pay the same share of the annual charges for maintenance of the main canal as they pay of the first cost of that portion of the works.

24. The original construction of the Puttiala branches, with their collateral works, including rajbhas, shall be carried out exclusively by the British Government under its own officers, as in the case of the main canal and the British branches.

25. Subsequent to the admission of water, the management of the main channels of the Puttiala branches and their connected works shall rest entirely in the hands of the British Government, but all expenses of maintenance of these channels shall be defrayed by the several States in shares proportioned to the quantities of water allotted to each.

26. The management and distribution of water from rajbhas and all other arrangements connected therewith shall be under the control of, and the whole of the costs of maintenance and management of the rajbhas shall be defrayed by, the States to which they respectively belong.

27. The details of superintendence, powers of local officers, and other matters connected with management, shall be settled by the Punjab Government with the States concerned, subject to the confirmation of the Supreme Government.

28. Offenders against Canal Regulations in villages irrigated from the Puttiala or British branches, or bordering on Puttiala or British branches shall be made over by the Canal Officers for infliction of penalties to the officers of the Government in whose territory those villages are situated, a right of reference to the Punjab Government being allowed in case of any dispute or difference of opinion.

29. Each State shall be bound to give a right of passage through its lands for any water channel, large or small, when required by any other of the States concerned, the only compensation claimable from the State to which such water-course belongs being the value of the land occupied and the property thereon. The supervision of rajbuihas and other minor channels thus made shall remain with the Government to which they belong as in the case of other similar works within its own territories.

30. In case of dispute between any two States as to the amount of compensation to be paid on account of land taken up, or any other matter under this agreement, the amount of compensation or dispute shall be determined by an officer appointed by the British Government.

31. The tolls levied on boats, rafts, etc., navigating the canals shall be the same on all the channels, whether those channels belong to the British or any other State.

32. No transit duties on goods passing along the canals shall be levied by any of the Governments concerned. This will not prevent the levy of customary duties on goods or merchandise landed from boats, etc., plying on the canals for consumption in towns, etc.

33. The amount of toll levied on through traffic shall be shared between the British Government and the States concerned, in proportion to the distance traversed on the channels belonging respectively to each.

34. A share of the navigation tolls of the main canal shall be allotted to the States concerned in proportion to their share of the entire water-supply.

35. In all other cases the tolls shall belong to the State in exclusive possession of the channels traversed.

36. The navigation tolls to be credited to the States concerned in the Puttiala branches thus consist of three portions :—

1st.—Share of tolls on the main canal.

2nd.—Share of “ through ” traffic tolls between the British and Puttiala branches.

3rd.—All tolls on boats, etc., navigating the Puttiala branches exclusively. The amount will be shared by the States concerned in proportion to the shares of the first costs of the channels defrayed by each respectively.

37. A share of the value of miscellaneous produce such as wood, grass, etc., on the main canal shall be credited to the Puttiala branches in proportion to the share of the water-supply allotted to them.

38. The above share of produce on the main canal with the whole of the value of similar produce on the Puttiala branches (not including rajbuhās) will be shared by the States concerned, in proportion to their shares in the first cost.

39. Each State will supply annually, as required, the whole of the funds for maintenance of the work, etc., appertaining to its own territory, as well as a share of the estimated cost of maintenance of the branches, plus the portion of the maintenance expenses of the main canal referred to in paragraph 23 : these last in shares proportioned to their shares in the first cost.

40. The British Government reserves to itself the right of extending or altering the canal at any future time in any way it pleases, on the understanding that the share of the water first assigned to the Puttiala branches, and the other rights of the States concerned under this agreement shall not be interfered with or diminished without their consent being first obtained. And the expenses of such extension or alteration will be distributed in proportion to the advantages expected to accrue from such action to any of the parties concerned under this agreement.

41. So long as the original construction of the Puttiala branches shall be in progress, it shall be the duty of the officers in charge to pay due attention to any representations of the Chiefs of the States concerned or their officers, and to carry out their wishes as far as may be practicable or advisable.

42. In consideration of the advantages given by the canal from the Sutlej, the Puttiala State will allow the British Government, if it desires to do so, to take a small water-course from the Guggur to supply the cantonment and town of Umballa, the water-course to carry about 20 cubic feet per second. A proportion of the charge for seigniorage on the Sutlej water shall be remitted to compensate for the grant of the Guggur water if this water-course be made ; no other claim to lie against the British Government in connection with the construction of the water-course.

43. In case of any difference of opinion arising between any officers of the States concerned and the British Canal Officers on any matter relating to the management of the canal, it shall be referred to the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, whose decision shall be final. If any difference of opinion shall arise between any of the States concerned and the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, as to the construction of this agreement, a reference may be made to the Governor-General in Council, whose decision shall be final.

44. It shall at any time be competent for the British Government to resume the entire management of the canal works or irrigation in the territories of any of the States concerned, if it shall consider that that State has not properly fulfilled the obligations which attach to the discharge of the duties which will devolve on it under the arrangement detailed above.

45. These obligations may be summed up as follows :—

1st.—Complete regularity in the payment of the salaries of all persons employed on the canals and in the provision of the funds necessary for carrying out the works which will be needed for the proper maintenance of the canals.

If from any want of proper attention on the part of any of the States concerned, the British Government is at any time forced to advance money for the due performance of works or payments of salaries, etc., which will properly fall on that State under these arrangements, then the British Government must be understood to have the right to take complete charge of the whole administration of the canal, channels, and irrigation pertaining to that State, and to retain them under its own officers until the evil complained of be corrected and matters be placed on a sound footing. But in such case, out of the income from the canal after deducting expenses any surplus which may accrue shall be made over to that State concerned in whose territory such administration may have been assumed.

2nd.—Complete impartiality in the distribution of the water among the villages along the canals, so that the British villages and those of other Native States shall, if required, share the water equally with the villages of the States concerned ; also an equal administration of justice to all persons over whom the officers of the States concerned may exercise jurisdiction, so that the subjects of the British Government or of any Native State shall be dealt with according to the same principles of law as are respected by the officers of the British Government.

3rd.—Ready and friendly compliances on the part of the Governments of the States concerned with those requests of the Punjab Government and its superior officers, who have chief charge of the Irrigation Department in the Punjab, which shall be declared by them to be essential for the proper maintenance and satisfactory working of the canals as a whole.

The Governor-General in Council will at all times be ready to receive any representation from the Government of any of the States concerned, if that Government considers that the spirit of the present proposals is from any cause not fully acted up to by the officers of the Punjab Government on whom the immediate duty of carrying them out will devolve.

No. XII.

AGREEMENT between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the PATIALA STATE regarding the SIRSA BRANCH of the WESTERN JUMNA CANAL,—1893.

1. The entire project to be carried out under the exclusive control of the British Government on the general basis of taking a supply of water in the most economical manner from the Western Jumna Canal above the Indri Regulator to those portions of the Kaithal Tahsil of the Karnal District, the Nirwanah Pargana of the Patiala State and the Fatahabad and Sirsa Tahsils of the Hissar District, to which it can, from an engineering point of view, be most advantageously carried.

2. The original designs for the canal works, including all Distributaries, shall be prepared and carried out under the sole direction of the British Government, every possible attention being given to the wishes of the Patiala State, as to the precise direction and position of the channels traversing its territory, consistently with sound engineering principles.

3. On the completion of the detailed surveys for all distributaries the British and Patiala shares of the water-supply available shall be determined on the general basis of the proportions of the areas commanded by the entire system in British and Patiala territory, respectively.

NOTE.—In this and subsequent Articles the term “commanded area” shall be held to mean the areas that can be naturally and conveniently commanded.

4. In the subsequent parts of this agreement the upper portion of the Sirsa Branch Canal, from its head above Indri to the point at which it first enters Patiala territory, will be called the First or British Upper Section, which will also include any escape that may be constructed, irrespective of the territory in which its head is situated, the portion from the point where the Canal first enters to the point where it finally leaves Patiala territory will be called the Second or Patiala Section, and the remainder of the Branch will be called the Third or British Lower Section. Also the distributaries which may be designed solely or mainly for the irrigation of Patiala territory, whether their heads be situated in a British or Patiala section of the branch, will be called Patiala Distributaries, while all other distributaries will be called British.

5. Every effort will be made to design all the British and Patiala Distributaries so as to exclusively irrigate British and Patiala territory, respectively; but whenever a departure from this principle may be necessitated by the physical configuration of the country, or by other engineering considerations, water shall be distributed from both the British and Patiala Distributaries, rateably, to all villages along their courses whose lands can be advantageously irrigated therefrom, whether such villages be under the jurisdiction of the British or the Patiala Government.

6. The land required for the canal and works in connection with it shall be made over by the Patiala Government according to its own usage, all payments of compensation being made by the British Government in accordance with the procedure that has been observed in the payment of compensation for land made over by the Patiala Government for the purpose of the Sirhind Canal, and the amounts so paid being dealt with as a part of the general expenditure on the canal works.

7. Compensation will be paid for any building or house injured by the works.

8. The entire cost of the First or British Upper Section of the Sirsa Branch, exclusive of distributaries, but inclusive of original surveys and the preparation of the project, and also of such additions to and improvements of the head works and main line of the Western Jumna Canal, as may be rendered necessary by the increase in the supply required for the Sirsa branch, shall be borne by the British and Patiala Governments in the proportion of the water-supply finally allotted to each under Article 3 of this Agreement.

The entire cost of the Second or Patiala Section, exclusive of Distributaries, shall be borne by the British and Patiala Governments according to the proportions of their respective commanded areas, after deducting from the British area the area commanded in British villages situated in the First Section.

The entire cost of the Third or British Lower Section shall be borne by the British Government.

9. The entire cost of the British Distributaries will be borne by the British Government, and that of the Patiala Distributaries by the Patiala Government.

A branch or minor distributary taking off from a main distributary belonging to one Government for the purpose of exclusively irrigating the territory of the other Government shall be constructed and subsequently maintained at the cost of the Government whose territory will be exclusively served by it.

10. The Patiala State shall supply annually, to meet the cost of construction while the works are in progress, such sums as may be estimated by the British Government as approximately equivalent to the share of the outlay of the year, which will be ultimately chargeable to the State under the terms of Articles 8 and 9 of this Agreement.

11. On completion of the works, an account will be drawn out by the British Government of the actual expenditure incurred on the different portions of the project, and a final statement will be prepared of the exact sum due from the Patiala State, which will then pay or receive back any difference between its actual payments year by year and its ultimate share of the cost.

12. The above account of total cost will include the charges for the original surveys, and proper charges on account of establishment, etc., whether incurred by the British or Patiala Government, and credit will be given to the Patiala State for all payments made by it directly.

13. Copies of such parts of the British accounts of the expenditure on construction will be furnished periodically to the Patiala State as may be desired by it.

14. The British Government shall have at all times the sole right of determining and controlling the supply to be passed into the Sirsa Branch Canal, due regard being paid to existing or established interests on the other portions of the Western Jumna Canal.

15. Subsequent to the admission of water, the management of the entire length of the Sirsa Branch (but not of the Patiala Distributaries except as provided in Articles 21 and 22) shall remain entirely in the hands of the British Government, but all expenses of maintenance of the Branch, distributaries and connected works shall be shared by the British and Patiala Governments as provided in the next following Articles of this Agreement.

16. The annual charges for the maintenance of the first, second and third sections (not including distributaries) and the corresponding incidental charges for establishment and tools and plant, but not those for general direction, shall be borne by the British and Patiala Governments in the same proportions as those in which the final direct capital charges on account of these sections (not including distributaries) may be ultimately distributed between the two Governments; but all charges for the annual maintenance of Patiala Distributaries shall be borne exclusively by the Patiala Government, except as provided in Articles 21 and 22 of this Agreement.

17. Similarly, all miscellaneous revenue, i.e., revenue derivable from other sources than the supply of water for purposes of irrigation, that may be realized in the first, second and third sections of the Sirsa Branch (not including distributaries), will be credited to the British and Patiala Governments in the proportions of the ultimate distribution of the direct capital outlay upon these sections (not including distributaries).

18. The Patiala State shall be entitled to all revenue that may be assessed or assessable on account of irrigation or of sales of water for other purposes in Patiala villages, whether the water be supplied from British or Patiala Distributaries. Similarly, the British Government shall be entitled to all revenue that may be assessed or assessable on account of irrigation or of sales of water for other purposes in British villages, whether the water be supplied from a British or a Patiala Distributary.

19. With effect from the first day of April next after the date on which the first of the Patiala Distributaries is supplied with water the Patiala State shall pay a share of the annual cost of maintaining the head works and main line of the Western Jumna Canal above Indri, and also of the annual general charges for direction that may be debitable to the revenue account of the Western Jumna Canal. This share shall be determined annually by the British Government on the basis of the proportion of the actual or estimated area of irrigation in Patiala territory to the entire area irrigated on the Western Jumna Canal (including the actual or estimated Patiala area) that obtained in the year next preceding.

NOTE.—For the purpose of this Article the actual area of irrigation in Patiala territory shall be taken as long as the Patiala Distributaries may, in accordance with the provision of Article 21 of this Agreement, be controlled and administered by the British Government; but after the Patiala Distributaries have been finally made over to the Patiala State, the area to be taken as that of Patiala irrigation shall be estimated in the manner provided in Article 32. The entire area irrigated by the Western Jumna Canal shall also include the area in Jind territory, for which a fixed annual payment is made by the Jind State, in accordance with the Agreement for the time being subsisting between the British and Jind Governments.

20. The Patiala State shall not be entitled to any share in any revenue realized on the head works or main line of the Western Jumna Canal, the whole of which shall be creditable to the British Government.

21. The Patiala Distributaries shall remain under the sole control and administration of the British Government for a period of five years dating from the commencement of the first crop to which water may be supplied from a Patiala Distributary. After the expiry of five years from the above date, the Patiala Distributaries shall be transferred to the control and administration of the Patiala State provided that in the case of any Patiala Distributary of which the head is situated in British territory, the British Government shall retain the control and administration of the portion lying between the head and the boundary of the Patiala State and shall bear the whole cost of the maintenance of such portion.

In every case in which the upper portion of a Patiala Distributary may remain under the control of the British Government under this Article, a gauge shall be erected in the distributary at or near the point at which it enters Patiala territory, and the British Canal Officer shall maintain such depths of water on the gauge (which shall be regularly recorded) as may ensure to the Patiala State its fair share of the supply.

22. During the period that the Patiala Distributaries shall remain under the control and administration of the British Government, the Patiala State shall pay all charges incurred in respect of the maintenance and administration of such distributaries, including a proportionate share of establishment, except those that may be incurred in respect of the maintenance and administration of any portions lying in British territory between the heads of the distributaries and the Patiala boundary, which will be borne by the British Government under Article 21.

23. The British Government shall arrange for the assessment of all revenue in Patiala villages during the period that the Patiala Distributaries remain under its control and administration, but will forward the assessment papers to the Patiala State for realization of the amounts assessed.

The rates of assessment during such period shall equal the combined occupier's and owner's rates that may be prescribed for British villages.

24. After the Patiala Rajbahs have been transferred to the control and management of the Patiala State, each Government will conduct the assessment of the villages under its own jurisdiction, irrespective of the distributaries from which water may be supplied to them, but in all cases in which a village under one Government is irrigated from a distributary belonging to the other, the Government owning the distributary shall be entitled to a copy of the measurement papers.

25. The Patiala Distributaries shall be entitled to a percentage of the total supply entering the Sirsa Branch, which shall be equal to the percentage of the supply to which the Patiala State may be entitled under Article 3 of this Agreement, with such addition as may be necessary for the irrigation of any British territory that may be commanded by Patiala Distributaries, and with a proportional deduction on account of any area of Patiala territory that may be commanded by British Distributaries.

26. The supply entering the Sirsa Branch shall be held to be the supply passing a certain point in the First Section, situated above the head of the First British Distributary in that Section. The supply passed into the Patiala Distributaries shall be held to be the difference between the supply passing a certain point in the Sirsa Branch situated between the heads of the last British Distributary in the First Section and of the first Patiala Distributary, and the supply passing a certain point situated between the heads of the last Patiala Distributary and of the first British Distributary of the Third Section. The precise position of all three points shall be determined by the British Government.

27. Gauges shall be fixed at the three points in the Sirsa Branch referred to in Article 26, and the registers of their readings shall be held to give authoritative data for the determination of the percentage of the whole supply entering the branch which is passed into the Patiala Distributaries.

28. The regulation of the water passing into the heads of the Patiala Distributaries shall be entirely under the control of the British Canal Officer in charge of the Sirsa Branch. The requirements of each distributary will be communicated from time to time by an agent appointed by the Patiala State for this purpose, and the British Canal Officer shall comply with these requirements, provided that they are within the limits of the supply to which the Patiala Distributaries may at the time be entitled under Article 25.

But in seasons of short supply it shall be optional for the British Canal Officer to pass into the Patiala distributaries an intermittent supply in excess of the percentage due to them, and to shut off the supply either partially or entirely during the intervening periods, provided that the aggregate supply passed into the Patiala Distributaries during a period of not more than fourteen days shall not, except with the consent of the Patiala Agent, or unless his indents are complied with in full, form a smaller percentage of the total supply entering the Sirsa Branch during the same period than will be due to them under the provisions of Article 25.

In the event of a breach in the bank of a Patiala Distributary, or of sudden rainfall, or on any other emergency, the supply entering the head shall on the requisition of a recognized or duly authorized State official be instantly shut off, or reduced to the extent or within the limits that may be permissible under the rules in this regard that may from time to time be issued by the British Canal Officer.

29. The British Canal Officer shall furnish the Patiala Agent, at intervals of not less than fourteen days, with a statement showing—

- the average daily supply entering the Sirsa Branch ;
- the average daily supply due to the Patiala Distributaries ;
- the average daily supply passed into the Patiala Distributaries ;
- the daily gauge readings at head of each Patiala distributary, and the readings applied for by the Patiala Agent.

30. Other matters connected with the management of the canal and its connected works shall be settled by the Punjab Government with the Patiala State, subject to the confirmation of the Supreme Government.

31. The Patiala State shall pay to the British Government an annual sum as seigniorage on the Jumna water supplied to Patiala territory at a rate which shall vary according to the estimated area of Patiala irrigation as follows :—

ESTIMATED AREA IN ACRES		Rate of scigniorage per acre.
Not less than	Below
..	42,000	Nil.
42,000	44,000	One anna.
44,000	46,000	Two annas.
46,000	48,000	Three annas.
48,000	..	Four annas.

32. The area on which seigniorage is to be paid annually will be estimated on the basis of the area actually irrigated during the year from the British Distributaries and the relative proportions of the supplies actually passed into the British and Patiala Distributaries during the same period, a deduction being made on account of the actual area of British territory irrigated from Patiala Distributaries, and an addition on account of the area of Patiala territory irrigated from British Distributaries.

Example.—If the area irrigated on British Distributaries were 70,000 acres, and the supplies passed into the British and Patiala Distributaries averaged 700 and 300 cubic feet per second, respectively, the estimated area of irrigation of the Patiala Distributaries would be as follows :—

— of 70,000 = 30,000 acres.

700

But if 3,000 acres of the Patiala territory were irrigated from the British Distributaries, and 6,000 acres of British territory were irrigated from Patiala Distributaries, the estimated area of Patiala irrigation would be—

$30,000 + 3,000 - 6,000 = 27,000$ acres, and the seigniorage to be paid would be 27,000 acres at four annas, equal to Rs. 6,750.

33. The first payment of seigniorage will be demanded on the area irrigated during the year 1902-3 ; that is, on the area irrigated during the Kherif of 1902 and the Rabi of 1902-3.

34. In the event of any falling off in the supply of water available for the Sirsa Branch, the actual supply available shall be shared with the Patiala State in the proportions fixed under this Agreement, and the Patiala State shall have no claim for compensation from the British Government on account of any such reduction of the supply.

35. The Patiala State shall have no claim against the British Government if the full percentage of supply allotted to the Patiala Distributaries be not taken, but a portion be allowed to pass on into the Third Section ; neither shall the State be entitled to claim a remission of seigniorage on this account, as the charges for seigniorage will be based on the supplies actually passed into the Patiala Distributaries. Nor shall it have any claim against the British Government on account of water escaping unused from the Patiala Distributaries, because it is not required or used in Patiala territory ; but should the British Government realize any income from such surplus or unused water, the Patiala State shall be entitled to claim a remission of seigniorage equal to one-eighth of the income so derived, provided that whenever the rate of seigniorage is less than four annas per acre the above rate of remission shall be reduced proportionately.

36. The Patiala State shall furnish the British Government with half-yearly statements, giving for each harvest such information regarding the area irrigated by, the income derived from, and the working expenses of, the Patiala Distributaries as may be required by the British Government in connection with the annual statistics of the Western Jumna Canal.

Similarly, the British Government shall furnish the Patiala State with such half-yearly or annual statements relating to the working of the Western Jumna Canal as may be desired.

37. Offences against canal regulations shall be dealt with as follows :—

If a native British subject commits an offence in the Patiala territory and is apprehended in that territory, he will be tried by the officers of the Patiala State, but if he is not apprehended in that territory, the officers of the Patiala State may report the matter to the British Canal Officer, and that officer will then proceed as if the offence had been committed in British territory.

The same procedure will be followed, mutatis mutandis, in the case of offences committed in British territory by subjects of the Patiala State.

38. The British Government reserves to itself the right of extending or altering the Sirsa Branch at any future time in any way it pleases, on the understanding that the share of the water first assigned to the Patiala State under this Agreement shall not be interfered with or diminished without its consent being first obtained. And the expenses of such extension or alteration will be distributed in proportion to the advantages expected to accrue from such action to either of the parties concerned under this Agreement.

39. So long as the original construction of the Patiala Section and Distributaries shall be in progress, it shall be the duty of the officers in charge to pay due attention to any representations of His Highness the Maharaja of Patiala or his officers, and to carry out their wishes as far as may be practicable or advisable.

40. In case of any difference of opinion arising between the officers of the Patiala State and the British Canal Officers on any matter relating to the management of the Sirsa Branch Canal and its distributaries, it shall be referred to the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, whose decision shall be final. If any difference of opinion shall arise between the Patiala State and the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab as to the construction of this Agreement, a reference may be made to the Governor-General in Council, whose decision shall be final.

41. It shall at any time be competent for the British Government to resume the entire management of the Patiala Distributaries, or of the irrigation in Patiala territory, if it shall consider that that State has not properly fulfilled the obligations which attach to the discharge of the duties which will devolve on it under the arrangement detailed above.

42. These obligations may be summed up as follows:—

1st.—Complete regularity in the payment of the salaries of all persons employed on the canal, and in the provision of the funds necessary for carrying out the works which will be needed for its maintenance.

If from any want of proper attention on the part of the Patiala State, the British Government is at any time forced to advance money for the due performance of works, or payment of salaries, etc., which will properly fall on that State under these arrangements, then the British Government must be understood to have the right to take complete charge of the whole administration of the canal channels and irrigation connected with the Sirsa Branch which pertain to the State, and to retain them under its own officers until the evil complained of be corrected and matters be placed on a sound footing. But in such case, out of the income from the canal, after deducting expenses, any surplus which may accrue shall be made over to the State.

2nd.—Complete impartiality in the distribution of water from the Patiala Distributaries, so that the British villages adjacent thereto shall, if required, share the water equally with the villages of the Patiala State, also an equal administration of justice to all persons over whom the officers of the Patiala State may exercise jurisdiction, so that the subjects of the British Government shall be dealt with according to the same principles of law as are respected by the officers of the British Government.

3rd.—Ready and friendly compliance on the part of the Patiala State with those requests of the Punjab Government and its superior officers who have chief charge of the Irrigation Department in the Punjab which shall be declared by them to be essential for the proper maintenance and satisfactory working of the Sirsa Branch as a whole.

The Governor-General in Council will at all times be ready to receive any representation from the Government of the Patiala State, if that Government considers that the spirit of the present proposals is from any cause not fully acted up to by the officers of the Punjab Government on whom the immediate duty of carrying them out will devolve.

(a) The supply in the Distributary shall never exceed a certain maximum gauge which will be determined from time to time by the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division.

(b) During periods of insufficient supply the Distributary shall be closed completely and so as to avoid leakage at the head for such periods as may be prescribed by the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division.

(c) In the event of a breach in the Distributary or of a sudden cessation in the demand, the supply entering the head shall not be shut off to such an extent as may cause a rise of the supply on the Canal gauge next below the head of the Distributary in excess of the limit which may be from time to time prescribed by the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division. Should a further reduction of the supply be required, the person in charge of the regulation shall report at once to the nearest Canal subordinate, and await his instructions or a lowering of the supply.

(d) The person in charge of the regulation of the supply to a Distributary shall maintain a correct record of the gauges in the head reach of the Distributary and of the Canal gauges in the vicinity, when these are not recorded by a servant of the Executive Engineer's Establishment. Copies of the gauge registers shall be sent daily to the Executive Engineer, and the register shall be at all times available for the inspection of the Executive Engineer and his subordinate officers.

8. If the regulation of the supply entering a Distributary be not carried on in strict accordance with the conditions prescribed in the preceding article, the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, will at once report the matter to the State concerned, and if the State fail to notice his representation or to make satisfactory arrangements for more efficient regulation, the Executive Engineer shall resume the regulation of the supply to all the Distributaries owned by the State concerned, or to as many of them as he may consider necessary. In all such cases a report of the circumstances shall be made by the Executive Engineer to the Chief Engineer, through the Superintending Engineer of the Circle. The orders of Chief Engineer shall be final, and in the event of the Executive Engineer's action being confirmed the control of the supply to the Distributaries concerned shall not be restored to the State without his permission.

9. The requirements of the State in each of their respective Distributaries will be communicated to the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, at suitable intervals in the form of a requisition or indent, stating the depths of water and corresponding supplies required at the head of each Distributary. If sufficient water be available, the Executive Engineer will pass into each Branch the full supply required to meet all indents in full. If the supply be insufficient, he will either reduce the supplies or depths asked for in each Branch, so as to give to each its proper share of the actual supply, or he will arrange to close or reduce the supply to one or more Branches for a suitable interval, and in rotation so as to run the others with the full supply indented for, or as near to the indent as may be practicable. The method to be adopted in the distribution of the supply between the Branches will depend on the exigencies of the irrigation and the wishes of the States concerned, which the Executive Engineer will consult as far as possible.

10. When the supply available is not sufficient to meet all indents in full, the Executive Engineer will scrutinize the indents submitted by each State, and when necessary will make such a reduction in the aggregate indent of either of them as may bring it within the limit of the established proportion of the available supply to which it is entitled, viz. :—

	Per cent.
Patiala	83·6
Nabha	8·8

in the same manner as laid down in Clause 20 of the Terms of Agreement for the distribution of supplies between the British and Patiala Branches.

11. Reductions of indents under the preceding articles will not, as a rule, be made in the quantity of water applied for in particular Distributaries (except when these quantities will cause an excess of the maximum permissible gauge), but in the time during which the Distributaries shall be permitted to remain open. Thus if the aggregate indent of a State amounts to 200 cubic feet for a period of ten days and the supply available will allow 160 cubic feet only, the Distributaries may be run to the full extent of the indent for eight days, and closed during two. The Executive Engineer will determine and intimate to the States the necessary durations of such closures.

12. The distribution of the supply for each indent period must be settled on its own basis, and the fact of a State having indented for less than its full share in previous periods will not entitle it to more than its due share in a given period. Similarly, if a State does not take its full or sanctioned share in any day of a period, it will not on this account be entitled to more than its share on any other day during the same period.

NOTE.—This article relates only to cases in which a State has not taken on a particular day or for a particular period the full gauge allowed by the Executive Engineer. It will not affect the arrangement of closures ordered by the Executive Engineer, under which a State may be given less than its share for one day or period, and more than its share for a subsequent day or period.

13. The Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, will, as soon as possible after the receipt of an indent, inform the State concerned of the orders passed thereon, and of the reasons for any modifications or reductions. In such orders the particular days or periods during which closures of particular Distributaries are to be enforced should be clearly stated.

14. The gauge registers for the heads of the several Distributaries will be held to give authoritative data for calculating the quantity supplied to them, subject however to such tests and verification as the Executive Engineer may deem necessary.

15. These gauge registers will be carefully maintained in bound books by the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, and will show for each day—

(a) The gauge indented for and that allowed by the Executive Engineer on the State indent, when the indent has been modified.

(b) The actual gauge readings in the Branch and in the Distributary immediately above and below the head of the Distributary, and in all cases in which the heads have been supplied with gates and rack gearing, the actual height of the gate opening.

(c) The volume discharged.

(d) The reasons for the allowed indents not being complied with in full.

At the close of each month the daily discharges will be totalled.

16. In another bound book the total discharges of the Distributaries for each month will be abstracted and compared with the total or daily discharges at the head of the Patiala Branch (First Feeder), and with the discharge to which each State would be entitled at the established proportion, after deducting for loss in the Branches. For this purpose the Distributaries belonging to each State will be grouped together, and the aggregate of their discharges shown. Differences between the actual discharges and those calculated on the established proportions will be duly explained.

17. A copy of this monthly abstract will be sent by the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, to the Superintending Engineer of the Circle as soon as possible after the close of each month, and it will be the duty of the Superintending Engineer to scrutinize these returns carefully, and to satisfy himself that the principle of proportionate distribution is attended to by the Executive Engineer. The Executive Engineer will also send a copy to each of the Signatory States if requested to do so.

18. Complaints on the part of a Signatory State regarding the distribution of water will be addressed to the Superintending Engineer of the Circle and sent through the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, who in forwarding the complaint will attach his explanation to it. The Superintending Engineer will communicate his decision on the subject to the State and an appeal will lie to the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab under Clause 43 of the Terms of Agreement.

19. The Officers of the Patiala Division will have power to observe discharges in the Distributaries of the Signatory States, and to do all things needful to ascertain the volumes of water passing into the said Distributaries. The States to whom the Distributaries belong will be bound to provide funds for the construction of discharge sites, gauges, and any other works which the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, may consider necessary for the actual measurement of the said discharges.

20. The Signatory States will be bound to make arrangements for the supply of labour for urgent works, delay in the execution of which would endanger the safety or efficiency of the Patiala Branches. The names of the villages which are to supply labour, the number of labourers to be supplied by each village, the names of the responsible persons, who shall be addressed when labour is required to be collected, the rate of wages, and other details will be settled by the States in communication with the Superintending Engineer of the Circle, and the arrangements will be such as will ensure the labour being promptly supplied on the requisition of the Executive Engineer of the Patiala Division, or of the Sub-Divisional Officers.

21. British villages commanded by the Distributaries of a Signatory State will be entitled to a share of the supply sufficient for the irrigation of the same percentage of the area commanded as may be allowed in other villages on the same Distributaries, subject to the following conditions:—

(a) The regular payment of all charges for water supplied whether for irrigation or other purposes, subject to the conditions of Article 23 of this Convention.

(b) The due observance of such rules and regulations for the distribution of the supply, maintenance of watercourses, etc., as may be made by the State, and are in accordance with the Canal Act and Rules passed under it.

(c) Abstention from wilful or malicious damage to the State Distributary or its connected works, or from interference with the officers or servants of the State in the discharge of their legitimate duties.

(4) The supply of a fair and reasonable number of labourers in the event of a breach of the banks of the Distributary or other accident within the boundaries of the villages concerned.

In the event of either of these conditions not being fully complied with, the State owning the Distributary may make a representation on the subject to the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, who will at once proceed to enquire into the matter and will pass such orders as may be appropriate. Cases of offences under Section 70 of the Canal Act will be tried by the Executive Engineer in his capacity as a Canal Magistrate under that section.

In the event of a general or persistent disregard of the above conditions the State concerned may, after communication with the Executive Engineer, reduce or withdraw the supply assigned to the village in question, provided that the supply shall not be reduced or withdrawn during the currency of a crop, and that no outlet shall be closed or removed for a longer period than one year or two harvests without the concurrence of the Local Government.

22. The Executive Engineer will be the medium for all communications on matters relating to the Canal between the States and the British villages irrigated from the Patiala Branches. The States will address him when they find reason to complain regarding the action of the villagers, and he will take such action as may appear necessary in each case, keeping the States informed of the final orders passed by him. Similarly, complaints on the part of the villagers will be addressed to him, and he will, after due investigation, send on to the States concerned cases which appear to require action on the part of the State; the final orders passed by the State in each case will be communicated to him.

23. The charges for water supplied to British villages from the Patiala Branches, whether for irrigation or for other purposes, are not to exceed the charges which are leviable under the schedule of rates in force on the British Branches for water supplied from those Branches to villages of the British and Signatory States. The Superintending Engineer of the Circle will supply each State with a schedule of the rates in force on the British Branches for irrigation from Canals and Escapes, and for supply of water for other purposes, and will communicate any alterations in the said schedule that may from time to time be sanctioned by the British Government.

24. The Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, will be the sole Agent through whom the sums due from British villages irrigated from the Patiala Branches are to be recovered, and the States will refrain from attempting to collect money direct from the inhabitants of British villages, except as provided in Article 26 of this Convention.

25. The procedure for the recovery of water-rates on account of irrigation in British villages from the Patiala Branches will be as follows :—

(a) If the measurements of the land irrigated are made by the officials of a Signatory State, it will be the duty of these officials to inform the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, of the dates on which the measurements will be made. The Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, will then give due information to the Deputy Commissioners of the Districts concerned, who will issue orders to the Lambardars and Patwaris to attend the measuring parties. On completion of the measurements the official of the State will hand over the "parchas" to the Lambardars for distribution to the villagers and make out the Demand Statements, which will be forwarded through the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, to the Deputy Commissioners of the Districts concerned, who will collect the revenue as assessed.

(b) The villagers may lodge any complaints within the prescribed period either with State officials or with the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, or with the Deputy Commissioner. The two latter officers will forward any objections so received to the State for due inquiry. If remissions be granted, the State officials will forward the usual Remission Statements, through the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, to the Deputy Commissioner, who will take the necessary action. The amount due as fees to Lambardars which shall equal 3 per cent. on the amount to be collected, will be shown on the "Khataunis" which will be forwarded through the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, to the Deputy Commissioner. The Deputy Commissioner will, after making the necessary deductions on this account, remit the balance of the demand to the several States concerned.

No retrenchment will be made by any Signatory State from the amounts due as fees to Lambardars on account of non-fulfilment of the conditions laid down in Rule 37, passed under Act VIII of 1873, but the State will duly report to the Deputy Commissioner, through the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, cases in which those conditions have not been complied with to its satisfaction, and the Deputy Commissioner will take such action as he may consider necessary, of which the States concerned will be duly informed.

(c) The Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, will, if requested to do so by a Signatory State, undertake to record and measure the irrigation in British villages from the Patiala Branches, subject to such conditions as regards payment by the State of the cost of the Establishment required and other matters as may be approved by the Punjab Government.

(d) The Punjab Government reserves to itself the right of deputing Patwaris to attend the State measurements in British villages irrigated from the Patiala Branches, who will take a copy of the State Khasra or measurement paper, will make out the Demand Statements and prepare and distribute the "parchas." In this case the procedure prescribed in Clauses (a) and (b) will be so far modified that the State officials will not make out the "parchas" or the Demand Statements, but will merely forward to the Deputy Commissioner through the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, an abstract of the demand, or "Jamabandi" for each village, while in addition to the deduction for Lambardars' fees of 3 per cent. on the amount to be collected, a further deduction of 2 per cent. will be made for the remuneration of the Patwaris employed.

26. Demand Statements for the recovery of charges other than water rates from British villages irrigated from the Patiala Branches will be sent by the States to the Executive Engineer, Patiala Division, who after satisfying himself of their correctness, will forward them to the Deputy Commissioner of the District concerned for realization, provided that in cases in which the villagers do not dispute the claim, they shall be permitted to pay such demands to the officials of the State concerned. All amounts collected by the Deputy Commissioner on account of charges other than water-rates shall be remitted to the Signatory States connected in the same way as provided in the case of water-rates.

27. The Signatory States will, after the close of each year ending 31st March, forward through the Political Agent, Phulkian States, to the Superintending Engineer, Sirhind Canal, for inclusion in the annual Revenue Report of that canal, statistical returns showing the working of the Distributaries of the Patiala Branches, during the past year in the respective States.

The returns will be in such forms, will contain such information, and will be forwarded on such dates as may from time to time be prescribed by the Punjab Government. In like manner the Punjab Government will forward to the Signatory States similar returns and annual reports relating to the British Branches and Distributaries.

28. The foregoing stipulations will remain in force until modified or added to with the consent of the Punjab Government on the one part, and the Signatory States concerned on the other part. It will be open to the Punjab Government and to any one or more of the Signatory States to propose such modifications and additions as may from time to time be found desirable, provided that they shall be binding only on the assenting parties and shall not be prejudicial to the interests of any non-assenting Signatory State.

This agreement made the eighteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred and ten between the British Government (hereinafter called the Lessor) of the one part and His Highness Maharaja Bhupindar Singh, Chief of Patiala (hereinafter called the Lessee which expression shall include his successor or successors and assigns) of the other part: Whereby the Lessor lets and the Lessee takes subject to the following terms and conditions all those plots or pieces of land situated in the villages of Drola Drauli Main and Tulwal in the Kaithal Tahsil of the District of Karnal in the Punjab being in admeasurement about 58 acres and 1 rood and being delineated and coloured green on the plan* hereto annexed and signed by the parties.

3. The Lessee will construct and maintain at his own expense such crossings over the said lands as may be deemed necessary by the Lessor.

4. The Lessee will use the said lands for the purpose of a drainage outfall of the city of Patiala and for no other purpose.

5. If and whenever the rent shall be in arrears for thirty days or if and whenever there shall be a non-observance of any of the stipulations on the part of the Lessee herein contained the Lessor may re-enter upon the said lands or any part thereof and may repossess the same.

TERMS of AGREEMENT amending Articles 27, 28 and 29 of the AGREEMENT, dated 29th August 1893, between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the PATIALA STATE, regarding the SIRSA BRANCH of the WESTERN JUMNA CANAL, 10th February 1926.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

27. Careful discharge observations will be made at the points where the supply is gauged for the purpose of arriving at the shares due to the Patiala State and the actual supplies passed to it by the British Canal Officer. Such discharge observations should as far as possible be observed at least once every month. The Patiala State Agent shall receive timely notice of the dates on which it is proposed to take these discharges and shall have the option of taking part in the observations. The results shall be intimated to the Patiala State Agent whether he is present at the observations or not.

28. Under the arrangement proposed, the distribution between the Patiala Distributaries of the full supply due to them as a whole will be effected in accordance with the instructions of the Patiala Canal Agent, to which full effect will be given, as long as they will not involve an excess over the total allotment.

This provision is very necessary. During the Rabi especially the Branch will very often run with supplies barely sufficient for more than one or two Rajbahas, and a system of Rajbaha tatils will be obligatory.

Suppose the Patiala Distributaries to be entitled to 33·3 per cent. or one-third of the total supply. As long as Sirsa Branch is running its full supply of 1,200 cubic feet per second, the Patiala Distributaries would be entitled to a constant supply of 400 cubic feet.

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT.

27. Gauges shall be fixed at the three points in the Sirsa Branch referred to in Article 26, and their registered readings shall be held to give authoritative data for the determination of the percentage of the whole supply entering the Branch which is passed into the Patiala Distributaries.

28. The regulation of the water passing into the heads of the Patiala Distributaries shall be entirely under the control of the British Canal Officer in charge of the Sirsa Branch. The requirements of each Distributary shall be communicated from time to time by an Agent appointed by the Patiala State for this purpose, and the British Canal Officer shall comply with these requirements, provided that they are within the limits of the supply to which the Patiala Distributaries may at the time be entitled under Article 25.

But in seasons of short supply it shall be optional for the British Canal Officer to pass into the Patiala Distributaries intermittent supply in excess of the percentage due to them and to shut off the supply either partially or entirely during the in-

But if the whole supply to the Branch fell to 400 cubic feet per second, it would be better to pass the whole 400 feet into the Patiala Distributaries for four days out of twelve, closing them entirely on the remaining eight, than to allow them to run constantly with a supply of only 133 cubic feet per second.

During the period of Rotational Turns, the Sirsa Branch shall be opened and closed at or about 7 p.m. of the day previous to that shown on the Rotational Turn programme.

The calculation of shares due and discharge passed to the Patiala Distributaries shall be based on the morning readings of the gauges referred to in Article 27.

tervening periods, provided that the aggregate supply passed into the Patiala distributaries during a period of each full supply balance or remainder turn in a rotational supply cycle shall not, except with the consent of the Patiala Agent, or unless his indents are complied with in full, form a smaller percentage of the total supply entering the Sirsa Branch during the same period than will be due to them under the provisions of Article 25. Any deficiency in any full supply balance or remainder turn remaining due to Patiala, in spite of every effort to secure equitable distribution, shall be made good in the next consecutive turn (balance remainder or full supply whichever is fixed in the programme of rotational turns) but it shall not be necessary to open the Sirsa Branch in a balance or remainder turn, when it would otherwise remain closed, if the deficiency in the total supply given to the Patiala Distributaries during the previous turns was less than 50 cusec days; the deficiency shall in such cases be made good in the next turn in which the Sirsa Branch is opened.

In the event of a breach in the bank of a Patiala Distributary, or of sudden rainfall, or on any other emergency, the supply entering the Head shall on the requisition of a recognized or duly authorized State Official be instantly shut off, or reduced to the extent or within the limits that may be permissible under the rules in this regard that may from time to time be issued by the British Canal Officer.

29. The British Canal Officer shall furnish the Patiala Agent, on the termination of each turn of the rotation Cycle, with a statement showing :—

- (1) The average daily supply entering the Sirsa Branch ;
- (2) The average daily supply due to the Patiala Distributaries ;
- (3) The average daily supply passed into the Patiala Distributaries ;
- (4) The daily gauge readings at the head of each Patiala Distributary, and the readings applied for by the Patiala Agent.

No. XXVII.

AGREEMENT between the SECRETARY OF STATE for INDIA in COUNCIL and the PATIALA DARBAR for the provision of a SIDING at KANDAGHAT RAILWAY STATION for the PATIALA STATE,—1927.

An Agreement dated the sixth day of June 1927, between the Secretary of State for India in Council, acting in the premises through the Agent of the North Western Railway (hereinafter called the “Railway Administration”) of the one part and His Highness the Maharaja of Patiala’s Government (hereinafter called the “Patiala Durbar”) of the other part; as to the provision of a siding at Kandaghat.

Whereas the Patiala Durbar is desirous of having a siding laid by the Secretary of State for India in Council from the Kandaghat Station Yard of the North Western Railway as shown in Plan No. ^{464-S. Y.}_{K S. 1926} D. L. I. hereto annexed* for the purpose of carrying on their business.

And whereas the Secretary of State for India in Council is willing to lay the said siding for the Patiala Durbar upon and subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth:—

Now, therefore, this Agreement witnesseth as follows that is to say:—

CLAUSE 1.

In this Agreement unless a different intention appears from the subject or context the expression:—

- (a) Railway Administration means the Secretary of State for India in Council acting by and through the Agent for the time being of the North Western Railway and his successors;
- (b) Patiala Durbar means the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Patiala and that of his successors, and
- (c) Siding means and includes the lines of rails, platforms, embankments, ballast, sleepers and all other appurtenant conveniences constructed and provided for the use of the Patiala Durbar and between the line of the North Western Railway and the said premises and within such premises.

CLAUSE 2.

Any land required for the siding outside the Railway boundary and up to the Patiala Durbar’s premises shall be provided by the Patiala Durbar.

CLAUSE 3.

The incidence of cost of the siding as between the Railway Administration and the Patiala Durbar shall be in accordance with the following general principles:—

- (a) Inside the Railway boundary the cost of all works which would have to be abandoned in the event of the siding being closed shall be paid for by the Patiala Durbar, and the cost of all works which would be removed by the Railway Administration in the event of the siding being closed shall be paid for by the Railway Administration.

- (b) Outside the Railway boundary the entire cost of such portion of the siding, together with the cost of all works in connection therewith, shall be paid for by the Patiala Durbar.
- (c) In accordance with the general principle laid down in clause 3 (a) inside the Railway boundary the cost of works such as earthwork, bridges, (exclusive of girder work), culverts, ballast, buildings, etc., shall be borne by the Patiala Durbar and the cost of work such as permanent way (that is, sleepers, rails, fastenings, points and crossing), girder work of bridges, fencing, signalling and interlocking appliances, and machinery of any kind, shall be borne by the Railway Administration.

CLAUSE 4.

The estimated cost of works to be paid for by the Patiala Durbar as defined in clause 3 shall be based on rates of labour, material and stores current for the time being on the Railway and approved as such by the Railway Administration. To the amount thus arrived at a surcharge of twelve and a half per cent. thereof shall be added for supervision during construction.

CLAUSE 5.

On receipt of a statement showing the total estimated amount to be paid for by it, as arrived at in clause 4, the Patiala Durbar shall deposit the said total amount with the Railway Administration through the Chief Auditor of the North Western Railway and the Railway Administration will thereupon sanction the plans and estimates for the siding and proceed to the construction of the siding.

CLAUSE 6.

The construction, as well as the maintenance, of the whole of the siding and of all works in connection therewith, whether outside or inside the Railway boundary, will be carried out by the Railway Administration.

CLAUSE 7.

If the amount actually expended by the Railway Administration (including supervision charges specified in clause 4) for the purposes mentioned in the statement referred to in clause 5 shall be in excess of the total estimated amount provided in the said statement such excess shall be paid, on demand, by the Patiala Durbar to the Railway Administration, and if the aforesaid amount actually expended shall be less than the aforesaid total estimated amount deposited by the Patiala Durbar under clause 5, the balance shall be refunded by the Railway Administration to the Patiala Durbar.

CLAUSE 8.

The Patiala Durbar shall pay the Railway Administration through the Chief Auditor of the North Western Railway annually the following interest and maintenance charges for the siding from the date on which the siding is opened for traffic :—

- (a) Five and a half per cent. on the actual outlay incurred by the Railway Administration in the construction of the siding for the purpose mentioned in clauses 3 (a) and (c) to cover interest charges.
- (b) Three per cent. on the total actual outlay incurred by the Railway Administration on its own behalf and on behalf of the Patiala Durbar for all purposes in the construction of the whole siding and all works in connection therewith to cover maintenance charges.

CLAUSE 9.

(a) In the event of the Patiala Durbar wishing to abandon the use of the siding or in the event of the traffic to and from the siding being at any time, in the opinion of the Railway Administration, insufficient to justify the continuance of the siding, this Agreement will be determined by the Patiala Durbar or the Railway Administration, as the case may be, giving the other party 30 days' notice and after the expiry of such notice the Railway Administration will be at liberty to remove from the siding the permanent way, girder work, machinery and materials of all kinds provided by the Railway Administration under clauses 3 (a) and 3 (c); and the cost of such removal shall be paid by the Patiala Durbar, on demand, to the Railway Administration.

(b) In the event of it being considered necessary by the Railway Administration in the interests of the public that the siding should be closed, or of the Railway Administration desiring to acquire the siding for the purpose of working it for public traffic as part of the Railway System (of which opinion or desire or sanction, as the case may be, the notice hereinafter mentioned shall be conclusive evidence), the Railway Administration shall have the right to terminate this Agreement on giving six months' notice in writing to the Patiala Durbar to that effect; provided that the Railway Administration shall construct at the cost of the Railway for the use of the Patiala Durbar a suitable siding.

CLAUSE 10.

The Railway Administration may at any time construct, or permit the construction of, any branch or extension of the siding and may work traffic over the siding to and from such branch or extension. The Railway Administration may sanction the use of the siding for the traffic of persons, other than the Patiala Durbar, on payment to the Patiala Durbar of a remuneration for such use, the amount of such remuneration to be determined by the Railway Administration. The working of such branch and extension, and the use of the siding by persons other than the Patiala Durbar shall be so conducted as to interfere as little as possible with the free use of the siding by the Patiala Durbar whose traffic shall have precedence. The Railway Administration further reserve the right to use the siding for any other purpose that may be considered necessary without remuneration to the Patiala Durbar.

CLAUSE 11.

(a) In the event of its being necessary to the original construction of the siding to make any alterations or additions thereto, or to any works in connection therewith, such alterations and additions shall be made subject to the conditions governing the original construction or modified as may be mutually agreed to at the time that such alterations or additions are agreed upon.

(b) No alterations or additions shall be made by the Patiala Durbar to the siding, or to any of the works provided in connection therewith, under this Agreement.

(c) Without the sanction of the Railway Administration no temporary or permanent structures shall be erected by the Patiala Durbar in such proximity to the siding as to affect in any way the working of trains over the siding. All structures thus sanctioned shall be made or erected by the Patiala Durbar in all respects in compliance with the Railway Administration's Regulations in force for the time being.

CLAUSE 12.

All sums which under the foregoing conditions shall be payable by the Patiala Durbar on demand, shall, if not so paid, bear interest at one per cent. per mensem from the date on which payment was demanded or due.

CLAUSE 13.

Freight for all classes of goods will be charged up to and from Kandaghat Station. Railway receipts and invoices shall be issued to and from the Station only and in accordance with the rates from time to time published in the Goods Tariff books of the Railway Administration. In addition to such freight the Patiala Durbar will pay siding charges at the rate of Rupees two and annas eight per vehicle for placing or removing every wagon whether loaded or empty in either direction subject to the minimum charge of Rupees ten each time an engine goes over the siding.

CLAUSE 14.

Wagons containing full loads only, i.e., not less than such minimum weight per wagon as may be prescribed by the Railway Administration from time to time, will be carried over the siding.

CLAUSE 15.

(a) Wagons will be made over to the Patiala Durbar and returned by the Patiala Durbar in the form of certificate shown in Annexure A*.

(b) As soon as wagons are placed in the siding the Station Master will fill in columns 1, 2 and 3 of both foils of Annexure A*, and obtain signature of a representative of the Patiala Durbar in column 4 of the inner-foil and make over the outer-foil to him.

When this has been done, the wagons will be considered as made over to the Patiala Durbar and the free time permissible under the rules will then commence. Similarly wagons will be considered as returned to the Railway by the Patiala Durbar as soon as the Station Master has been advised by the representative of the Patiala Durbar that the vehicles are ready for removal.

This will be done by presentation of the outer-foil with column 4 filled in.

The Station Master will then initial in column 5 of the outer-foil, and fill in columns 5, 6, 7 and 8 of the inner-foil and columns 6, 7 and 8 of the outer-foil and recover the demurrage due.

CLAUSE 16.

The Patiala Durbar will be responsible for seeing that the General Rules and Regulations of the Railway are strictly adhered to by its employees engaged in handling wagons and will be responsible for all accidents or loss or damage that may ensue from the neglect or disobedience of such Rules and Regulations by its employees. It will be the duty of the Patiala Durbar to obtain copies of all such Rules and Regulations, and to see that the said employees are made acquainted with them.

CLAUSE 20.

No traffic in commodities belonging to any other person or firm shall, except with the written permission of the Agent of the Railway, be at any time taken or sent by the Patiala Durbar on the siding. No consideration or remuneration of any nature, except such as may be contained in a written permission of the Agent, shall be received or taken by the Patiala Durbar in respect of traffic over the siding.

CLAUSE 21.

The Patiala Durbar shall not assign or sub-let the siding without the written permission of the Agent of the Railway, and in the event of the Agent according permission, the Patiala Durbar shall remain responsible to the Railway Administration and their assignees or sub-lessees shall also become responsible for all charges and obligations in this Agreement.

CLAUSE 23.

Notwithstanding anything laid down in the foregoing clauses of this Agreement, it shall be open to the Railway Administration, on giving six months' notice of such intent, to revise the charges laid down in clauses 8, 12, 13 and 19 of this Agreement.

CLAUSE 24.

In the event of the Patiala Durbar failing to pay any sum due under the foregoing clauses within one month of a written demand from the Railway Administration or in the event of any breach by the Patiala Durbar of any of the conditions of clauses 11 (b) and (c), 20 or 21, then this Agreement may be determined without further notice by the Railway Administration, and the Railway Administration will be at liberty to remove from the siding the permanent way, girder work, machinery and materials of all kinds, provided by the Railway Administration under clauses 3 (a) and 3 (c); and the cost of such removal shall be recovered from the Patiala Durbar by the Railway Administration.

CLAUSE 25.

The siding to which the above terms and conditions relate will be deemed to have come into use on and from the date the said siding is completed and from that date onwards all charges payable to the Railway Administration under the terms and conditions of this Agreement shall be paid.

CLAUSE 26.

All expenses in drawing up the Agreement and the cost of the stamp shall be borne by the Secretary of State in Council.

NO. XXIX.

TREATY concluded between the HONORABLE the EAST INDIA COMPANY and NAWAB BHAWUL KHAN, the RULER of BHAWULPORE, dated the 2nd of February 1833.

By the blessing of God the friendly connection between the Honorable the East India Company and the State of Bhawulpore, which commenced on the occasion of the Honorable Mr. Elphinstone's visit to Cabul in 1808-09, has continued uninterrupted to the present time; and now that Captain C. M. Wade, Political Agent at Loodianah, has arrived at Bhawulpore on the part of the Right Honorable Lord W. C. Bentinck, G.C.B. and G.C.H., the Governor-General of British India, in order to improve these amicable relations and concert the opening of the navigation of the rivers Indus and Sutlej, with a view to promote the general interests of commerce, which is pleasing to God, and the prosperity of the surrounding States, the following are the Articles of a Treaty which has been concluded through the agency of that Officer between the Honorable the East India Company on the one part and Nawab Ruken-ud-Dowlah Hafizul-Mulk Mukhlisud Dowlah Mahomed Bhawul Khan Abbassej Nusret Jung Behauder, the Chief of the Daoodpootras, on the other, for the purpose of confirming the friendship of the two States, the opening of the trade by the above-mentioned rivers and regulating the manner in which the arrangements connected with it are to be carried into effect :—

ARTICLE 1.

There shall be eternal friendship and alliance between the Honorable the East India Company and Nawab Mahomed Bhawul Khan, his heirs and successors.

ARTICLE 2.

The Honorable the East India Company engage never to interfere with the hereditary or other possessions of the Bhawulpore Government.

ARTICLE 3.

As regards the internal administration of his Government and the exercise of his sovereign rights over his subjects, the Nawab shall be entirely independent as heretofore.

ARTICLE 4.

The Officer who may be appointed on the part of the British Government to reside in the Bhawulpore State, shall, in conformity with the preceding Article, abstain from all interference with the Nawab's Government, and respect the preservation of the friendly relations of the two contracting parties.

ARTICLE 5.

The Honorable the East India Company having requested the use of the rivers Indus and Sutlej, and the roads of Bhawulpore for the merchants of Hindostan, etc., the Government of Bhawulpore agrees to grant the same, through its own boundaries, if the persons aforesaid be provided with passports.

ARTICLE 6.

The Government of Bhawulpore engages to fix, in concert with the British Government, certain proper and moderate duties to be levied on merchandize proceeding by the aforesaid route, and never to increase or diminish the same, except with the consent of both parties.

ARTICLE 7.

It is further agreed that the tariff or table of duties, fixed as above, shall be published for general information, and the Custom-house officers and farmers of the revenues of the Bhawulpore Government will be specially directed not to detain the passing trade, after having collected the duties, on pretence of waiting for fresh orders from their Government, or any other pretext.

ARTICLE 8.

The tariff which is to be established for the line of navigation in question is intended to apply exclusively to the passage of merchandize by that route, and not to interfere with the transit duties levied on goods proceeding from one bank of the river to the other, or with the established chokies inland. These will remain as heretofore.

ARTICLE 9.

Merchants frequenting the said route, while within the limits of the Nawab's Government, are required to show a due regard to his authority, as is done by merchants generally, and not to commit any acts offensive to the civil and religious institutions of the country.

ARTICLE 10.

The proportion of duties to which the Nawab may be entitled shall be collected by his officers at the appointed places.

ARTICLE 11.

The officers who are to be entrusted with the examination of the goods and collection of the duties on the part of the Bhawalpore Government shall be stationed opposite to Mithenkote and Hureekkee. At no other place but those two shall boats in transit on the river be liable to examination or stoppage.

ARTICLE 12.

When the persons in charge of boats stop of their own accord to take in or give out cargo, the goods will be liable to the local transit duty of the Bhawalpore Government previously to their being embarked and subsequently to their being landed, as provided in Article 8.

ARTICLE 13.

The Superintendent stationed opposite to Mithenkote having examined the cargo, will levy the established duty and grant a passport with a written account of the cargo and freight; on the arrival of the boat at Hureekkee, the Superintendent at that station will compare the passport with the cargo, and whatever goods are found in excess will be liable to the payment of the established duty, while the rest, having already paid duty at Mithenkote, will pass on free.

ARTICLE 14.

The same regulation shall be in force for merchandize coming from Hureekkee towards Sindh.

ARTICLE 15.

With regard to the safety of merchants who may frequent this route the Nawab's officers will afford them every protection in their power, and wherever merchants may happen to halt for the night, it will be incumbent on them to show their passport to the thanadar or other officers in authority at the place, and demand their protection.

ARTICLE 16.

The Articles of the present Treaty shall, in all respects, whether relating to the internal government of the Nawab's country or to commerce, be mutually observed, and form an everlasting bond of friendship between the two States

ARTICLES of a SUPPLEMENTARY TREATY between the HONORABLE EAST INDIA COMPANY and the GOVERNMENT of BHAWULPORE,—1835.

Whereas in the 6th Article of the Treaty concluded between the Honorable the East India Company and the Bhawulpore Government, dated the 22nd of February 1833, it was stipulated that a moderate scale of duties should be fixed by the two Governments in concert, to be levied on all merchandize in transit up and down the rivers Indus and Sutlej, the said Governments, being now of opinion that, owing to the inexperience of the people of these countries in such matters, the mode of levying duties then proposed (viz., on the value and quantity of goods) could not fail to give rise to mutual misunderstandings and reclamations, have, with a view to prevent these results, determined to substitute a toll which shall be levied on all boats with whatever merchandize laden: the following Articles have therefore been adopted as supplementary to the former Treaty, and in conformity with them each Government engages that the toll shall be levied, and its amount neither be increased nor diminished, except with the consent of both parties:—

ARTICLE 1.

A toll of 570 Rupees shall be levied on all boats laden with merchandize in transit on the rivers Indus and Sutlej, between the sea and Rooper, without reference to their size or to the weight or value of their cargo; the above toll to be divided among the different States in proportion to the extent of territory which they possess on the banks of these rivers.

ARTICLE 2.

The portion of the above toll appertaining to the Bhawulpore State, and amounting to Rupees 106-12-2 $\frac{1}{4}$, shall be levied opposite to Mithenkote on boats coming from the sea towards Rooper, and in the vicinity of Hureekie Petten on boats going from Rooper towards the sea, and at no other place.

ARTICLE 3.

In order to facilitate the realization of the toll due to the different States, as well as for the speedy and satisfactory adjustment of any disputes which may arise connected with the safety of the navigation and the welfare of the trade by the new route, a British Officer will reside near Mithenkote, and a Native Agent on the part of the British Government in the vicinity of Hureekie Petten. These officers will be subject to the orders of the British Agent at Loodianah; and the Agents who may be appointed to reside at those places on the part of the other States concerned in the navigation will co-operate with them in the execution of their duties.

ARTICLE 4.

The British Government binds itself that the British Officer, who may reside near Mithenkote, shall not engage in trade, and (in conformity with the 4th Article of the former Treaty) that he shall not interfere in any way with the internal administration of the Bhawalpore Government.

ARTICLE 5.

In order to guard against imposition on the part of merchants in making false complaints of being plundered of property which they never possessed, they are required, when taking out their passports, to produce an invoice of their cargo, which, being duly authenticated, a copy of it will be annexed to their passports.

ARTICLE 6.

Such parts of the 6th, 7th, 11th, 13th, and 14th Articles of the Treaty of the 22nd of February 1833, as have reference to the fixing a duty on the value and quantity of merchandize and to the mode of its collection, are hereby rescinded, and the foregoing Articles substituted in their place, agreeably to which and the conditions of the preamble, the toll shall be levied.

The said account shall be made up and balanced at the end of every month, and a copy thereof submitted to the Bahawalpur Darbar.

27. The gross receipts of the Khanpur-Chachran Railway are to be collected and treated as receipts of the North Western Railway. Moneys such as shall arise from the sale of any property on any occasion other than the replacement

- (a) With effect from the half year next after the half year in which the Khanpur-Chachran Railway shall have been completed and opened for traffic, the Secretary of State shall allow to the Bahawalpur Darbar in respect of and at the end of each official * year, by way of rebate, such a sum not exceeding in any year the net earnings of the North Western Railway (excluding the net earnings derived from the carriage of railway stores) from traffic interchanged between the North Western Railway and the Khanpur-Chachran Railway as shall, together with the balance * of the gross receipts of the Khanpur-Chachran Railway for the same year,* after the deduction of working expenses as explained in clause 29 above, make up an amount equal to interest for the year at a rate of 3 per cent. per annum on the actual expenditure charged in the Capital Account of the Khanpur-Chachran Railway. In calculating for the purposes of this clause the net earnings of the North Western Railway from such interchanged traffic it shall be assumed that the net earnings from such traffic bear the same proportion to the gross earnings therefrom as the net earnings of the North Western Railway for the time being bear to the gross earnings of that Railway.

NOTE.—If, in any year, the sum of the rebate payable under clause 29(a) of the contract and the net earnings of the Khanpur-Chachran Railway arrived at as indicated in clause 29 fall below the equivalent of three per cent. per annum on the actual expenditure charged to the capital account of the Khanpur-Chachran Railway, the deficit will be paid by the Government to the Darbar, subject to the proviso that the total payment including the net earnings made by Government in any year should not exceed the amount that would have been payable by Government as rebate and not earnings if the terms which existed just prior to the introduction of the present clauses 29 and 29(a) had continued to be in force.

2. The present clauses 29 and 29(a) to remain as antique in the agreement.

30. In case any question shall arise whether any expenditure incurred for the purposes of the "Amalgamated Undertaking" is to be treated in whole or in part as a charge incurred on Capital Account or how the same is to be dealt with, the question shall be determined on the general principle that capital is to bear the cost of new works, of additional plant, and machinery and of substantial improvements of any additions to old works, plant, and machinery including the cost of any temporary new work the construction of which is requisite for the construction of a work properly chargeable to Capital and that subject to the provisions of clause 12, the cost of repairs, restoration, renewals, replacements and substitutions is to be borne by Revenue. If any difference shall arise between the Bahawalpur Darbar and the North Western Railway as to whether any expenditure incurred by the North Western Railway on account of the Khanpur-Chachran Railway is properly chargeable to Capital or Revenue the matter in difference shall be referred to the decision of the Secretary of State.

31. In addition to the electric telegraphs in the Bahawalpur State already established along or upon the Khanpur-Chachran Road the Secretary of State may from time to time establish such electric telegraphs as he shall think fit along or upon the Khanpur-Chachran Railway or any part or parts thereof or on any land or works belonging thereto and may maintain and work the electric telegraphs already established or to be established as aforesaid as the Secretary of State

* As amended by Corrigenda issued by the Railway Department (Railway Board) with letters No. 2440-F., dated 17th June 1928 and 22nd August 1929.

No. XLII.

AGREEMENT between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the GOVERNMENTS of HIS HIGHNESS the NAWAB of BAHAWALPUR and HIS HIGHNESS the MAHARAJA of BIKANER in connection with the SUTLEJ VALLEY CANALS PROJECT,—1920.

Terms of agreement subject to the confirmation of the Secretary of State in Council between the British Government and the Governments of His Highness the Nawab of Bahawalpur and His Highness the Maharaja of Bikaner regarding the irrigation of the tracts commanded and economically irrigable from the Gharra Reach of the Sutlej River and from the Panjnad Reach of the Chenab River.

1. The Project to be drawn out under the exclusive control of the British Government on the general basis of taking the waters specified in paragraph 4(A) below to the areas hereinafter specified.

2. The original designs for the canal works will be drawn out under the sole direction of the British Government, every possible attention being given to the wishes of the two States concerned as to the precise direction and position of the canals: provided that they are consistent with sound engineering principles.

3. The tracts for the irrigation of which provision is made consist of the following:—

BRITISH—

(a) On the Right Bank.—The whole area commanded by this scheme from the site of the uppermost weir down to the Chenab River and lying between the Gharra River and the old bed of the Beas or the limit of existing irrigation of the Bari Doab Canals.

(b) On the Left Bank.—The whole Khadir area commanded by this scheme from the site of the uppermost weir down to the Bahawalpur State boundary,

BAHAWALPUR—

The whole of the Khadir area of this State to the south of the river as far as the Sind boundary and the irrigable area in the high lands, and such detached areas of Bahawalpur territory within Sind for which irrigation can be arranged in consultation with the Sind Authorities.

BIKANER—

The area commanded by a canal taking off from the uppermost weir and entering the north-west corner of the State from British territory.

4. The water shall be distributed between the parties concerned as laid down in the following clauses :—

A.—The area irrigated from the Gharra Reach of the Sutlej is to be entitled to claim up to the limit of the canal head capacities herein authorised in cusecs, the supply entering the Gharra Reach from the Beas together with any supplies that flow into the Gharra Reach from the Sutlej after the irrigation requirements on the Sutlej above the junction of the Beas have been satisfied.

B.—For the Kharif crop from 1st April to 15th of October the full supply capacity sanctioned in cusecs at canal head for perennial and non-perennial channels will have equal claim to the supply available.

C.—The areas to be adopted for the allocation of Rabi water and the corresponding shares in that season between October 15th and 1st April will be as below :—

	Acres gross.	Per cent.
From the Gharra—
British	900,000	26.5
Bahawalpur	1,730,000	57.0
Bikaner	500,000	16.5
TOTAL	3,130,000

	Acres gross.
From the Panjnad—
Bahawalpur	270,000

The areas to be adopted for the capacity of non-perennial channels shall be :—

	Acres gross.
From the Gharra—
British	2,880,846
Bahawalpur	1,272,216
From the Panjnad—
Bahawalpur	1,594,485*

* This area on the Panjnad includes the areas across the Ghuddu Dhand, which, if excluded later, will correspondingly reduce this figure

NOTE.—The average perennial supply available will be allotted entirely to perennial channels from the 15th October up to 31st March, and the non-perennial channels will be shut down on the 15th October.

D-1.—The authorised full supply capacity in cusecs at canal head for perennial canals will be based on the Kharif area to be irrigated assuming the following intensities on the areas given above in that crop with a full supply factor of 70 at distributary heads and an allowance of 20 per cent. for absorption up to canal head :—

	Per cent.
British	22·3
Bikaner	25
Bahawalpur from Gharra	25
Bahawalpur from Panjnad	22·3

D-2.—For the perennial and non-perennial canals for Bahawalpur from the Panjnad the mean draw-off in each crop shall be maintained at the same fraction of their authorised maximum capacity in cusecs as that of the British canals from the Gharra.

E.—The authorised full supply capacity in cusecs of the non-perennial channels will be based on the Kharif area to be irrigated assuming an intensity of 20 per cent. on the areas given above with a full supply factor of 60 at distributary heads and an allowance of 20 per cent. for absorption up to canal head.

The above is the data for the share capacity, that is the capacity on which the channels will share the water equally in the non-perennial period. When, however, the supply of the river is in excess of the requirements of the perennial and non-perennial share capacities, the non-perennial channels may draw off up to a maximum capacity 50 per cent. in excess of the share capacity obtained as above and based on a design of 25 per cent. Kharif intensity for channels from the Gharra with a 50 Full Supply Factor, and 30 per cent. Kharif intensity for channels from the Panjnad with a 60 Full Supply Factor.

F.—In the Kharif period between 1st April and 15th October the shares of the various parties will be :—

	PERENNIAL CAPACITY.		NON-PERENNIAL SHARE CAPACITY.		TOTAL.		NON-PERENNIAL.
	Cusecs.	Per cent.	Cusecs.	Per cent.	Cusecs.	Per cent.	Additional capacity.	Total Maximum capacity.

5. The land required for the canals and works in connection with them shall be made over by the Government of each State traversed according to its own usage, all payments being made, in the case of land required for another party, by the British Government in accordance with the regulations in force in the territory in which the land is required, the amount being dealt with as a part of the expenditure on the work concerned.

6. Compensation will be paid for any building or house injured by the works.

7. The entire cost of the head-works and connected works, inclusive of the cost subsequent to 1st January 1920 of any further surveys and of the preparation of the project, shall be borne by the British Government and the two States concerned in proportion to the equivalent perennial authorised canal capacity allocated to the parties concerned at the respective headworks. For the purpose of evaluating the equivalent authorised capacity one cusec of non-perennial capacity shall be deemed to be equivalent to .75 of a cusec of perennial capacity.

NOTE.—Surveys do not include rectangulation for distribution purposes.

8. Each party will defray the entire expenditure on its own canals.

9. The States concerned shall supply annually to meet the cost of construction, while the works are in progress, a proportion of the estimated annual outlay on the various headworks and river training works according to their share of the total equivalent authorised canal capacity at these works as well as the whole of the funds required for the canals constructed on their behalf.

10. On the completion of the works an account will be drawn out by the British Government of the actual expenditure and a final statement will be prepared of the exact sum due from the several States concerned when each State will pay or receive back any difference between its actual payments year by year and its ultimate share of the cost.

11. The above account of total cost will include the proper charges for surveys, establishment, etc., whether incurred by the British or either of the other Governments concerned; and credit will be given to each State for payments made by it directly.

12. Copies of such parts of the British accounts of the expenditure on construction will be furnished periodically to the Governments of the States concerned, so far as may be desired by them, and the States themselves will similarly furnish periodically accounts of any expenditure incurred by them directly.

13. The seigniorage to be paid by the Bikaner State to the British Government on the water supplied will be at a rate not exceeding one-tenth of the average water rate on the British Perennial Canal from the Gharra taken at Rs. 6-8 in the project at the commencement of irrigation.

14. The sum to be paid for each crop will be calculated on the area obtained by multiplying the mean discharge at the head of the Bikaner Canal during the crop and duties of 83.3 and 175 acres per cusec for Kharif and Rabi,

15. No seigniorage will be demanded until the eleventh year after the admission of water into the Bikaner Canal and as long as the profits from the British Perennial Canal from the Gharra shall be so small as would render the seigniorage rate of 10 per cent. of the average water rate per acre unduly high, such seigniorage shall be proportionately reduced at the discretion of the British Government.

16. In cases of any falling off in the seasonal supply of water available in the river the British Government and the other States will share the actual supply according to the original shares fixed and the States shall have no claim for compensation from the British Government on account of any such reduction of the supply.

17. The British Government will have full and exclusive control of the distribution of supplies at the canal heads and the Head Gauge Registers with discharges observed shall be held to be the authoritative data for calculating the quantity of water supplied.

If for purposes of accuracy of gauging and avoiding the influence of silt at the actual canal head the regulating gauge is placed a certain distance down the canal, the data obtained shall be taken to fulfill the conditions of the head gauge.

18. No party will have any claim for restitution of water not used by it when available.

19. The several parties shall pay the same share of the annual charges for the maintenance including extensions and improvements of the canal works as they pay of the first cost of the works and provide the funds annually as required.

20. The original construction of the canals with collateral works including distributaries shall be carried out by and under the control of a Chief Engineer appointed by the British Government whose sole charge shall be the construction and working of this project, and separate Superintending Engineers shall be appointed for each State.

21. The maintenance and management of the headworks with their connected works and in the case of Bikaner the Main Line down to the State border shall rest entirely in the hands of the British Government.

22. The British Government undertake to maintain and to manage the canals and their distributaries on behalf of the States concerned for the first three years after their completion, but each State will distribute the supply from the outlets through its own Revenue Staff. After this period the system shall be handed over to the State, subject to the proviso that this period may be extended at the option of the State concerned.

23. On the initiation of construction, a programme of colonization shall be drawn up between the Chief Engineer and the Colonization Officer of the State, and the construction programme, as far as possible, shall be regulated to meet the requirements of the Colonization Officer.

24. During the period of construction, and the period of management referred to in paragraph 22 the details of superintendence, powers of local officers and other matters connected with the management shall be settled by the Punjab Government and the Government of the States concerned, subject to the confirmation of the Government of India.

25. For purposes of administration the Canal Act, VIII of 1873, suitably modified shall be introduced by each State and offenders against the Act shall be made over by the canal officers for trial to the officers of the Government in whose territory the offence was committed.

26. The miscellaneous produce, such as wood and grass, etc., on joint head-works will be shared by the parties concerned in proportion to their share in the first cost.

27. The British Government reserves to itself the right of extending or altering the river works at any time in any way it pleases, on the understanding that the share of the water first assigned to the parties under this agreement shall not be diminished without their assent being obtained.

28. Until the State Canals have been handed over to the respective States for management it shall be the duty of the officers in charge to pay due attention to any representations of the Governments of the States concerned or of their officers and to carry out their wishes as far as may be practicable or advisable.

29. Provided that the supplies assured to Bahawalpur under this agreement are not reduced, the British Government, if it desires to do so, may take a canal from above the weir on the Panjnad into Sind.

On the assumption that a capacity of 7,500 cusecs will be required for Sind a share of the cost of the Panjnad Head Works equal to $\frac{3,750}{9,565}$ will be borne by the British Government whether the canal is constructed for that tract or not.

If the canal is constructed the entire cost of construction of the canal will be borne by the British Government.

30. In case of any difference of opinion arising between any officer of the States concerned and the British Canal Officers on any matter relating to the management of the canal, it shall ordinarily be settled between the Government of the States and the Chief Engineer and in the event of their differing it shall be referred to the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab for decision.

31. If any difference of opinion shall arise between the Government of either of the States concerned and the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab as to the construction of this Agreement or any matter under it, a reference may be made to the Governor-General in Council, whose decision shall be final.

32. If within 4 months of receipt of debit, the States do not provide their share of the funds necessary for carrying out the works, for the proper maintenance of the Headworks and connected works and in the case of Bikaner, for the Bikaner Main Line also, the British Government shall have the power to stop or restrict supplies, until such time as payment is made.

33. The Governor-General in Council will at all times be ready to receive any representation from the Government of any of the States concerned, if such Government considers that the spirit of the present proposals are from any cause not fully acted up to by the officers of the Punjab Government on whom the immediate duty of carrying them out will devolve.

34. If at any time it is found desirable for the more efficient working of the canal system to store water on the Beas it shall be optional for the three parties to share the cost of the storage in proportion to the benefits to be received by them.

As the project has already been under consideration for a very long time and we all most anxious to see it taken in hand as early as possible we are signing this Agreement, without carefully scrutinizing some of the words and phrases used which, from the political point of view, we would have preferred to see somewhat differently expressed. We, therefore, wish to make clear that by our signing this Agreement the rights of His Highness the Maharaja of Bikaner and His Highness the Nawab of Bahawalpur or their Governments to take up such matter of detailed phraseology at a subsequent date with the Government of India are not impaired or affected prejudicially in any manner.

SUNNUD to the RAJAH of JHEEND, dated 22nd September 1847.

The Right Honorable the Governor-General having resolved to bestow certain lands on the Rajah of Jheend, as a mark of consideration for his attachment and services to the British during the late war with the Lahore State, and the Rajah of Jheend having requested that he may at the same time receive a renewed assurance of protection and guarantee of his rights in his former possessions, the Governor-General is pleased to confer this assurance in the form of a Sunnud or Grant as follows, in order that the Maharajah and his successors after him may, with perfect confidence, continue to exercise the same rights and authority in his possessions as heretofore.

The Maharajah's ancient hereditary estates, according to annexed Schedule,* shall continue for ever in the possession of himself and his successors, with all Government rights thereto belonging of Police jurisdiction and collection of revenue as heretofore. The Maharajah's chaharumians, feudatories, adherents, and dependants will continue bound in their adherence and obligations to the Rajah as heretofore. His Highness will exert himself to do justice, and to promote the welfare and happiness of his subjects, while they, on their part, considering the Rajah as their true and rightful lord, must obey him and his successors accordingly, and pay the revenue punctually and be always zealous to promote the cultivation of their lands, and testify their loyalty and obedience. The Maharajah has relinquished for himself and his successors for ever all right to levy excise and transit duties which have been abolished throughout the Jheend territory. His Highness also binds himself and his successors to the suppression of suttee, infanticide, and slave-dealing within his territories. If, unknown to the Maharajah's authorities, any persons should be guilty of these acts, the Maharajah's authorities will, on conviction, punish them with such severity as to deter others. The British Government will never demand from the Maharajah and his successors and their dependants above named any thing in the way of tribute or revenue or commutation in lieu of troops or otherwise, for the reason that His Highness will ever continue as heretofore sincerely devoted to the service and interests of the British. The British authorities will not entertain complaints of the Maharajah's subjects or dependants, or interfere with the Maharajah's authority. Should an enemy approach from any quarter to this side the Beas or Sutlej, for the purpose of conquering this country, the Rajah will join the British Army with his forces, and exert himself in expelling the enemy and act under discipline and obedience, and in time of war place the resources of his country at the disposal of the British Government. His Highness engages to have made and to keep in repairs, through his own officers, the military roads through his territory for the passage of British troops from Umballa and other stations to Ferozepore, of a width and elevation to be determined on by the Engineer Officer charged with the duty of laying down the roads. His Highness will also appoint encamping ground for British troops at the different stages, which shall be marked off, so that there be no claims made hereafter on account of damaged crops.

TRANSLATION of a SANAD regarding POSSESSION of TERRITORY granted to the RAJA of JHIND by HIS EXCELLENCY the VICEROY and GOVERNOR-GENERAL of INDIA, dated the 5th May 1860.

WHEREAS since the day of the rise of the sun of the everlasting British Empire and supremacy in this Country of India, the acts of loyalty and devotion to Government of Farzand-i-dilband-i-Rasikh-ul-i 'tikad-i-Daulat-i-Inglisia (the beloved and firmly faithful son of the English Empire) Raja Sahib Sarup Singh Bahadur and ancestors and predecessors of the said Raja, on occasions of war and battle, etc., have become fully conspicuous; accordingly as a reward for these good services and aid and assistance with troops and supplies, etc., they have always been distinguished and exalted by the powerful British Government by being granted territory and titles and raised in degrees of honour and dignity. Particularly in the year 1857 A.D., during the days of the insurrection and mutiny of wretched persons the Raja Sahib Bahadur rendered and displayed worthy and conspicuous services which surpassed his previous achievements. Therefore, in recognition of such approved services, the powerful British Government, by way of Royal favour and kindness, has conferred on the Raja Sahib Bahadur some territory and additional title for generation after generation and descendant after descendant. The Raja Sahib Bahadur has applied for a renewal of the Sanad regarding his ancestral territory as well as that granted to him previously and now by the powerful Government. In view of this His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General is pleased to approve of the grant of the present Sanad by way of treaty with the conditions entered below as a memorable document :—

CLAUSE I.

According to the list annexed to this Sanad, the Raja Sahib Bahadur and his successors will, in the present and future time, exercise sovereignty, with peace of mind and in perfect security, in accordance with ancient custom, over his ancestral possessions and the dominions bestowed on him by the British Government and consider the territory granted to him by the British Government in recognition of his good services as his ancestral territory with all powers and rights, internal and external. All powers great and small, administrative and criminal and in respect of the produce of revenue, etc., will, as heretofore, remain permanently vested in the power and control of the Raja Sahib Bahadur and his successors generation after generation and descendant after descendant at present and in future for ever and in perpetuity; and (his) brothers, zaildars, feudatories, Jagirdars and dependants will, according to old custom, obey the orders and commands of the Raja Sahib Bahadur and his successors.

CLAUSE II.

The powerful British Government will not demand or exact anything on account of nazarana, land revenue, administrative or criminal cesses, compensation on account of troops, etc., or on any other plea whatever, in the present or future, from the Raja Sahib Bahadur, his successors, dependants, brothers, Zaildars, Jagirdars or feudatories, except as provided in Clause III.

CLAUSE III.

As an additional Royal favour and having regard to the loyalty and devotion of the Raja Sahib Bahadur the powerful Government desires that this territory should always remain under the sovereignty of this family. Therefore the power of adoption is granted for ever to the said Raja Sahib and his successors so that in case there is no lineal descendant, they may, for the purpose of perpetuating the line of Chiefship, adopt a successor, according to their own choice, from among the descendants of the Phulkian family. The powerful Government cordially accepts and agrees to this. The powerful Government also grants permission that in case—may God forbid—the Raja on the Masnad should suddenly die, without leaving a lineal descendant or an adopted successor, the Maharaja Sahib of Patiala and the Raja Sahib of Nabha, in concert with the Commissioner Sahib Bahadur, may select a successor from among the Phulkian family and place him on the Masnad. In that case nazarana to the extent of one-third of the income of the State for one year will be paid into the treasury of the British Government by the Jhind State.

CLAUSE IV.

In the year 1847 an agreement regarding the infliction of capital punishment after reference to the Commissioner Sahib Bahadur and the prevention of female infanticide, Sati and slavery, etc., was obtained from the said Raja Sahib. That is now cancelled, and absolute power by all means regarding the infliction of capital punishment, etc., in his territory, according to old custom, is granted to the Raja Sahib Bahadur and his successors. Similarly with regard to punishing subjects of the powerful British Government committing crime and apprehended in the territory of the Jhind State, the Raja Sahib Bahadur and his successors are granted power in accordance with the provisions of the despatch No. 3, dated 1st June 1836, from the Honourable Court of Directors at the Capital, London. The Raja Sahib Bahadur will exert himself by every possible means in promoting the welfare of his people and the happiness of his subjects and in redressing the grievances of the oppressed and injured in the proper way. He will prevent in his territory female infanticide, Sati and slavery, which are opposed to the principles of justice and equity towards the people, in accordance with the provisions of the former Sanad. In the event of any person at any time committing the above mentioned prohibited crimes without the knowledge of the officials of the Raja Sahib, the latter will inflict deterrent punishment on him.

CLAUSE V.

The Raja Sahib and his successors will never fail in their faithful and devoted obedience to the Empress, Queen of England, and her successors.

CLAUSE VI.

If at any time any hostile troops with mischievous intention should appear in his neighbourhood from any side or direction, the Raja Sahib Bahadur will along with his existing force sincerely and loyally co-operate with the English in repelling them in accordance with past practice. He will exert himself, to the utmost of his resources, in providing supplies, grains, etc., and transport according to the requisitions of British officers.

CLAUSE VII.

Complaints against the Raja Sahib from his subjects, Muafidars, Jagirdars, dependants, brothers and servants, etc., will on no account be listened to by the powerful British Government.

CLAUSE VIII.

With regard to internal management and the affairs of the brothers household and relatives, the rules and arrangements made by the Raja Sahib Bahadur will always be respected and not interfered with by the powerful British Government.

CLAUSE IX.

On the occasion of the construction and repair of roads in his territory the Raja Sahib Bahadur will, in accordance with the written communication of the Commissioner Sahib Bahadur, arrange, from his own territory, through kardars and officials of Parganas, according to former customs, for the materials required on payment; and at the time of the construction of a rail-road or other roads the Raja Sahib Bahadur will concede, free of charge, land that comes under roads in the same way as he has done for the Imperial road.

CLAUSE X.

The Raja Sahib will always pursue the course of obedience and loyalty to the powerful Government who will likewise continue to uphold His Honour, respect, rank and dignity in the manner it is done at present.

List of ancestral territories of Farzand-i-dilband-i-Rasikh-ul'tikad-i-Daulat-i-Inglisia (the beloved and firmly faithful son of the English Empire) Raja Sarup Singh Sahib Bahadur and territory bestowed by the powerful Government, annexed to the Sanad granted by His Excellency Earl Canning, Governor-General and Viceroy of Her Majesty the Queen.

Whereas the devotion and loyalty of the Rajah of Jheend and of his ancestors have always been conspicuous since the establishment of British supremacy in India, His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General, being desirous of marking his high appreciation of these qualities, has been pleased to bestow upon the Rajah portions of Pergunnah Boodwanah, of the District of Jhujjur, containing nineteen villages, according to vernacular list annexed*, assessed at a yearly revenue of (eighteen thousand five hundred and twenty Rupees) 18,520 Rupees, and to accept from the Rajah a “nuzzuranah” of (Rupees 3,70,004) three lakhs seventy thousand and four. It is accordingly ordained as follows :—

ARTICLE 1.

The territory above-mentioned is conferred upon the Rajah of Jheend and his heirs for ever.

ARTICLE 2.

The Rajah and his successors will exercise the same rights, privileges, and prerogatives in this newly-acquired territory as he at present enjoys in his ancestral possessions, according to the terms of the Sunnud, dated 5th May 1860, and signed by His Excellency Earl Canning, Viceroy and Governor-General of India.

ARTICLE 3.

The Rajah and his successors will continue to maintain the same loyal relations with the British Government, and to fulfil the same obligations, with regard to this newly-acquired territory, as were imposed on him by the terms of the Sunnud, dated 5th May 1860, relating to the Rajah's ancestral possessions.

TO FURZUND DILBUND RASEKOOL ITAQAD DOWLUT-I-ENGLISHIA RAJAH SUROOP SINGH BAHADOOR, of JHEEND, dated 5th March 1862.

Her Majesty being desirous that the Governments of the several Princes and Chiefs of India who now govern their own territories should be perpetuated, and that the representation and dignity of their Houses should be continued, I hereby, in fulfilment of this desire, repeat to you the assurance which I communicated to you in the Sunnud under my signature, dated 5th May 1860, that on failure of natural heirs, the perpetuation of your family by your adoption of an heir from the Phoolkeean House will be in accordance with the wishes of the paramount power, and will be gladly recognized and confirmed; and that if at any time any Rajah of Jheend should die without male issue, and without adopting a successor, it will still be open to the Maharajah of Putialla and the Rajah of Nabha, in concert with the Commissioner or Political Agent of the British Government, to select a successor from among the Phoolkeean family; but in that case a nuzzuranah, or fine, equal to one-third of the gross annual revenue of the Jheend State, shall be paid to the British Government.

Be assured that nothing shall disturb the Engagement thus made to you so long as your House is loyal to the Crown and faithful to the conditions of the Treaties, Grants, or Engagements which record its obligations to the British Government.

AMENDED TERMS of AGREEMENT between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the STATE of JIND, for regulating the supply of water for irrigation from the Western Jumna Canal, executed at Simla on behalf of the BRITISH GOVERNMENT by C. L. TUPPER, ESQ., CHIEF SECRETARY to the GOVERNMENT of the PUNJAB, duly empowered by HIS EXCELLENCY the Viceroy and GOVERNOR-GENERAL in COUNCIL, and at SANGRUR on behalf of the JIND State by SARDAR RATAN SINGH, President, Council of Regency, duly empowered by HIS HIGHNESS the RAJA of JIND,—1892.

The terms of agreement * executed on the 29th April 1875 are hereby cancelled.

2. In lieu of the cuts from the canal, by means of which irrigation was originally effected, ten main distributaries with proper masonry heads taking out of the Hansi Branch of the Western Jumna Canal, and four masonry heads for water-courses taking out of the Butana distributary, shall be provided for the irrigation of the State from the Western Jumna Canal.

3. The said distributaries and the said water-course heads taking out of the Butana distributary shall be constructed at the cost of the British Government, but when completed shall be handed over to the Jind State, with the exception of the masonry heads and the portions of the channels within canal limits.

4. The distributaries so made over shall be kept in repair by the Jind State, a deduction being made on this account from the annual charge for water. The deduction shall be calculated at a certain rate for irrigated area fixed with reference to the average cost per acre for maintenance of distributaries elsewhere in British territories.

5. So soon as the ten main distributaries taking out from the Hansi Branch are made over to the Jind State, the British Canal Officer shall thenceforth exercise no interference in regard to the internal management and the distribution of water from them, nor shall he, unless at the request or with the consent of the Jind Canal Officer, reduce the supply entering the heads, provided the full gauge readings specified in Article 7 be not exceeded; but the British Canal Officer shall have full power to shut off or to reduce the supply entering the Hansi Branch under the following circumstances :—

- (a) As part of a general closure of the Western Jumna Canal for necessary or emergent repairs, of which due notice will be published in the Punjab Gazette for closures of more than ten days duration.
- (b) For purpose of repairs to any canal work or for usual or necessary silt clearances on the Hansi Branch.
- (c) On occasions of excessive rainfall or general reduction of the demand for canal water, that may render a reduction of the supply necessary, either for the safety of the canal banks or works or to prevent undue flooding or waste of water.
- (d) For the purpose of a more effective distribution of the supply available for the distributaries on the New Main Line, and for the Delhi and Hansi Branches and the Butana distributary, all closures and reductions of the supply to the Hansi Branch being as far as possible compensated for by an immediately previous or subsequent increase of the supply which would otherwise be due to that branch.
- (e) In the event of the supply available for the distributaries on the New Main Line and for the Delhi and Hansi Branches and Butana distributary falling below the demand, in which case the supply to the Hansi Branch shall either be rateably reduced or shall be regulated as provided in Clause (d) of this Article.

As long previous notice as possible shall be given to the Jind Canal Officer of all closures or reductions of the supply ordered under Clauses (a), (b), (d), and (e).

Immediate notice of all closures or reductions of the supply ordered under Clause (e) shall also be given to the Jind Canal Officer, who will be consulted as to the length of the period during which the reduction of the supply should be maintained.

6. The British Canal Officer shall have full power to shut off or reduce the supply to the Butana distributary at his discretion in accordance with the exigencies of irrigation, and the outlets provided on that distributary for the irrigation of Jind territory shall be subject to such periodical and special closures as may be ordered from time to time for British outlets in accordance with Rule 15, passed under Act VIII of 1873, due intimation of such orders being given to the Jind Canal Officer, but no closure shall be ordered on account of alleged wastage of water owing to disrepair of irrigating channels.

7. The distributaries shall be constructed of sufficient capacity, when running to a full gauge, to irrigate, in combination with the four water-courses from the Butana distributary, an aggregate area of 60,000 (sixty thousand) acres per annum, but in order to compensate for all irregularities or deficiencies in the supply passed into them, the annual charge for the water supplied shall be calculated on an irrigated area of 50,000 (fifty thousand) acres only, and no claims shall be raised by the Jind State for reduction of such annual charge on the grounds of short supply.

8. Gauges shall be placed at the head of each distributary for the determination of full supplies, the zero of the gauge in each case being placed on the level of the bed of the distributary. The following gauge readings shall be held to represent full supplies in the case of each distributary :—

Number of distributary.													Full supply gauge reading.
I	4.0
II	2.0
III	3.5
V	3.5
VI	2.0
VII	4.5
VIII	4.0
IX	3.5
X	3.5
XI	3.0

NOTE.—(No. IV is a branch of No. III and has no separate head in the canal.)

No. I distributary having been constructed to carry double the full supply sufficient for the irrigation of the area dependent on it shall be closed at the head during every alternative week or other convenient interval of time and shall be opened in the corresponding alternative intervals. The remaining nine distributaries shall be allowed to run constantly, subject to temporary closures of the Hansi Branch under Article 5 of this agreement. Every distributary, when open, shall be entitled to as full a supply as the supply in the Hansi Branch will permit without being headed up, provided that the above-mentioned gauge readings shall, in no case, be exceeded.

8(a). The heads of all the Jind distributaries shall remain under the sole control of the British Canal Officer, who will arrange for the maintenance of the supply in each at the gauge indented for by the Jind Canal Officer, if not in excess of the full supply gauge reading prescribed in Article 7 and, as far as the available depth of water in the Hansi Branch will permit. In the event of a breach or sudden cessation of the demand on a Jind distributary, the supply entering at the head shall not be reduced except in accordance with the general or special orders in this regard that may be issued from time to time by the British Canal Officer, but all reductions of supply applied for by the Jind Canal Officer will be effected after due and sufficient notice has been given.

9. Masonry diaphragms shall be constructed in the first two miles of each distributary, which shall be held to indicate the normal bed-levels and cross-sections of the channel in which they are situated. The Jind State shall make all clearances of these channels as nearly as may be in conformity with the levels and cross-sections thus indicated, and shall not increase the capacity of any of the channels beyond the limits indicated by the said diaphragms without the consent of the British Government. The British Canal Officers shall be at liberty to inspect the said diaphragms and to repair them at the cost of the British Government should they be found to require it.

10. The amount payable annually by the Jind State for the supply of water for irrigation shall be calculated on an area of 50,000 (fifty thousand) acres, the rate per acre being the average of some few years of measured irrigation in lands similarly situated in British territory, but the amount shall be subject to deduction on account of—

- (1) Cost of repairs and maintenance of distributaries as provided in Article 4.
- (2) Reduction of canal establishment resulting from the transfer of sole management of the distributaries to the State.
- (3) Fees to Lambardars and Patwaris at the rate of 5 (five) per cent. on the amount payable.

NOTE.—The net amount payable by the State, after making the stipulated deductions, has been fixed for the present at Rs. 1,05,500 (one hundred and five thousand five hundred) as detailed below. The rate of 2·4 (two and four-tenths) rupees per acre was obtained by striking a mean for five years ending 1883-84 of actual realizations per acre irrigated in the Jind State :—

	Rs.
Gross sum payable—
50,000 acres at Rs. 2·4 per acre	1,20,000
Deductions—	Rs.
(1) Maintenance and repairs	5,000
(2) Establishment savings	3,500
(3) Fees to Lambardars and Patwaris	6,000
	<hr/> 14,500
Net amount payable per annum	<hr/> 1,05,500

11. In the event of there being a general reduction of water-rates on the canal, a rateable reduction shall be made in the amount payable by the State; and in the event of the rates being increased, a rateable increase shall be demandable from the State.

12. In case of any difference of opinion arising between any officers of the Jind State and the British Canal Officers relating to the supply of water, it shall be referred to the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, whose decision shall be final. If any difference of opinion shall arise between the Jind State and the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab as to the construction of this agreement, a reference may be made to the Governor-General in Council, whose decision shall be final.

REQUESTS on the part of the RAJAH JESWUNT SING of NABHA and the GOVERNOR GENERAL'S replies,—1810.

Requests.

1st.—That Tribute and Nuzzerana be remitted.

2ndly.—That under the auspices of one Honourable Company my power and authority in my own territories shall continue to be exercised by me according to established usage.

Answers.

Agreeably to the Proclamation issued by Lieutenant-Colonel Ochterlony in 1809 which declares that the Country of the Chiefs of Malwa and Sirhind comprehended between the Sutlodge and Jumna Rivers shall be exempted from all pecuniary tribute to the British Government, no tribute or Nuzzerana will ever be demanded.

Rajah Jeswunt Sing of Nowba shall continue to exercise the same power and authority within the limits of his own territory which he has enjoyed since he has been received under the protection of the British Government.

3rdly.—That under the protection and with the support of the British Government, I shall continue to hold possession of my Country, as I have held it from the first to the present time, unmolested by any one.

4thly.—With respect to the grant of a Jaggeer such as was conferred on my Brethren by Lord Lake after his Lordship's return to Delhi in reward of their services during the contest with Holkar, I hope that Government will now manifest its favour and liberality towards me, as I was prevented by indisposition from attending his Lordship at the same time with the other chiefs.

5thly.—The British Government is my asylum. I am hopeful, therefore, that the circumstances of my sincere attachment and devotion will be viewed with a favourable eye.

Rajah Jeswunt Sing shall continue in the occupation of all the lands which he possessed at the period of the last expedition of the Rajah of Lahore across the Sutludge.

The Governor-General refers Rajah Jeswunt Singh to the letter which was addressed to him by Lieutenant-Colonel Ochterlony on the 6th of February 1809, as containing his Lordship's sentiments on the subject of this request.

The British Government considers Rajah Jeswunt Sing to be among the number of its faithful friends and well-wishers, and he may rely with confidence on the continuance of its favour and protection so long as his conduct shall continue to be regulated by the principles of attachment and obedience

TRANSLATION of a Sanad regarding possession of territory granted to the RAJAH OF NABHA by HIS EXCELLENCY the VICEROY and GOVERNOR-GENERAL of INDIA, dated 5th May 1860.

Whereas since the day of the rise of the sun of the everlasting British Empire and supremacy in this country of India, the acts of loyalty and devotion to Government of Farzand-Arjumand-i-Akidat Paiwand-i-Daulat-i-Inglisia Barar-bans, Sirmor Raja Bharpur Singh Malwinder Bahadur and Raja Jaswant Singh Sahib grandfather of the said Raja Sahib were in former times fully conspicuous, particularly in the year 1857, A.D., during the days of the insurrection and mutiny of wretched persons when the Raja Sahib Bahadur rendered and displayed worthy and conspicuous services which surpassed his previous achievement. Therefore, in recognition of such approved services, the powerful British Government, by way of Royal favour and kindness, has conferred on the Raja Sahib Malwinder Bahadur some territory and additional title for generation after generation and descendant after descendant. The Raja Sahib Bahadur has applied for a renewal of the Sanad regarding his ancestral territory as well as that granted to him by the powerful Government. In view of this His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General is pleased to approve of the grant of the present Sanad by way of treaty with the conditions entered below as a memorable document :—

CLAUSE I.

According to the list annexed to this Sanad, the Raja Sahib Bahadur and his successors will, in the present and future time, exercise sovereignty, with peace of mind and in perfect security, in accordance with ancient custom, over his ancestral possessions and the dominions bestowed on him by the British Government and consider the territory granted to him by the British Government in recognition of his good services as his ancestral territory with all powers and rights, internal and external. All powers great and small, administrative and criminal and in respect of the produce of revenue, etc., will, as heretofore, remain permanently vested in the power and control of the Raja Sahib Malwindar Bahadur and his successors generation after generation and descendant after descendant in present and in future for ever and in perpetuity; and (his) brothers, Zaildars, Chaharumians (persons entitled to a fourth share), feudatories, Jagirdars and dependants will, according to old custom, obey the orders and commands of the Raja Sahib Bahadur and his successors.

CLAUSE II.

The powerful British Government will not demand or exact anything on account of nazarana, land revenue, administrative or criminal cesses, compensation on account of troops, etc., or on any other plea whatever, in the present or future, from the Raja Sahib Malwindar Bahadur, his successors, dependants, brothers, Zaildars, Jagirdars, Chaharumians or feudatories except as provided in Clause III.

CLAUSE III.

As an additional Royal Favour and having regard to the loyalty and devotion of the Raja Sahib Bahadur the powerful Government desires that this territory should always remain under the sovereignty of this family. Therefore, the power of adoption is granted for ever to the said Raja Sahib and his successors so that in case there is no lineal descendant, they may, for the purpose of perpetuating the line of Chiefship, adopt a successor, according to their own choice from among the descendants of the Phulkian family. The powerful Government cordially accepts and agrees to this. The powerful Government also grants permission that in case, may God forbid, the Raja on the masnad should suddenly die, without leaving a lineal descendant or an adopted successor, the Maharaja Sahib of Patiala and the Raja Sahib of Jind in concert with the Commissioner Sahib Bahadur, may select a successor from among the Phulkian family and place him on the masnad. In that case nazarana to the extent of one-third of the income of the State for one year will be paid into the treasury of the British Government by the Nabha State.

CLAUSE IV.

Formerly regarding the infliction of capital punishment, etc., a reference to the Commissioner Sahib Bahadur used to be made. Now this practice has been stopped, and in future full authority for inflicting capital punishment, etc., in his own territory according to the old custom is granted in perpetuity to Raja Sahib Malwindar Bahadur and his successors. Similarly with regard to punishing subjects of the powerful British Government committing crime and apprehended in the territory of the Nabha State. The Raja Sahib Bahadur and his successors are granted power in accordance with the provisions of the despatch No. 3, dated 1st June 1836, from the Hon'ble Court of Directors at the Capital, London. The Raja Sahib Bahadur will exert himself by every possible means in promoting the welfare of his people and the happiness of his subjects and redressing the grievances of the oppressed and injured in the proper way. He will prevent in his territory female infanticide, Sati and slavery, which are opposed to the principles of justice and equity towards the people. In the event of any person at any time committing the above-mentioned prohibited crimes without the knowledge of the officials of the Raja Sahib Bahadur, the latter will inflict deterrent punishment on him,

CLAUSE V.

The Raja Sahib and his successors will never fail in their faithful and devoted obedience to the Empress, Queen of England, and her successors,

CLAUSE VI.

If at any time any hostile troops with mischievous intention should appear in his neighbourhood from any side or direction the Raja Sahib Bahadur will along with his existing force sincerely and loyally co-operate with the English in repelling them in accordance with past practice. He will exert himself, to the utmost of his resources, in providing supplies, grains, etc., and transport according to the requisitions of British officers.

CLAUSE VII.

Complaints against the Raja Sahib from his subjects, Muafidars, Jaigirdars, dependants, brothers and servants, etc., will on no account be listened to by the powerful British Government.

CLAUSE VIII.

With regard to internal management and the affairs of brothers, house-hold and relatives, the rules and arrangements made by the Raja Sahib Malwindar Bahadur will always be respected and not interfered with by the powerful British Government.

CLAUSE IX.

On the occasion of the construction and repairs of roads in his territory the Raja Sahib Malwindar Bahadur will, in accordance with the written communication of the Commissioner Sahib Bahadur, arrange from his own territory, through kardars and officials of Parganas, according to former custom, for the materials required, on payment : and at the time of the construction of a rail-road or other roads, the Raja Sahib Bahadur will concede, free of charge, land that comes under the roads in the same way as he has done for the Imperial road.

CLAUSE X.

The Raja Sahib Malwindur Bahadur will always pursue the course of obedience and loyalty to the powerful Government who will likewise continue to uphold his honour, respect, rank and dignity in the manner it is done at present.

LIST of ancestral territories of Farzand-i-Arjmand Akidat Paiwand-i-Daulat-i-Inglishia, Barar-bans, Sirmur RAJA BHARPUR SINGH MALWINDAR BAHADUR and of territory bestowed by the powerful Government, annexed to the Sanad granted by HIS EXCELLENCY EARL CANNING, Governor-General and Viceroy of Her Majesty the Queen.

SANAD granted to HIS HIGHNESS the MAHARAJA of KAPURTHALA,—1918.

Whereas in accordance with the orders issued by the Chief Commissioner, Cis and Trans-Sutlej States in the year 1848, all sentences of death passed by the Raja of Kapurthala were referred to the Commissioner, Jullundur Division, for confirmation; and

Whereas in the year 1902, in consideration of the efficient administration of criminal justice in the Kapurthala State, His Highness the Raja (now Maharaja) was invested with unrestricted power to pass sentences of death upon his subjects on the following conditions, namely:—

- (1) that the power should apply only to subjects of the Kapurthala State,
- (2) that, in the event of the Raja's absence from the State, satisfactory arrangements should be made, with the approval of the Lieutenant Governor and, if necessary, with the sanction of the Government of India, for the discharge of the responsible functions which will now be exercised by His Highness,
- (3) that the privilege, which was conferred in the assurance that the judicial system in the State was efficient and that the power of passing death sentences without restriction would not be abused, should be liable to revocation, if subsequent experience proved that assurance to have been not well founded;

And whereas, in view of the continued efficiency of the judicial system in the State and as a mark of confidence in His Highness' loyalty and in recognition of his rank and position among the Ruling Princes and Chiefs in the Punjab, it has been decided to make the privilege permanent subject to the conditions hereinbefore mentioned;

Therefore His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General is pleased, in token thereof, to grant this sanad to Lieutenant-Colonel His Highness Farzand-i-Dilband Rasikh-ul-Itikad Daulat-i-Inglishia, Raja-i-Rajagan, Maharaja Sir Jagatjit Singh, Bahadur, G.C.S.I., of Kapurthala and to his successors.

Whereas the Goorkhas have been completely expelled from these districts, and the whole of the hill country has come into the possession of the British Government, wherefore, by order of the Governor-General, this Sunnud is granted to Rajah Futteh Singh conferring on him and his heirs for ever the lands of Sirmoor, with all the rights and appurtenances belonging thereto.

The forts of Monnee and Juggutgurh, and Doonkyardah, and the districts of Jounsar and Banwar Moolakee have been disjoined from the Raja of Sirmoor, and taken into the possession of the British Government, and the forts of Khurcharree and Humar, with the lands attached, on the west of the Kurree Nuddee, have been annexed to the Thakoorraee of Keonthul, and the forts of Ghat and Sulhur on the east of the Kurree Nuddee have been annexed to the Raj of Sirmoor.

It is proper that Futteh Singh, being grateful to the British Government for its favour, should occupy the lands granted to him, and never at any time think of laying claim to the places above enumerated, which have been disjoined from Sirmoor, and annexed partly to the British territories, and partly to the Thakoorraee of Keonthul,

Further, he must not appoint a Dewan or Mutsuddees or do anything in the management of the Raj of Sirmoor without communicating and consulting with the officer who will be stationed there on the part of the British Government. He will conform to the above stipulations, and paying strict obedience to the British Government, he will, in the case of war, join, when required, the British troops with all his force, and do the part of a true ally. He will also make roads 12 feet broad throughout his territory

If he shall fail in any of the above obligations (which are again enumerated) or shall encroach on the possessions of others, he will fall under the displeasure of the British Government and will be dispossessed. He must consider this a valid instrument, and conforming to its conditions, take possession of the lands granted to him, and he must promote the welfare of his ryots and the extension of cultivation, and distribute justice, and look to the security of the roads, and not exact more from the ryots than their engagements, and, in short, make all people happy and contented.

The ryots on their part will be bound to consider Futteh Singh aforesaid as their rightful lord, and to obey him accordingly.

SUNNUD granted to RAJAH FUTTEH PERGASS of NAHUN,—1833.

Whereas the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council has been pleased to bestow on Futteh Pergass, Rajah of Nahun, and on his heirs and successors in perpetuity a grant of the lands, commonly called the Keardadoon, to form part of the Raj of Sirmoor; Be it known unto all that the aforesaid lands, namely, those of Keardadoon, are given up to Futteh Pergass and his heirs and successors for ever under the following conditions:—

1st.—That Futteh Pergass and those who follow him in possession shall respect the rights of the people, and administer justice with impartiality to all, of whatever class or persuasion.

2nd.—That the said Futteh Pergass and his successors shall levy no transit or customs duties on any species of merchandize which may pass through, or be exported from, or imported into, the aforesaid lands.

3rd.—That the said Futteh Pergass and his successors shall keep in repair the roads which at present exist in the aforesaid lands, and render such further assistance in constructing and repairing new roads as the British Government may at any future period, or from time to time, think proper to direct.

4th.—That the said Futteh Pergass and his successors shall maintain a sufficient police, and erect towers at convenient distances for the protection of travellers and merchants passing through the aforesaid Keardadoon.

5th.—That the said Futteh Pergass and his successors shall, at no time, or under any pretence, levy from his subjects dues or bounties or forced contributions of any sort, usually known by the name of Roomalee Nuzzuranah and the like, or any other fines or arbitrary exactions or impositions.

SUNNUD granted to RAJAH SHAMSHER PARKASH of NAHUN,—1872.

Whereas in the Sunnud, bearing date the 21st September 1815, granted to Rajah Futteh Singh, of Nahun, conferring on him and his heirs for ever the land of Sirmoor, with all the rights and appurtenances belonging thereto a clause was inserted to the effect that Rajah Futteh Singh must not appoint a Dewan or Mut-suddees, or do anything in the management of the Raj of Sirmoor without communicating and consulting with the officer who will be stationed there on the part of the British Government; and whereas Rajah Shamsher Parkash, the present Chief of Nahun, has represented that such clause as aforesaid was only inserted by reason of his ancestor Rajah Futteh Singh being, at the time of the grant of the Sunnud, a minor, a child of tender years, and that the restriction contained in such clause was removed by the Political Agent on Rajah Futteh Singh attaining his majority; and further that no British officer is now stationed at Nahun, and has accordingly applied for the grant of a revised Sunnud from which the restrictive clause abovementioned may be excluded; His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council, recognizing the reasonable grounds of Rajah Shamsher Parkash's representation, has been pleased to cancel in the Sunnud, dated 21st September 1815, the following paragraph—"Further, he must not appoint a Dewan or Mutsuddees, or do anything in the management of the Raj of Sirmoor without communicating and consulting with the Officer who will be stationed there on the part of the British Government."

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD from the GOVERNOR-GENERAL, granting the STATE of MUNDEE to RAJAH BULBEER SEIN of MUNDEE, dated 24th October 1846.

Whereas by the Treaty concluded between the British and Sikh Governments, on 9th March 1846, the hill country has come into the possession of the Honorable Company; and whereas Rajah Bulbeer Sein, Chief of Munde, the highly dignified, evinced his sincere attachment and devotion to the British Government; the State of Munde, comprised within the same boundaries as at the commencement of the British occupation, together with full administrative powers within the same, is now granted by the British Government to him and the heirs male of his body by his Rane, from generation to generation. On failure of such heirs, any other male heir who may be proved to the British Government to be next of kin to the Rajah, shall obtain the above State with administrative powers.

Be it known to the Rajah, that the British Government shall be at liberty to remove any one from the Guddee of Munde who may prove to be of worthless character and incapable of properly conducting the administration of his State, and to appoint such other nearest heir of the Rajah to succeed him as may be capable of the administration of the State and entitled to succeed. The Rajah or any one as above described, who may succeed him, shall abide by the following terms entered in this Sunnud, viz. :—

1st.—The Rajah shall pay annually into the treasury of Simla and Subathoo, one lakh of Company's Rupees as nuzzuranah by two instalments, the first instalment on the 1st of June, corresponding with Jeth, and the second instalment on the 1st November, corresponding with Kartick.*

2nd.—He shall not levy tolls and duties on goods imported and exported, but shall consider it incumbent on him to protect bankers and traders within his State.

3rd.—He shall construct roads within his territory not less than 12 feet in width, and keep them in repair.

4th.—He shall pull down and level the Forts of Kumlagurh,† Anundpore, etc., and never attempt to rebuild them.

5th.—On the breaking out of disturbances, he shall, together with his troops and hill-porters, whenever required, join the British army, and be ready to execute whatever orders may be issued to him by the British authorities and supply provisions according to his means.

6th.—He shall refer to the British Courts whatever dispute may arise between him and any other Chief.

7th.—In regard to the duties on the iron and salt mines, etc., situated in the territory of Mundee, rules shall be laid down after consultation with the Superintendent of the Hill States, and those rules shall not be departed from.

8th.—The Rajah shall not alienate any portion of the lands of the said territory without the knowledge and consent of the British Government, nor transfer it by way of mortgage.

9th.—He shall so put a stop to the practices of slave-dealing, suttee, female infanticide, and the burning or drowning of lepers, which are opposed to British laws, that no one shall venture in future to revive them.

It behoves the Rajah not to encroach beyond the boundaries of his State on the territory of any other Chief, but to abide by the terms of this Sunnud and adopt such measures as may tend to the welfare of his people, the prosperity of his country, and the improvement of the soil, and ensure the administration of even-handed justice to the aggrieved, the restoration to the people of their just rights, and the security of the roads. He shall not subject his people to extortion, but keep them always contented. The subjects of the State of Mundee shall regard the Rajah and his successors as above described to be the sole proprietor of that territory, and never refuse to pay him the revenue due by them, but remain obedient to him, and act up to his just orders.

* The dates of payment have been altered to 15th July and 15th February.

† The condition regarding the Fort of Kumlagurh was afterwards modified and the Rajah was allowed to preserve the upper buildings of the principal height, which contain shrines and temples; but the buildings on the other heights, not close to the temples, and especially the tombs, were to be destroyed. Not more than twenty men and six light guns for salutes were to be kept in the fort.

AGREEMENT between the SECRETARY OF STATE for INDIA and HIS HIGHNESS the RAJA of MANDI for the establishment of an ELECTRIC POWER HOUSE in MANDI STATE,—1925.

An Agreement made the third day of March one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five between the Secretary of State for India in Council (hereinafter together with his successors and assigns referred to as Government) of the one part and Lieutenant His Highness Raja Jogindar Sen Bahadur, Raja of Mandi (hereinafter called the Darbar) of the other part.

WHEREAS Government has under consideration a project for the supply of electric power to the Punjab commonly known as the Uhl River Hydro Electric Project in Mandi State, a description of which is contained in the report on the said project signed by Lt.-Col. B. C. Battye, R.E., on the tenth day of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four, and WHEREAS if and when such scheme is put into execution it will be necessary to establish a Head Works, Power House and connected works within the territory of Mandi State and WHEREAS it is intended that the purposes for and the rates at which power shall be sold, disposed of or applied shall from time to time be decided by the management of the project appointed by Government. Now for the mutual benefit of Government and of the Darbar IT IS HEREBY AGREED that if and so soon as Government shall finally decide to put into execution the said Hydro Electric Project, either as at present projected or with such changes or modifications as may hereafter be sanctioned by Government, but not in any other event, the following provisions shall come into force and be carried into effect that is to say :—

1. In consideration of the benefits hereinafter described the Darbar shall give on lease to Government free of charge all land for permanent and temporary occupation which may be required for the purposes of the said project, all the water of the Uhl River above the site of the proposed dam shown in the attached map* and all earth, lime or other building stone required for the works hereinafter referred to. Government will bear the cost of all expenses incurred by the Darbar for the re-establishment in suitable circumstances of any inhabitants who have to be removed from any land or houses for the purposes of the scheme and for compensating any inhabitants not so removed in respect of damage to land or property sustained by reason of the scheme. Further in the case of land, temporarily occupied, Government will bear the cost of restoring such land to its original condition, or alternatively of paying the capitalised value of compensation and in the case of water at present used for irrigation or for driving flour mills Government will bear the cost of compensation for loss of such water when it occurs, at rates to be agreed upon.

2. Government shall have the free use of water in one or more of the tributaries of the Rana River for purposes of temporary power development during the period of construction of the works herein mentioned and will pay full compensation for any loss caused by the diversion for temporary power development of any water at present used for irrigation or driving flour mills.

3. The Darbar will grant a lease of ninety-nine years of all the land and water rights other than temporary, required for the said project. The Darbar will retain full jurisdiction and sovereign rights over such land and after the expiration of ninety-nine years the lease will be renewable by Government on such terms as may be agreed upon between the parties and any case in which mutual agreement is impossible shall be referred to arbitration as hereinafter provided.

4. Excluding the tunnel, flumes and pipe-lines and haulageway which shall so far as possible not traverse culturable land Government will not require for permanent occupation more than forty acres of culturable land at the Head Works and not more than thirty acres at the power station near Shanan for the first stage of the project and not more than a further seventy-five acres of culturable land for the second stage of the project.

5. Should a tramway be built in connection with the project, as shown in the said report or otherwise, the ordinary rules regarding the payment of compensation laid down by Government of India in the case of Indian States will govern the case so far as cultivated and culturable land is concerned. As regards unculturable land the Darbar agrees to the principle that no rent should be paid.

6. Should it eventually be decided to increase the water supply by the construction of a dam near the headworks, cultivated land amounting to not more than sixty-five acres will by flooding be thrown out of cultivation. As the flooded area will comprise most of the cultivated land attached to the villages of Dedh-angna, Bret, Thuji, Kaduhan and Ghog, it will be necessary to remove the inhabitants of these villages and provide them with land of similar area and quality elsewhere. The cost of these operations which will be conducted by the Darbar will be debitable entirely to Government. The Darbar will give its consent to any measures necessary for such increase of water supply upon receiving notice from Government of its intention.

7. In return for the free grant of land, water and minerals as set forth above, the Darbar will be granted power for use or sale within the Mandi State free of charge, subject to a maximum limit of half of one per cent. of the peak load capacity of the power station, situated in the Mandi State, according to the development of the project and a minimum of two hundred and fifty kilowatts which will be supplied if required during the first year of operation delivered at Mandi town at a pressure of four hundred and forty volts, alternating current.

Should the Darbar at any time require power in excess of the above free allowance of half of one per cent. or two hundred and fifty kilowatts whichever is the greater, Government agree to supply the extra power required subject to a maximum limit of one thousand kilowatts exclusive of free supply at cost price as hereafter defined. Cost price shall be assumed to be ninety per cent. of the tariff rates for ordinary bulk supply for the time being in force in the Punjab. Should either party consider that ninety per cent. of the tariff rates is either less than or in excess of cost price that party may require a special audit to determine the percentage of such tariff rates which represents actual cost price. The party requiring the audit shall bear the cost thereof in any event but the percentage determined by the audit shall come into force from the date when the audit was demanded.

If and as soon as the maximum demand on the power station in Mandi State (to be ascertained in the same manner as hereinafter specified for the purpose of royalty) has exceeded thirty-nine thousand kilowatts the Darbar shall be entitled to an additional free supply of two hundred and fifty kilowatts making a total minimum free supply of five hundred kilowatts.

In addition to the above described free power and power at cost price the Darbar will be entitled to royalty of so many rupees per kilowatt of maximum demand generated at the power station in Mandi State at any one time for a continuous period of not less than twenty minutes within each calendar year, as measured by an approved maximum demand indicator at any time during the said calendar year under normal conditions of working, such maximum demand readings to be recorded monthly. The rate in rupees per kilowatt to be paid to the Darbar will be on a sliding scale, increasing with the total amount of power generated, in accordance with the following scale :—

Scale of Royalty.

When the maximum power generated at the power station at one time for not less than twenty minutes in any one calendar year does not exceed thirty-five thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine kilowatts	Nothing.
When the maximum power generated at the power station, as defined above, exceeds thirty-five thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine kilowatts	One rupee per kilowatt.
When it exceeds thirty-nine thousand kilowatts	Two rupees per kilowatt.
When it exceeds forty-two thousand kilowatts	Three rupees per kilowatt.
When it exceeds forty-five thousand kilowatts	Three rupees eight annas per kilowatt.

In addition to free power and to royalty at the rates described above, the Darbar will be entitled to the use, for irrigation or power purposes free of charge, of all the tailrace water discharged into the Rana River, below the power stations, provided that the water is not required for development of the fourth stage of the project which contemplates diverting the tail water into the Beas. The Government will decide within twenty years of the completion of the first stage, whether the fourth stage will be required.

8. The Superintending Engineer in charge of works under construction in the State—or other officer appointed by the Punjab Government and agreed to by the Darbar—shall be invested by the Darbar with the powers of a third class magistrate, under the authority of the Mandi State District Magistrate during the construction of the works. He shall also be empowered to decide civil suits the value of which does not exceed rupees one thousand. All civil cases in which any person employed on the works is a party and all criminal cases in which any such person is a complainant or an accused person which can legally be instituted in the court of the Superintending Engineer or officer appointed as abovementioned shall be instituted in that court and in no other. Such officer will be given a Moharrir by the Darbar, but the Moharrir's pay and all expenses connected with the appointment of such a magistrate will be borne by the Government, the Darbar only supplying the usual standard forms.

9. The Darbar will allot an area for the supply of fuel and timber as near the site of the works for which the same may be required as shall be conveniently possible. Government agrees to do all things possible to prevent any fellings or loppings without the authority of the State Forest Department. Payment for wood will be made at the ordinary State Forest Department rates.

10. As the small amount of labour available in the State is ordinarily required for the Salt Quarries, Government will have to import labour for their works. In case of emergencies the Darbar will, however, do their best to supply any coolies required at current local rates. Government agree as far as possible not to employ unskilled Sikhs and Pathans.

11. Government agree to pay due attention to any complaint on the part of the Darbar in regard to the employment or removal of undesirable characters. Should there be any disagreement between the parties on this project the matter shall be referred to the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States, whose decision will be final.

12. The Darbar undertake to close all liquor shops within a radius of three miles of the works during the construction of the works and Government undertake to make good to the Darbar any loss that may be occasioned by the closure of such shops. Should Government open liquor shops at the works, the amount realised by the sale of such liquor contracts will be payable to the Darbar.

13. The Darbar will charge no duty of any kind on any articles or materials required for the purposes of the said project and the works connected therewith or for the bona fide use of employees at the works.

14. In the event of internal upheaval of a nature to jeopardise the safety of the Hydro Electric Works and operating staff—if in the opinion of the Resident Engineer in charge of the power station, the safety of the works and staff are jeopardised,—the Punjab Government with the concurrence of the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States, shall be at liberty to take such steps, including the importation either of police or troops, as it may consider necessary for the safe-guarding of the said works and staff.

15. Government shall be at liberty at any time to hand over the working of the Hydro Electric scheme to any Body—Statutory or otherwise brought into existence for the purpose—provided that any such arrangements shall not affect the liability of Government or its responsibility to or its relations with the Darbar under this agreement. In such event Government will be responsible for ensuring that the terms of this agreement are fully complied with by the Body responsible for the working of the scheme.

16. In the event of any dispute between the Government and the Darbar with regard to the interpretation of this agreement or in regard to points left open for mutual agreement between the parties or which may arise in any other way in connection with the project, the matter shall be referred to the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States, whose decision will be final provided that the Agent to the Governor-General, Punjab States, may with the consent of the parties, refer any such matter for the decision of one or more arbitrators.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the parties have hereunto set their respective hands the day and year first above written.

SUNNUD to RAJAH MAHA CHUND of BELASPORE, dated 6th March 1815.

Whereas Rajah Maha Chund of Belaspore has, with sincerity of heart, professed obedience and submission to the British Government, and become a dependant of the Honorable Company, and has cast off all connection with the Goorkha State; therefore, in conformity with the tenor of the Proclamation issued under the authority of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 17th of October 1814, the Rajah is hereby confirmed in the possession of the lands of his ancient territory of Kyloer, actually occupied by him on this side of the river Sutledge, subject to the following conditions:—He shall never openly or secretly ally himself with the Goorkha State, or with any enemy of the Honorable Company, but remaining steadfast in the path of obedience and submission to the orders of the British Government, shall at all times be prepared, with the force which he may have, to render useful service to the British troops, providing supplies of grain and furnishing beggars (for the conveyance of burdens), and generally performing whatever may be entrusted to his charge. He shall ever be ready to obey such orders as may be signified to him at the present period, or which may be given to him at any future time, more especially on the occasion of any British force being sent against an enemy in that quarter, when he shall not fail to discharge to the utmost of his ability the obligations of fidelity and attachment to the British Government. Exclusive of the stipulations abovementioned, the British Government, in its liberality and favour, will not require from the Rajah any tribute or pecuniary indemnification of any kind. And in the event of a peace between the British Government and the Goorkha State, provided the Rajah shall have rendered faithful service, the British Government engages that nothing contrary to the conditions of protection as affecting the Rajah shall be listened to by the British Government. Moreover, the terms of the replies to the Rajah's requests, bearing the signature of Major-General Ochterlony, and dated on the 18th of February 1815, are approved and ratified by the Governor-General. It becomes the duty of the Rajah, therefore, that being firmly fixed and established in his Raj, he set his mind at rest on that point, and divesting himself of all apprehension, devote his time to the promotion of the happiness and comfort of his subjects, and consider this as a valid Sunnud for his country.

TRANSLATION of PAPER of REQUESTS presented by the AGENTS of RAJAH MAHA CHUND, and answers by MAJOR-GENERAL OCHTERLONY, 18th February 1815.

Requests.

1st.—Since I have withdrawn from my connection with the Goorkhas, and attaching myself to the British Government, consider my connection with it the same as my honor and my life, I hope that I shall be continued in possession of my ancient territory, and that it shall be under the protection of the Honorable Company, and that if at any time when the Goorkhas shall submit to the British power, they shall propose anything to my disadvantage from a spirit of revenge for my having abandoned their cause, it shall not be listened to.

Answers.

If the Rajah shall have really and truly withdrawn himself from his connection with the Goorkhas, and shall attach himself to the British Government, he shall undoubtedly be confirmed in the possession of his ancient territory of Khyloor, lying on this side of the River Sutledge, agreeably to the terms of the Proclamation which was issued under the authority of the Governor-General, on the 17th of October last, and it shall, in every respect, be considered to be under the protection of the British Government. In the event of peace between the British Government and the Goorkhas, no representation of the Goorkhas against the Rajah, at variance with the dues of protection, shall be attended to. But on the subject of guaranteeing the country of Khyloor a reference shall be made to the Governor-General.

2nd.—It is well known that the Forts of Futtehpoore, Mundgur, Behadurpoore, and Ruttunpoore, constructed by my ancestors, were held by me; suddenly, however, they were seized by Rajah Ram Surn, who held them for seven months, when I caused them to be restored to me. I hope that in continuing to me my ancient possessions, those Forts will be included therein.

3rd.—With respect to the affair of the twelve Thakoors, although they of old belonged to me, yet owing to my weakness, the Surmoreea Rajah sometimes got possession of them and sometimes they were held by Rajah Ram Surn. When the Goorkhas came here I was re-established in the possession of the twelve Thakoors. On the return of the Goorkhas from the Fort of Kangra they required that I should assign something out of the twelve Thakoors for the maintenance of the troops. In consideration of my connection with them, and also of my inability to oppose their requisition, nine of the twelve Thakoors were given to them. The Thakoors of Dhamee, Buhjee, and Kotee, are still in my possession. I have stated this merely in the way of information. Otherwise in every respect I am submissive to the pleasure of the British Government in this affair, and consider it a happiness to conform to its orders.

4th.—The Goorkhas gave several places to me besides those included in my original possessions. The Major-General is now vested with the same authority which they exercised. As he shall order, so will I consider it as happiness to act. Be pleased now to show me favour, or when I shall have rendered good service to the Government, 2nd.—I am also acquainted with the fact of the Forts of Futtehpoore, Mundgur, Behadurpoore, and Ruttunpoore, being of old dependencies of the country of Khyloor. Provided the Rajah shall withdraw from the Goorkhas, and connect himself with the British Government, they shall remain to him as heretofore.

3rd.—Any proposition by the Rajah regarding the twelve Thakoors is improper, for the real state of the case is very different. Although I must give a positive refusal to this request, for when the time for the settlement of the twelve Thakoors shall come they must be adjudged to the real proprietors, yet should the Rajah render good service to the British Government, and abandon the cause of the Goorkhas, the same consideration which he experienced with respect to one or two of the Thakoors from the Goorkhas, may, in my opinion, be also shown to him by the British Government.

4th.—No claim to any places which the Goorkhas gave to the Rajah, besides his ancient territory of Khyloor, can be listened to. In conformity with the terms of the Proclamation of the 17th October, no tribute nor pecuniary demand of any kind shall be exacted from the Rajah. In return for all the benefits which the Rajah will enjoy, the British Government only requires that while the war with the Goorkhas shall last, the Rajah shall co-operate with the British Troops, and that in future also, on every occasion of a British Force coming into this quarter to act against an enemy, the Rajah shall be ready to join and to afford every assistance in his power, by providing supplies of grain and discharging all the other obligations of fealty and submission.

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD granting territories to RAJAH JUGGUT CHUND of KUHLOK (BELASPORE), dated 21st October 1847.

Whereas by the Treaty concluded between the British Government and the State of Lahore, on the 9th March 1846, the hill territories came into the possession of the Honorable Company, and whereas Rajah Juggut Chund of Kuhlor has always evinced his obedience and submission to the British Officers, the Government hereby confirms in perpetuity to Rajah Juggut Chund and the heirs male lawfully begotten of his body by his Rancee, the Territory of Kuhlor, with such boundaries as have been in his possession since the commencement of the British rule in the Trans-Sutlej States, with full administrative powers therein. In default of an heir of the above description, the territory, with full powers, will be conferred upon the male heir who may be proved to the British Government to be next of kin to the Rajah. Be it known to the Rajah, that if any of his successors is found incompetent and unable to administer the affairs of the State, the British Government reserves to itself the power of removing him and installing another heir next of kin to the Rajah, who may be found entitled to it, and capable of administering the territory. Whoever shall, according to the foregoing terms, succeed the Rajah, will remain in the undisturbed possession of his territory and State, on the conditions which are specified in the Agreement executed by the Rajah, and which are as follows :—

1st.—That he shall abolish all transit duties in his territory, and consider it incumbent upon him to afford protection to the bankers, tradesmen, and dealers in his State.

2nd.—That he shall construct roads not less than 12 feet broad in his State, and repair them when necessary.

3rd.—That on the occasion of a war, he shall, when directed, join the British Army with his own retainers and hill-porters, keep himself in readiness to execute the order of the Officers of Government, and supply provisions according to his means.

4th.—That all disputes which may take place between the Rajah of Kuhlur and any other Chiefs shall be referred to the British Courts.

5th.—That he shall not alienate or mortgage any portion of his territory without the knowledge and permission of Government.

6th.—That he shall abolish in his territory slave-dealing, suttee, female infanticide, and the practice of burning or drowning lepers, as these practices are opposed to British law, and that he shall issue such strict orders in respect thereof that no one may venture to commit any of the said crimes.

The Rajah shall not encroach beyond the boundaries of his own territory on the territory of another. He shall consider this Sunnud as a ratified document, and use his exertions to fulfil the terms thereof, to promote the welfare of his people, to improve the condition of his country, to adopt measures for the increase of cultivation, to redress grievances, to maintain lawful rights, and to keep the roads secure. He shall not exact money from his subjects, but treat them with kindness, that they may always be thankful to him. It is the duty of the subjects to regard him and, after him, his successor, as above described, as their sole and lawful lord, to pay without fail the revenue due to him, to remain obedient to him at all times, and to behave themselves well.

SUNNUD granted to RAJAH WUZEER SING of FUREED KOTE, dated 21st April 1863.

Since the establishment of British supremacy in India Rajah Wuzeer Sing and his ancestors have given proofs of loyalty to the British Government, and have received rewards in the accession of fresh honours, dignity and territory. More recently the present chief of Fureed Kote evinced his adherence to the cause of the British Government during the mutiny of 1857-58, in consideration of which service the British Government has, out of Royal grace and condescension, remitted the service of ten sowars hitherto furnished by the Rajah ; has added to the forms under which he is officially addressed ; has increased the Khillut to which he is entitled, and raised the number of guns by which he is to be saluted to the number of eleven ; and has graciously acceded to the Rajah's desire to receive a Sunnud or Grant under the hand and seal of the Viceroy, confirming and guaranteeing to the Rajah and his heirs for ever the possession of his ancient hereditary territory, as well as the territory acquired by the Rajah from the British Government by grant or exchange under the following provisions :—

Clause 1.—The hereditary domain now in the possession of the Rajah, and the country acquired by the Rajah by grant and exchange, according to the annexed list, are hereby confirmed and guaranteed to the Rajah and his male heirs lawfully begotten, for ever, together with all the powers and authority, civil, criminal and fiscal, at present exercised by the Rajah.

Clause 2.—With the exception of the unredeemed revenue-free holdings in Illaka Kotkupoora noted below, the British Government will never demand from the Rajah or any of his successors, or from any of his feudatories, relatives, or dependants, any tribute on account of revenue, service, or any other plea.

Deduct yearly amount of compensation granted to the Rajah for the abolition of customs in his territory	2,000

Clause 3.—The Rajah has, in consideration of the compensation granted by the British Government, relinquished for himself and his successors for ever all right to levy excise or transit duties which have been abolished throughout the territory of Fureed Kote.

Clause 4.—The British Government desiring to see the House of Fureed Kote perpetuated, has conferred upon the Rajah and his successors for ever, when ever male heirs lawfully begotten may fail, the right of adopting a successor in accordance with the customs of his race.

Clause 5.—With regard to British subjects committing crime and apprehended in his territory, the Rajah and his successors will exercise the powers provided for in the despatch of the Honourable Court of Directors to the Madras Government, No. 3, dated 1st June 1836.

The Rajah and his successors will exert themselves to execute justice and promote the happiness and welfare of their people. They will, in accordance with the terms of a previous engagement, prohibit “suttee,” slavery, and female infanticide throughout their territory, and punish with exemplary rigor those who are found guilty of these crimes.

Clause 6.—The Rajah and his successors will never fail in their devotion and loyalty to the Sovereign of Great Britain.

Clause 7.—If at any time any force hostile to the British Government should appear in this direction, the Rajah will co-operate with the British Government and oppose the enemy. He will exert himself to the utmost of his resources in providing carriage and supplies according to requisitions he may receive from the officers of the British Government.

Clause 8.—The Rajah as heretofore will furnish at current rates, through the agency of his own officers, the necessary materials required for the construction of railroads, railway stations and Imperial roads and bridges. He will also freely give the land required for the construction of railroads and Imperial lines of road.

Clause 9.—The Rajah and his successors will always pursue the same course of fidelity and devotion to the British Government, and the Government will always be ready to uphold the honour and dignity of the Rajah and his house.

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD from the GOVERNOR-GENERAL, granting the Territory of CHUMBA to RAJAH SREE SING, dated 6th April 1848.

Whereas all the northern and eastern hill territory, between the Rivers Sutlej and Sindh, formerly attached to the territory of the Punjab, has been transferred to the British Government by the Treaty of the 9th March 1846, concluded between the Honorable Company and the Government of Lahore, the country of Chumba, which at the time the above Treaty was concluded was in the possession of the Rajah of the place, is hereby conferred in perpetuity upon him and his heirs male, who, according to the shastres, may be deemed his rightful successors. In the event of the Rajah leaving no male heirs, his next brother, who may be the eldest of the surviving brothers, will succeed him. The Rajahs of Chumba will retain full administrative powers within the limits of their own country, on the following conditions, viz. :—

1st.—The Rajah shall pay every year into the treasury of Kangra an annual sum of twelve thousand Rupees by two instalments: the first instalment to be paid in the month of Cheit; the second in the month of Magh.

2nd.—The Rajah shall at once abolish in his country the suttee rites, female infanticide, the slave trade, and the practice of mutilation.

3rd.—The Rajah shall protect merchants and travellers, and abolish sayer duties, etc., in his territory.

4th.—The Rajah shall cause roads 12 feet wide to be constructed through his country, and shall keep them in good repair.

5th.—On the occasion of war, the Rajah shall join the British army, furnish provisions and supply soldiers on a monthly pay of five Rupees each, and bearers to carry baggage on a salary of four Rupees each per mensem. Should any of the Rajahs of Chumba mismanage the affairs of the country, the British Government will remove him and appoint in his place another of the family. It is not the object of the British Government to take the country into its hands: the only thing which it has in view is that from the good management of the territory and the impartial administration of justice, the people should continue to enjoy peace and happiness.

6th.—If a dispute of any kind arise between the Rajah of Chumba and any other Chief, the case shall be laid before the British Government, and the Rajah shall abide by the decision which the Government shall pass thereon. Without the consent of the British Government, the Rajah shall enter into no negotiations with any other Chief, but shall confine himself to his own country, and exert himself to the utmost to promote the welfare and happiness of his people, to increase the cultivation of the territory, and to administer justice to all.

No. XCIII.

AGREEMENT for the LEASE of the CHUMBA FORESTS,—1864.

The Rajah of Chumba finding great difficulty in arranging for the preservation of the forests in his territory has requested the aid of the British Government and has agreed to give to the British officer whom the Government may appoint for this purpose the sole control of the forests in the territory of Chumba. To give effect, therefore, to the wishes of the Rajah, the following arrangements are agreed to by the Rajah of Chumba on the one hand and by and on behalf of the British Government on the other hand :—

ARTICLE 1.

The sole control of all forests in the territory of Chumba is vested in the British Government, who shall appoint an officer to be Conservator of the same.

ARTICLE 2.

The British Government shall be at liberty to place under strict conservancy management such forest tracts as it shall from time to time select and to lay down such general rules as it thinks proper for the control of all forests.

ARTICLE 3.

Such exemption from these rules shall be granted, or such other arrangements shall be made as shall be necessary to prevent interference with any acknowledged or established rights of the inhabitants of Chumba to cut wood for their own use.

ARTICLE 4.

No contractor or other person shall be allowed to cut timber in any of the forests within the Rajah's territories, except with the express permission of the Conservator, and on the rates and under the conditions fixed by him.

ARTICLE 5.

For every Deodar (Kalu) tree felled on the Chenab, and its tributaries, and within the Chumba territory by authority of the Conservator, the British Government shall pay to the Rajah of Chumba four (4) Rupees, and on the Ravee and its tributaries for each Deodar (Kalu) five (5) Rupees, and for other trees as follows :—

Akhrot, Walnut, three (3) Rupees per tree.

Boorj, Birch, one Rupee eight annas (1-8) per tree.

Susoon, Ash, and all other descriptions, including inferior sorts of pine, two (2) Rupees.

The above rates shall be understood to refer to trees above six (6) feet in girth, measured at man's height from the ground ; for trees of a smaller size half rates shall be paid.

Out of this sum one (1) Rupee per tree is to be set aside for conservancy purposes, of which the following is to be considered a detail :—

1.—Planting trees, fencing in young plantations, and arboriculture generally.

2 —For local daks.

The expenditure for such conservancy to be entirely under the control of the Conservator, and that of the daks under the Rajah's agency.

3.—The balance from this fund after paying expenses as above to be divided evenly between the Forest Department and the Rajah, and to be expended at the discretion of each on the construction and improvement of roads and communication generally.

4.—That for each of the two official years, namely, 1864-65 and 1865-66, the Rajah will receive from the Conservator of Forests the sum of Rupees one thousand (1,000) in lieu of all his claims to waif timbers on the Ravee within his territories, and that after that period and during the currency of this lease he will receive five hundred (Rupees 500) per annum on this account, all such timber becoming from date of said lease the property of the British Government.

ARTICLE 6.

The accounts shall be made up half-yearly to 30th April and 31st of October and shall be rendered to the Rajah, and the payments made at the above-mentioned rates half-yearly in the months of May and November.

ARTICLE 7.

The British Government shall manage the Chumba forests in accordance with the general system of forest management which may be in force for similar forests within the territories of the British Government, and for the preservation of the same shall maintain such establishments as it shall consider suitable in each case. The British Government will defray all the expenses of these establishments connected with the conservancy of forests except as provided for in paragraph 5, Clauses 2 and 3.

ARTICLE 8.

The British Government, or the contractors employed by it, will defray all expenses of felling and transporting the timber, and they shall be at liberty to dispose of it by sale or otherwise at their pleasure, subject to no other claim from the Rajah than the payments referred to in paragraph 5 of the present Agreement; and it is distinctly understood that any former or customary charge on the employés of the British Government, such as "Dulalee," &c., is now abolished.

ARTICLE 9.

All timber passing down the Rivers Chenab and Ravee across the boundary of the Chumba territory, unless covered by a pass from the Conservator and duly marked in the manner described in the pass, shall be presumed to be the property of the British Government, and may be taken possession of as such by the Conservator or his Agents, and the onus of proving the timber to belong to any other person shall rest upon such person.

ARTICLE 10.

The Conservator shall be authorized to exercise within the Chumba territory the powers of a Subordinate Magistrate of the 1st Class, as described in Act XXV of 1861, for the trial of offences against property, and relating to property marks, mischief, assaults, and contravention of such forest rules as may from time to time be in force in the territories under the Government of the Punjab.

ARTICLE 11.

The Rajah engages to render every aid required by the Conservator in the exercise of the above powers for apprehending offenders or supposed offenders and for enforcing the penalties awarded by him.

ARTICLE 12.

This agreement shall continue in force for a period of twenty (20) years from the 1st of May 1864, but on the expiry of that term shall be renewable at the pleasure of the British Government for a further period of (20) twenty years, and shall then be again renewable in like manner until the term of ninety-nine (99) years from the original date (1st May 1864) shall have expired. At the expiry of that period it shall be at the option of the Rajah to renounce the agreement or enter into a fresh one.

Provided that any revision or modification of the rates and mode of payment described in Clauses 5, 6, and 13 that shall be agreed to by both contracting parties may take place at any time without affecting the continuance of the agreement or any of its provisions.

ARTICLE 13.

In order to secure to the Rajah a fixed moderate income from his forests, the British Government agree that a minimum payment of Rupees twenty thousand (20,000) per annum be fixed, and that in the event of its not cutting wood to that amount in any year, the Rajah will still receive from the said Government this sum as rent, and in event of the value of annual cutting being in excess of twenty thousand Rupees (20,000) the British Government agree to pay amount at the rates fixed and as in this lease.

Executed this the tenth (10th) day of September 1864 (eighteen hundred and sixty-four), 27th Badon 1821, at Dalhousie, in presence of the undersigned.

REVISED AGREEMENT for the lease of the CHAMBA FORESTS,—1872.

Whereas, by the terms of an agreement bearing date at Dalhousie the tenth day of September 1864, His Highness the Raja of Chamba, having requested the aid of the British Government in the management of his forests, has, for that purpose, leased the said forests to the British Government ; and whereas certain additions to, and alterations in, the said agreement having been from time to time consented to by the parties thereto : it is advisable now to embody the said additions and alterations in a new form of agreement, and also, at the same time, to make more definite provision by the terms of such agreement for the proper conservancy of the forests aforesaid.

The following articles have been agreed upon between His Highness the Raja of Chamba, of the one part, and Major-General Reynell George Taylor, C.B., C.S.I., Commissioner, at present, for the Amritsar Division of the Punjab, on behalf of the British Government, of the other part :—

1. From and after the date of the execution of this present agreement, the former agreement bearing date at Dalhousie the 10th day of September 1864, shall cease to be of force, and shall be deemed to be cancelled and superseded by this present agreement.

2. The term “ Forest,” as used in these articles, shall mean and include—

(a) Those tracts of country covered with trees, or from which the trees have been felled, which, for seven years past and upwards, have paid no revenue as cultivated land to the Chamba State.

(b) Such other tracts of land, cultivated, or uncultivated, covered with trees or barren, as the Raja of Chamba may from time to time consent to give up for the purpose of consolidating or extending the area of any existing forest, or of forming new plantations or forests.

3. With the exception of the forests enumerated in Article 6, all forests in territories subject to His Highness the Raja of Chamba shall be preserved, worked, and managed according to the rules set forth in the schedule hereto annexed, and the right to the produce thereof shall vest in the several parties therein declared to be entitled thereto.

Provided that the said rules shall be in force for three years from date of this agreement, at the end of which time the British Government may call for a report thereon and decide whether they shall continue as they are or be in any respect added to, modified, or amended.

4. The Raja of Chamba agrees to the grant to the British Government, during the currency of this agreement, all his rights in unclaimed, waif and wind-fall timber on the rivers "Chenab" and "Ravi" and their several tributaries, and in all other parts of his territories; and further to grant to the said Government the entire control of rivers and streams coming from and passing through the forests in so far as concerns the floating, management, or collection of timber in transit to the timber depôts.

5. The British Government may invest all or any of the officers in whom, under the said rules, the control of any forest, or of timber-floating operations, is vested with all or any of the powers of a Magistrate as described in the Code of Criminal Procedure in force in British India, to be exercised within the Chamba territory, for the purpose of trying and punishing offences against the rules aforesaid.

And the Raja of Chamba engages to render every aid required by the officer or officers authorized to exercise such powers for bringing to justice all persons charged with offences against the rules, and for enforcing the judgment awarded against them.

6. The following forests, groves, and trees shall be excluded from the operation of Article 3, that is to say—

(1) The forests known as "Jamwar and Kajjia," as demarcated and defined according to the terms of a letter from the Superintendent of the Chamba State to the Secretary to the Government of the Punjab in the Department of Public Works, No. 22, dated July 5th, 1869.

Provided also that such excepted trees may, where necessary, be marked or the area in which they stand demarcated.

(3) All trees growing on village or other lands under cultivation, not being forest lands within the meaning of Article 2.

(5) All trees growing within 200 feet on either side of the public roads hereinafter enumerated, or in the vicinity of any spring or well.

Provided that, when such road or spring or well passes through, or is situated within a forest which is reserved under the rules hereto annexed, this clause shall not be held to affect such forest, but it shall remain in all respects as a “ reserved forest ” under the rules,—the British Government on their part engaging not to fell trees in such forest within 200 feet of such public road, or in the vicinity of such spring or well, without the previous consent of the Superintendent of the Chamba State.

SCHEDULE 1.

RULES FOR CHAMBA FORESTS.

CHAPTER 1.

Of the Division of Forest Land into Reserved and Unreserved.

1. Classification of Forests.—There will be two classes of forests, to be called reserved and unreserved. The Conservator of Forests or such other officer as he may authorise in that behalf may from time to time, but subject always to the exceptions agreed to by the terms of the lease, declare that any forests shall be “reserved.”

2. Selection and demarcation of reserved forests.—The Conservator of Forests, or other officer as aforesaid, may indicate by posts or other temporary marks the boundaries which, after local enquiry in concert with an official of the Chamba State deputed for the purpose, are in his opinion the true limits of the tract to be reserved. But it shall rest with the Superintendent of the Chamba State, in concert with the Conservator of Forests, to determine finally the boundaries of such tracts.

3. Procedure after final demarcation.—When the boundaries have been finally determined as aforesaid, the Forest Officer shall, if the tract is not already defined by natural boundaries, demarcate the same by conspicuous boundary marks according to the final decision aforesaid.

Record of boundaries.—A record of the boundaries shall be then prepared, accompanied by such maps as may be necessary. The record shall be signed by the Conservator of Forests, and an attested copy of it shall be sent for deposit to the Superintendent of the Chamba State.

4. After final demarcation public notice to be given.—Wherever any forest is reserved and finally demarcated under this rule, due notice shall be publicly given in the vicinity of such forest, and the inhabitants be warned against trespass or other infringement of the forest rules.

5. Procedure in including waste or cultivated land for plantations, &c.—If in any case it is desired to include in a reserved forest area any waste or cultivated land which is not forest within the meaning of Article 2 of the agreement, or to take up a plot of such land for the purpose of plantation, such plot shall only be included or taken up with the consent of the Superintendent of the Chamba State, and after payment of such compensation, if any, as he may award. After declaration of such consent and the determination of compensation, if any, the plot may be included in the area of a reserved forest or demarcated as a separately reserved forest, as the case may be.

6. Control of reserved forests.—Reserved forests shall be under the exclusive control of the officer appointed by the British Government to be Conservator of Forests in the Punjab, and of such officers subordinate to the Conservator as may be appointed by the said Government to the charge of any divisions of the forests.

7. General rights to produce in reserved forests.—Except where otherwise expressly provided, the British Government shall have the exclusive right to the produce of such forests.

8. Management of unreserved forests.—All other forests to which these rules apply are called “unreserved” forests. They will be under the management of the Superintendent of the Chamba State.

9. Right to produce in unreserved forests.—Subject to the protective provision hereinafter contained, the unreserved forests are open to the Raja of Chamba for his own use for the exercise of such forest privileges as are allowed by His Highness, but not for the purpose of sale or merchandize.

CHAPTER 2.

Of the protection of Unreserved Forests.

10. Conservancy of unreserved forests; acts prohibited.—Unless expressly permitted by the Superintendent of the Chamba State, the following acts are prohibited in all unreserved forests:—

- (a) Breaking of forest land for cultivation.
- (b) Setting fire to grass tracts in the vicinity of forests, or negligently permitting fire to extend thereto.
- (c) Setting fire to trees, brushwood, or stumps.
- (d) Cutting out slabs, torches, etc., from the stems of standing trees, barking or boring for turpentine, or otherwise injuring standing trees.
- (e) Lopping the branches of the valuable kinds of trees afterwards enumerated; cutting young trees of the valuable kinds if less than four feet in girth at three feet from the ground.
- (f) Selling standing trees.
- (g) Cutting the valuable kinds of trees hereafter enumerated without the written permission of the Superintendent of the Chamba State, or of someone authorized by him to grant such permission. The valuable kinds of trees alluded to in the foregoing rules are—

Kelu (C. deodara).

Darchil (C. excelsa).

Akrot, walnut (Juglans regia).

Sunnu, ash (Fraxinus floribunda).

Tun or dour, hill tun (Cedrela serrata).

Chinar, plane (Platanus orientalis).

Permission shall not be given for the felling of more than an aggregate number, in all the unreserved forests together, of 300 Kelu trees in any one year, and return of Kelu trees so felled shall be annually rendered by the Superintendent of Chamba State to the Conservator of Forests.

CHAPTER 3.

Of the Protection of "Reserved Forests."

11. Conservancy of Reserved Forests.—All the prohibitions enumerated in Rule 10 shall (mutatis mutandis) be enforced in reserved forests. In addition thereto, the following acts are prohibited in reserved forests :—

- (h) Traversing a forest except on authorized or public roads and pathways.
- (i) Grazing or trespass by cattle or flocks and driving of cattle or flocks except on authorized or public roads and pathways.
- (k) Collecting grass, brushwood, or fodder.
- (l) Collecting fallen timber.
- (m) Collecting gums, resins, wax, honey or other forest produce.
- (n) Kindling a fire in the forest or carrying fire except on an authorized road or pathway.
- (o) Carrying any implements for cutting wood or grass except on an authorized public road or pathway, and except it is carried in pursuance of a license to cut.

And generally no forest rights or privileges of any kind shall be exercised in reserved tracts.

Proviso for cases where privileges are to be allowed in Reserved Forests.—Provided always that, if in any case it has not been found practicable, when making the selection of reserved forests, to leave a sufficient or conveniently situated area of forest as unreserved for the exercise of forest privileges, or if there are no sufficient grazing grounds in the vicinity, or if in any other special case it shall be deemed desirable, the exercise of certain forest privileges may be allowed in the "Reserved" Forests.

Privileges allowed.—But in such cases the privileges to be allowed are—

- (a) Cutting wood for necessary building and agricultural purposes.
- (b) Cutting grass.
- (c) Grazing of cattle.
- (d) Fuel.

12. Definition of such privileges and conditions of exercise.—When any privileges are allowed in a reserved forest under the proviso to the last preceding rule, such privileges shall be defined by the Superintendent of Chamba in concert with forest officers and recorded, and the signature of the headmen of the village shall be affixed to such record.

Conditions of felling.—All trees felled under such circumstances shall be so pursuant to a written permit granted by the forest officer, which shall specify the place and other conditions of felling, and shall fix a fair and sufficient time within which such license must be exercised. Permits to fell must be returned to the forest officer as soon as the time mentioned therein has expired, or as soon as the trees have been felled, if felled before the expiry of the time.

Of other privileges.—Cutting grass, grazing, and the collection of fuel to be practised in such portion of the forest as the forest officers shall assign for the purpose.

13. Timber required for public works in special cases.—If in any case, in the execution of any public work, or in the making of any road or bridge, His Highness the Raja shall require timber which cannot conveniently be taken from an unreserved forest, the forest officer shall, if the amount be reasonable, and can be spared without injury to the forest, give a written permit authorizing the timber to be felled in a reserved forest in a suitable and proper locality.

14. Closing unnecessary footpaths in Reserved Forest.—Whenever any unnecessary footpath or road passes through a reserved forest, thereby rendering its proper conservancy difficult to maintain, the forest officers may, with the consent of the Superintendent of Chamba, close it against traffic. Due notice of the closing of such road or pathway shall be publicly given in the vicinity.

CHAPTER 4.

Of Timber in transit.

15. Right to timber in transit not covered by a pass.—All timber passing down the rivers Chenab and Ravi across the boundary of the Chamba territory, unless covered by a pass from the Conservator of Forests, or one of his subordinates authorized to grant such passes, and unless marked in the manner described in the pass, shall be deemed to be the property of the British Government, and may be taken possession of by the Conservator of Forests or his subordinate as aforesaid: such

Proof of ownership. timber shall not be released until the claimant proves his title to the satisfaction of the Conservator of Forests, or of his subordinate as aforesaid, and pays such expenses as may have been incurred in catching and keeping the timber.

16. Removal, destruction and defacement of logs.—No person shall, without the permission of the Conservator of Forests, or his subordinate, remove, cut up, burn, deface the marks of, or mark again, any timber whether stranded or floating, provided that this rule shall not interfere with the privilege of the villagers to take for firewood stranded pieces of timber which are not, however, to be larger than one man can lift by himself.

CHAPTER 5.

Of the Punishment of Forest Offences.

17. Offences in Unreserved Forests.—Any person who breaks any rule relating to Unreserved Forests shall be liable to the jurisdiction of the Raja of Chamba for punishment according to law.

18. In Reserved Forests.—Any person who breaks any rule relating to the "Reserved Forests" shall be liable, on conviction before the Superintendent of Chamba State, or before a forest officer invested with magisterial powers under Article 5 of the Agreement, to fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, or in default of payment, to three months' imprisonment with or without hard labour.

Proviso where act in breach of rules also constitutes a serious offence.—Provided always that when the act which is a breach of the rules amounts to a serious offence, such as mischief or theft, if the case is brought before the Superintendent, he may try the case as for such grave offence instead of proceeding under these rules; and if the case is brought before a forest officer with powers as aforesaid, he may, instead of proceeding as for a breach of the rules, forward the case with written report to the Superintendent of the Chamba State, who may try the case and award such punishment as may be proper.

No. XCVI.

AGREEMENT for the RENEWAL of the LEASE of the CHAMBA FORESTS,—1905.

Articles of Agreement made this eighteenth day of September 1905 between His Highness Raja Bhure Singh of Chamba of the one part and Romer Edward Younghusband, Commissioner of the Lahore Division, Punjab, for and on behalf of the British Government, of the other part. Whereas by an agreement, bearing date at Dalhousie, the tenth day of December one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, His Highness Sri Singh, Raja of Chamba, having requested the aid of the British Government in the management of his forests, did for that purpose lease the said forests to the British Government on the terms and conditions therein set forth. And whereas certain additions to and alterations in the said agreement having been from time to time consented to by the parties thereto, it was deemed in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two advisable to embody the said additions and alterations in a new form of agreement, and also to make more definite provision by the terms of such agreement for the proper conservancy of the forests aforesaid: And whereas a new agreement, bearing date at Chamba the eighth day of July one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, was accordingly executed by His Highness Gopal Singh, Raja of Chamba, of the one part and Reynell G. Taylor, Commissioner and Superintendent, Amritsar Division, on behalf of the British Government, of the other part, for the purposes aforesaid: And whereas it was provided by the last-named agreement that "any revision or modification of the rates and mode of payment described in Articles VII, VIII, IX of the said agreement that may be agreed to by both parties may be made at any time without affecting the continuance of this agreement or any of its provisions": And whereas it was also provided by the said agreement, dated at Chamba the eighth day of July one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, that on the expiry of the term of the said agreement it should be renewable at the pleasure of the British Government for a further term of twenty years, on expiry whereof it should be again renewable in a like manner until the term of ninety-nine years counting from the first day of May one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four should have expired: And whereas the term of the said agreement, dated at Chamba the eighth day of July one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, expired on the last day of April one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four: And whereas timely notice of renewal of the said agreement for a further period of twenty years was duly given to His Highness the Raja of Chamba by the British Government: And whereas in exercise of the power reserved by the aforesaid proviso certain additions to and alterations in the said agreement dated Chamba the 8th day of July 1872 were from time to time consented to by the parties thereto: And whereas it was deemed advisable to embody the said additions and alterations and others also consented to by the said parties in a further formal agreement: And whereas a new agreement bearing date the 24th day of May 1886 was accordingly executed by His Highness Raja Sham Singh of Chamba of the one part and George Robert Elsmie, Commissioner for the time being of the Lahore Division, Punjab, on behalf of the British Government of the other part embodying the said additions and alterations: And whereas the parties to the last hereinbefore recited agreement, being of opinion that the appropriateness of certain terms used therein to duly express the true intent and meaning of the parties thereto was open to doubt and that Article XI of the said Agreement was unnecessary and should not have been therein included, executed a Supplementary Agreement dated Dalhousie the 23rd day of August 1887 whereby the meaning of the parties was made more clear and the said Article XI was thereby cancelled: And whereas in accordance with the power granted by Article XII of the said agreement dated Chamba the 24th day of May 1886 the British Government is desirous of renewing the said agreement as modified by the said Supplementary Agreement dated the 23rd day of August 1887 for a further term of twenty years and the parties hereto to facilitate the settling of accounts and for other purposes have agreed to certain further modifications and alterations of the terms of the agreement as hereinafter appears: Now therefore these articles witness as follows:

I.—From and after the date of the execution of this agreement, the former agreements, bearing date Chamba the 24th day of May 1886 and Dalhousie the 23rd day of August 1887, shall cease to be of force and shall be deemed to be cancelled and superseded by this present agreement.

II.—The term “forest” as used in these articles, shall mean and include (a) those tracts of country covered with trees or from which trees have been felled, (b) such other tracts of land cultivated or uncultivated covered with trees or barren as the Raja of Chamba may from time to time consent to give up for the purpose of consolidating or extending the area of any existing forest or forming new plantations or forests.

III.—With the exception of the forests enumerated in Article VI all forests in the territories subject to the Raja of Chamba shall be preserved, worked and managed according to the rules set forth in the Schedule hereto annexed and the right to the produce thereof excepting wild animals, birds, honey, wax, fruits and flowers shall vest in the British Government unless otherwise provided for and declared by the terms of this lease or the rules under it and by any record of rights or privileges framed thereunder.

IV.—The Raja of Chamba agrees to grant to the British Government during the currency of this agreement all his rights in unclaimed waif and windfall timber on the rivers Chenab and Ravi and their several tributaries and in all other parts of his territories, and further to grant to the said Government the entire control of rivers and streams coming from and passing through the forests in so far as concerns the floating, management or collection of timber in transit to the timber depots.

V.—The British Government may invest all or any of the officers under whom, in the said rules, the control of any forest, or of timber floating operations is vested with all or any of the powers of a Magistrate as described in the Code of Criminal Procedure in force in British India to be exercised within the Chamba territory for the purpose of trying and punishing offences against the rules aforesaid. The Raja of Chamba engages to render every aid required by the officer or officers authorised to exercise such powers for bringing to justice all persons charged with offences against the rules and for enforcing the judgment awarded against them.

VI.—The following forests, groves and trees shall be excluded from the operation of Article III, that is to say :—

- (1) The forests known as Jamwar and Kajjiar as demarcated and defined according to the terms of a letter from the Superintendent of the Chamba State to the Secretary to the Government of the Punjab in the Department of Public Works, No. 22, dated 5th July 1869.

- (5) All trees growing within two hundred feet on either side of the public roads hereinafter enumerated or in the vicinity of any spring or well. Provided that when such road or spring or well passes through or is situated within a forest which is reserved under the annexed rules this clause shall not be held to affect such forest ; but it shall remain in all respects as a “ reserved forest ” under the rules. The British Government on their part engage not to fell trees in such forest within two hundred feet of such public road, spring or well without the previous consent of the Raja of Chamba.

VIII.—In consideration of the payments made by the British Government under Article VII the Raja agrees to keep in good repair all existing roads and bridges which are used as lines of communication with the reserved forests, and further to supply a bi-weekly postal service to all forest officers while on duty in his territory.

(2) If when the annual accounts for any financial year are made up, it appears that the income derived from the said forests is less than the amount which the British Government is, under Clause VII of this agreement, entitled to deduct, the Raja, on the submission of the annual accounts to him, shall pay the difference between the income and the said amount to be deducted within the period of six months from the close of the said financial year, or, should he so desire, the said difference shall be deducted from the first revenues realized in the financial year following that for which it became due and payable or in subsequent years if necessary.

Provided always that any revision or modification of the payments or mode of payment described in Articles VII and IX that may be agreed to by both parties may be made at any time without affecting the continuance of this agreement or any of its provisions.

SCHEDULE.

RULES FOR CHAMBA FORESTS.

CHAPTER I.

Of the Division of Forest Land into Reserved and Unreserved.

1. Classification of forests.—There will be two classes of forests, to be called reserved and unreserved. The Conservator of Forests, or such other officer as he may authorize in that behalf, may from time to time, but subject always to the exceptions agreed to by the terms of the lease, declare that any forests shall be reserved.

2. Selection and demarcation of reserved forests.—The Conservator of Forests or such officer as aforesaid, may indicate by posts or other temporary marks, the boundaries which, after local enquiry in concert with an official of the Chamba State deputed for the purpose, are in his opinion the true limits of the tracts to be reserved, but it shall rest with the Raja of Chamba in concert with the Conservator of Forests to determine finally the boundaries of such tracts.

3. Procedure after final demarcation.—When the boundaries have been finally determined as aforesaid, the Forest Officer shall, if the tract is not already defined by natural boundaries, demarcate the same by conspicuous boundary marks according to the final decision aforesaid.

Record of boundaries.—A record of the boundaries shall then be prepared, accompanied by such maps as may be necessary. The record shall be signed by the Conservator of Forests, and an attested copy shall be sent for deposit to the Raja of Chamba.

4. After final demarcation public notice to be given.—Whenever any forest is reserved and finally demarcated under this rule, due notice shall be publicly given in the vicinity of such forest and the inhabitants be warned against trespass or other infringement of the forest rules.

5. Procedure in including waste or cultivated lands for plantations.—If in any case it is desired to include in reserved forest area any waste or cultivated land which is not forest within the meaning of Article II of the agreement, or to take up a plot of such land for the purpose of plantation, such plot shall only be included or taken up with the consent of the Raja of Chamba and after payment of such compensation as he may award. After declaration of consent and payment of such compensation the plot may be included in the area of a reserved forest or demarcated as a separately reserved forest.

6. Control of reserved forests.—Reserved forests shall be under the exclusive control of the officer appointed by the British Government to be Conservator of Forests in the Punjab, and of such officers subordinate to the Conservator as may be appointed by the said Government to the charge of the Chamba Division.

7. General rights to produce in reserved forests.—Except when otherwise expressly provided for the British Government shall have the exclusive right to the produce of such forests.

8. Management of unreserved forests.—All other forests to which these rules apply are called “unreserved forests.” They will be under the management of the Raja of Chamba.

9. Rights to produce in unreserved forests.—Subject to the protective provision hereinafter contained, the unreserved forests are open to the Raja of Chamba for his own use, for the exercise of such forest privileges as are allowed by His Highness, but not for the purpose of sale and merchandise. Except that the Raja may permit the collection and sale of dry and fallen timber and inferior trees for fuel, grass, wild animals, birds, honey, wax, fruit and flowers, taking care that such collection is effected in such a manner as not to injure the forest or contravene any specific rule.

CHAPTER II.

Of protection of unreserved forests.

10. Conservancy of unreserved forests; acts prohibited.—Unless expressly permitted by the Raja of Chamba, the following acts are prohibited in all unreserved forests :

- (a) Breaking up forest land for cultivation.
- (b) Setting fire to grass tracts in the vicinity of forests or negligently permitting fire to extend thereto.
- (c) Setting fire to trees, brushwood or stumps.
- (d) Cutting out slabs, torches, from the stems of standing trees, barking or boring for turpentine, or otherwise injuring standing trees.
- (e) Lopping off branches of the valuable kinds of trees afterwards enumerated, cutting young trees of the valuable kinds if less than four feet in girth at three feet from the ground.
- (f) Selling dry and fallen timber and inferior trees for fuel.
- (g) Cutting the valuable kinds of trees detailed below without the written permission of the Raja or someone authorized by him to give such permission :—

Kelu (deodar)	Cedrus deodara.
Darchil	Pinus exoelsa.
Chil	Pinus longifolia.
Akhrot (walnut)	Juglans regia.
Sunu (ash)	Fraxinus floribunda.
Tun (hill tun)	Cedrela serrata.
Chinar (plane)	Platanus orientalis.

Permission shall not be given for the felling of more than three hundred deodar trees in the unreserved forests in any one year, and the return of the trees so felled shall be annually rendered by the Raja of Chamba to the Conservator of Forests.

Permits to cut deodar trees shall specify the places and time within which they must be exercised, and they shall be returned to the official by whom they were issued as soon as the time mentioned therein has expired.

CHAPTER III.

Of the protection of reserved forests.

11. Conservancy of reserved forest.—All prohibitions enumerated in Rule 10 shall (mutatis mutandis) be enforced in reserved forests.

In addition thereto the following acts are prohibited in reserved forests :—

- (h) Traversing a forest except on authorized or public roads and pathways.
- (i) Grazing or trespass by cattle or flocks and driving of cattle or flocks except on public roads and pathways.
- (k) Collecting grass, brushwood or fodder.
- (l) Collecting fallen timber.
- (m) Removing soil, dead leaves, or moss from the forest or collecting gums and resins. The collection of wax, honey, madder root, fruit, flowers, wild animals and birds which is not specifically prohibited in the rules is permitted in reserved forests, provided that it is effected by some person who is recorded as the responsible right-holder, and who is bound to effect such collection without trampling or destroying seedlings or young trees, making deep holes in the forest soil, or otherwise unnecessarily injuring the forests.
- (n) Kindling a fire in the forests or carrying fire except on an authorised road or pathway.
- (o) Carrying any implements for cutting wood or grass except on an authorized road or pathway, and except it is carried in pursuance of a license to cut; and generally no forest rights or privileges of any kind shall be exercised in reserved tracts. Provided that the Forest Officer may permit the Raja when necessary to take what grass and fuel he requires for his personal use, subject to the provision in rule (m). Provided also always that if in any case it has not been found practicable when selecting reserved forests to leave a sufficient or conveniently situated area of forests as unreserved for the exercise of forest privileges, or if there are no sufficient grazing grounds in the vicinity or if in any other special case it shall be deemed desirable, the exercise of certain forest privileges may be allowed in reserved forests. But in such cases the only privileges to be allowed are—
 - (a) Cutting wood for necessary building or agricultural purposes.
 - (b) Cutting grass and fodder.
 - (c) Grazing cattle and sheep.
 - (d) Fuel.

12. Definition of privileges and conditions of exercise.—When any privileges are allowed in a reserved forest under the proviso to the last preceding rule, such privileges shall be defined by the Raja of Chamba in concert with the Forest Officers and recorded, and the signatures of the “flaqua” headmen shall be affixed to such record.

Conditions of felling.—All trees felled under such circumstances shall be so pursuant to a written permit granted by the Forest Officer, which shall specify the place and conditions of felling, and shall fix a fair and sufficient time for felling and removal.

Permits to fell must be returned to the Forest Officer as soon as the time mentioned therein has expired, or as soon as the trees have been felled, if felled before the expiry of the time.

Of other privileges.—Cutting grass, grazing and the collection of fuel may be practised in such portion of the forest as the Forest Officers shall assign for the purpose.

13. Timber required for public works in special cases.—If in any case, in the building of any place, public work, bridge, or roadway, His Highness shall require timber which cannot be conveniently taken from an unreserved forest, the Forest Officer shall, if the amount be reasonable and can be spared without injury to the forest, give a written permit for the timber to be felled in a reserved forest in a suitable and proper locality, or timber may be sawn up by the Forest Officer and supplied at cost price at his discretion.

Closing unnecessary footpaths in reserved forests.—Whenever any unnecessary road or pathway passes through a reserved forest, thus rendering its proper conservancy difficult to maintain, the Forest Officer may, with the consent of the Raja, close it against traffic. Due notice of such closing shall be publicly given in the vicinity.

CHAPTER IV.

15. Right to timber not covered by a pass.—All timber passing down the rivers Chenab and Ravi across the boundary of the Chamba territory, unless covered by a pass from the Conservator of Forests or an authorized subordinate, and unless marked in the manner described in the pass, shall be deemed to be the property of the British Government, and may be taken possession of by the Conservator of Forests or his authorized subordinate. Such timber shall not be released until the claimant prove his title to the satisfaction of the Conservator or his authorized subordinate, and pays the expenses incurred in catching and keeping the timber.

16. Removal, destruction and defacement of logs.—No person shall, without the permission of the Conservator of Forests or his subordinate, remove, cut up, burn, deface the marks of or mark again, any timber whether stranded or floating: provided that this rule shall not interfere with the privileges of the villagers to take for firewood stranded pieces of timber which while not bearing any property mark, or not having been sawn are not, however, to be larger than one man can lift by himself.

CHAPTER V.

Of the Punishment of Forest Offences.

17. Offences in unreserved forests.—Any person who breaks any rule relating to unreserved forests shall be liable to the jurisdiction of the Raja of Chamba for punishment according to law.

18. Offences in reserved forests.—Any person who breaks any rule relating to reserved forests shall be liable, on conviction before the Raja of Chamba or before a Forest Officer invested with magisterial powers under Article V of the agreement, to fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, or in default of payment, to three months' imprisonment with or without hard labour. Provided always that when the act which is a breach of the rules amounts to a serious offence, such as mischief or theft, if the case is brought before the Raja he may try the case as for such grave offence instead of proceeding under these rules; and if the case is brought before a Forest Officer with powers as aforesaid he may, instead of proceeding as for a breach of the rules, forward the case with a written report to the Raja of Chamba, who may try the case and award such punishment as may be proper.

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD from the GOVERNOR-GENERAL granting the State of Sookeit to RAJA Ooger Sein, dated 24th October 1846.

Whereas by the Treaty concluded between the British and Sikh Governments on the 9th March 1846, the hill country has come into the possession of the Honorable Company; and whereas Raja Ooger Sein, Chief of Sookeit, the highly dignified, evinced his sincere attachment and devotion to the British Government.

the State of Sookiet comprised within the same boundaries as at the commencement of the British occupation, together with full administrative powers within the same, is now granted by the British Government to him and the heirs male of his body by his Ranee, from generation to generation. On failure of such heirs, any other male heir who may be proved to the British Government to be next of kin to the Raja shall obtain the above State, with administrative powers.

Be it known to the Raja that the British Government shall be at liberty to remove any one from the Guddee of Sookiet who may prove to be of worthless character and incapable of properly conducting the administration of his State, and to appoint such other nearest heir of the Raja to succeed him as may be capable of the administration of the State and entitled to succeed. The Raja, or any one as above described who may succeed him, shall abide by the following terms entered in this Sunnud, viz. :—

1st.—The Raja shall pay annually into the treasury of Simla and Subathoo eleven thousand Company's Rupees as nuzzuranah by two instalments; the first instalment on the 1st of June, corresponding with Jeth, and the second instalment on the 1st of November, corresponding with Kartic.

2nd.—He shall not levy tolls and duties on goods imported and exported, but shall consider it incumbent on him to protect bankers and traders within his State.

3rd.—He shall construct roads within his territory not less than 12 feet in width, and keep them in repair.

4th.—On the breaking out of disturbances he shall, together with his troops and hill porters, whenever required, join the British army, and be ready to execute whatever orders may be issued to him by the British authorities and supply provisions according to his means.

5th.—He shall refer to the British Courts whatever dispute may arise between him and any other chief.

6th.—The Raja shall not alienate any portion of the lands of the said territory without the knowledge and consent of the British Government, nor transfer it by way of mortgage.

7th.—He shall so put a stop to the practices of slave-dealing, suttee, female infanticide, and the burning or drowning of lepers, which are opposed to British laws, that no one shall venture in future to revive them.

It behoves the Raja not to encroach beyond the boundaries of his State on the territory of any other Chief, but to abide by the terms of this Sunnud, and adopt such measures as may tend to the welfare of his people, the prosperity of his country, and the improvement of the soil, and ensure the administration of even-handed justice to the aggrieved, the restoration to the people of their just rights, and the security of the roads. He shall not subject his people to extortion, but keep them always contented. The subjects of the State of Sookiet shall regard the Raja and his successors as above described to be the sole proprietor of that territory, and never refuse to pay him the revenue due by them, but remain obedient to him and act up to his just orders.

TRANSLATION of a DRAFT of a PERWANNAH in favour of AHMED BUKSH, KHAN BAHADOOR, dated 4th May 1806.

Adverting to the merit of your services and attachment to the British interests, the Right Honourable General Lord Lake, Commander-in-Chief, conferred on you an istimrauree (permanent) grant of the Mehals of Ferozepore, Jherkeh, and the Tuppahs Saungris, Botahanna, Nujhoor, and Nugeena, including the customs, as well as land revenue of them, excepting such gardens and ayma jaghire, punarthee, and other rent-free lands, as have been long disposed of, and other fixed and established daily allowances, etc., on condition that you require no aid from the British Government, and that you settle the affairs of the mehals with your own troops, and that you be charged with the expense of providing for the maintenance and support of Khanja Hanjee and other dependants of the late Mirza Nusseeroolla Beg Khan, and provided also that you furnish on occasions of exigency, to the aid of the British Government, a party of 50 troopers, and that you always remain steadfast in your attachment and good will to the British Government.

The British Government having become acquainted with your character and disposition, and with the merit of your services and attachment to its interest, from the communications of the Right Honourable the Commander-in-Chief, has now been pleased to reward those services by confirming to you and your heirs in perpetuity, from generation to generation, the whole of the mehals above mentioned, including both land revenue and the sayar duties, with the deductions and under the conditions however above specified, from the beginning of the Fussul Rubbee of 1213 Fuslee Era (answering to September 1805). From that time the British Government will have no concern whatever with those mehals, which will always remain in your possession, and that of your descendants; as those lands require the exercise of arbitrary power, no complaints will be received from the inhabitants of them.

Entertaining a proper sense of gratitude for this distinguished favour, you will continue to manifest attachment to the British Government, and your exertions to promote its interests.

In this consists your own advantage and welfare.

Dated 4th May 1806, answering to 14th of Suffer 1221 Hijree.

SUNNUD granted to ALLA-OD-DEEN AHMED KHAN, CHIEF of LOHAROO,—1874.

On the recommendation of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, I hereby confer upon you and your heirs and successors, in the Chiefship of Loharoo, the title of Nawab, on condition of faithful allegiance to the British Government.

NORTHBROOK.

Dated 3rd August 1874.

PART III.

Treaties, Engagements and Sanads relating to

Delhi.

WHEN the Nawab of Oudh attempted the invasion of Bengal in 1760, he took with him the son of the Emperor Alamgir II, whom his father had invested with the Subadari of Bengal, Bihar and Orissa. Alamgir was murdered in 1759, and intelligence of this reached his son early in 1760. He assumed the title of Shah Alam, and conferred the office of Wazir on the Nawab of Oudh, in whose hands he was virtually a prisoner. The Nawab Wazir's attempted invasion was defeated in January 1761, and Shah Alam went over to the English Camp.

In the same year Ahmad Shah Abdali defeated the Mahrattas at Panipat, proclaimed Shah Alam Emperor, and invited him to come to Delhi to take possession of his throne. After making an offer to the English of the Diwani of Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, Shah Alam marched towards Delhi, but found himself unable to advance further than Allahabad, where he again joined forces with the Nawab Wazir, and accompanied him in his renewed attempt at the invasion of Bengal, which ended in disaster at the battle of Buxar in October 1764. Shah Alam, despairing of regaining his throne through the aid of the Nawab Wazir, again went over to the English.

The subsequent proposal to depose the Nawab of Oudh and put the Emperor in possession of his territories, with the exception of Ghazipur and Benares which the Emperor granted (No. I) to the English, was severely condemned by the Court of Directors as burdensome and profitless. Hence, in 1765, the Nawab was restored to his dominions* including the districts of Ghazipur and Benares. The districts of Allahabad and Kara however were left in possession of the Emperor.

Shah Alam continued to reside at Allahabad, though keenly desirous of establishing himself at Delhi. The Mahrattas were again overrunning upper India in order to re-establish the influence they had lost at

* See Vol. II, Part I—Oudh.

Panipat: and, for the easier accomplishment of their designs, they undertook to replace Shah Alam on the throne. Contrary to the advice of the British, Shah Alam agreed to place himself in their hands. The Emperor was led into Delhi in all pomp on the 25th December 1771, but he was a mere puppet in the hands of the Mahrattas.

In 1773 the Mahrattas extorted from the Emperor a grant of the provinces of Allahabad and Kara, but the Imperial Deputy at Allahabad applied for leave to put them under British protection, as the King had been compelled, while a prisoner, to grant the sanads. The districts were, in the following year, sold to the Wazir of Oudh for fifty lakhs of rupees.

The Emperor remained a State prisoner in the hands of the Mahrattas till 1803, when he was released by Lord Lake and brought under the protection of the British Government. All the territories and resources assigned for his support by the Mahrattas were continued to him, and a pecuniary provision, fixed at Rs. 60,000 but afterwards increased to Rs. 1,00,000 a month, was granted in addition. Shah Alam died on the 19th November 1806, and was succeeded by Akbar Shah, who was succeeded in 1837 by his eldest son, Bahadur Shah. The movements of the King were confined to the neighbourhood of Delhi, and he was not allowed to confer titles, or to issue a currency; but he had the control of civil and criminal justice within the palace.

When the mutiny of 1857 broke out, the mutineers in Delhi applied to the King, Bahadur Shah, to put himself at the head of the movement. At first his conduct was most vacillating, but he subsequently identified himself with the rebel cause. After the fall of Delhi, he was captured and tried on the charges of, 1st, aiding and abetting the mutiny of British troops; 2nd, encouraging and assisting diverse persons in waging war against the British Government; 3rd, assuming the sovereignty of India; 4th, causing and being accessory to the murder of Christians. The ex-King was convicted on all of the charges, and was removed to Rangoon, where he died on the 7th November 1862.

During the mutiny of 1857, when communication between Delhi and Agra and Calcutta was for the most part cut off, the administration of the Delhi and Hissar territories was assumed by the Chief Commissioner of the Punjab, and after the restoration of peace these districts were finally placed under the control of the Punjab Government. As regards the chiefs in this territory, see Punjab, Part II.

No events of outstanding importance occurred in the period from 1857 to 1911, during which the Delhi district remained under the administration of the Punjab.

On the occasion of the Coronation Darbar held at Delhi on the 12th December 1911, Delhi was proclaimed the Capital of India. Subsequently on the 1st October 1912 the new Province of Delhi, consisting of the old Delhi tahsil and the thana of Mahrauli, was constituted and placed under the local administration of a Chief Commissioner directly subordinate to the Government of India. 65 villages from the adjoining district of Meerut in the United Provinces were added to the enclave on the 1st April 1915.

The Government of India took up their permanent residence in Delhi as the winter capital of India on the 23rd December 1912.

On the formation of the new Delhi Province the States of Loharu, Pataudi, Dujana and Kalsia, which were formerly under the political superintendence of the Commissioner of the Delhi Division, were transferred to the political charge of the Commissioner of the Ambala Division (see Punjab, Part II).

No. I.

PROPOSALS made by the KING SHAH AALUM, and enclosed in a letter from MAJOR HECTOR MUNRO to the PRESIDENT and COUNCIL at BENGAL, dated from the Camp at Benares, the 22nd of November 1764.

If this country is to be kept, put me in possession of it, and leave a small detachment of the troops with me, to show that I am protected by the English, and they shall be at my expense; that if any enemy come at any time against me, I will make such connections in the country, that, with my own troops, and the aforementioned small detachment, will defend the country, without any further assistance from the English, and I will pay them, of the revenues of the country, what sum they shall demand yearly. If the English will, contrary to their interest, make peace with the Vizier, I will go to Delhi; for I cannot think of returning again into the hands of a man who has used me so ill. I have no friends I depend on more than the English; their former behaviour to me will make me ever respect and regard them. Now is their time to be in possession of a country abounding with riches and treasure; I shall be satisfied with whatever share they please of it. The Rohillas were always enemies to the imperious Vizier. They are all my friends.

ARTICLES to be executed by the KING, enclosed in a letter from the PRESIDENT and COUNCIL at BENGAL to MAJOR HECTOR MUNRO, Commander-in-Chief of the Army, sent the 6th of December 1764.

In consideration of the assistance and fidelity of the English Company, which has freed us from the inconveniences we laboured under, and strengthened the foundations of the Empire which God has given us, we have been graciously pleased to grant to the English Company our Royal favours according to the following Articles, which shall remain firm both in present and in future.

As the English Company have been put to great expense and their affairs exposed to danger by the war which the Nabob Shujah-ul-Dowlah, unjustly, and contrary to our Royal pleasure, waged against them, we have therefore assigned to them the country of Ghauzepoor and the rest of the zemindarry of Bulwunt Sing, belonging to the Nizamut of the Nabob Shujah-ul-Dowlah: and the regulation, and government thereof, we have given to their disposal in the same manner as it was in the Nabob Shujah-ul-Dowlah's. The aforesaid Rajah having settled terms with the Chiefs of the English Company, is, according thereto, to pay the revenues to the Company; and the amount shall not belong to the books of the Royal revenue, but shall be expunged from them.

The army of the English Company, having joined our standard, shall put us in possession of Illiabad and the rest of the countries belonging to the Nizamut of the Nabob Shujah-ul-Dowlah; and the revenues, excepting those of Rajah Bulwunt's zemindarry, shall be in our entire management and disposal.

As the English Company will be at a further expense in putting us in possession of Illiabad and the rest of the Nizamut of the Nabob Shujah-ul-Dowlah, we will therefore, as we get possession, grant to them out of our treasury, such a proportion of the revenues as the exigencies of our affairs will admit of ; and when we are put in full possession, we will reimburse the whole expenses of the Company in this business from the time of their joining our Royal standard.

FIRMAUND executed by the KING,—1764.

As the English Company have been put to great expense and their affairs exposed to danger by the war which the Nabob Shujah-ul-Dowlah, unjustly, and contrary to our Royal pleasure, waged against them, we have therefore assigned to them the country of Ghauzepoor, and the rest of the zemindarry of Rajah Bulwunt Singh, belonging to the Nizamut of the Nabob Shujah-ul-Dowlah ; and the regulation and government thereof we have given to their disposal, in the same manner as it was in the Nabob Shujah-ul-Dowlah's. The aforesaid Rajah having settled terms with the Chiefs of the English Company is according thereto, to pay the revenues to the Company.

The army of the English Company having joined our standard, shall put us in possession of Illiabad, and the rest of the countries belonging to the Nizamut of the Nabob Shujah-ul-Dowlah ; and the revenues, excepting those of Rajah Bulwunt's zemindarry, shall be in our entire management and disposal.

It becomes the Company to show their grateful sense of our Royal favours and to exert themselves to the utmost in the proper management and regulation of the country ; to encourage and befriend our subjects, to punish the contentious, and expel the rebellious from their territories. They must use their best endeavours to promote the welfare of our people, the ryots, and other inhabitants ; to prohibit the use of things of an intoxicating nature, and such as are forbidden by the Law of God ; in driving out enemies, in deciding causes, and settling matters agreeably to the rules of Mahomed and the Law of the Empire ; so that the inhabitants may apply themselves, with peace of mind and satisfaction, to the cultivation of the country, and the exercise of other their professions, and that the weak may not labour under oppression and violence. They will consider these as our strict injunctions.

Written on the 4th day of Rajeb, the 6th year of the reign, 29th December 1764.
